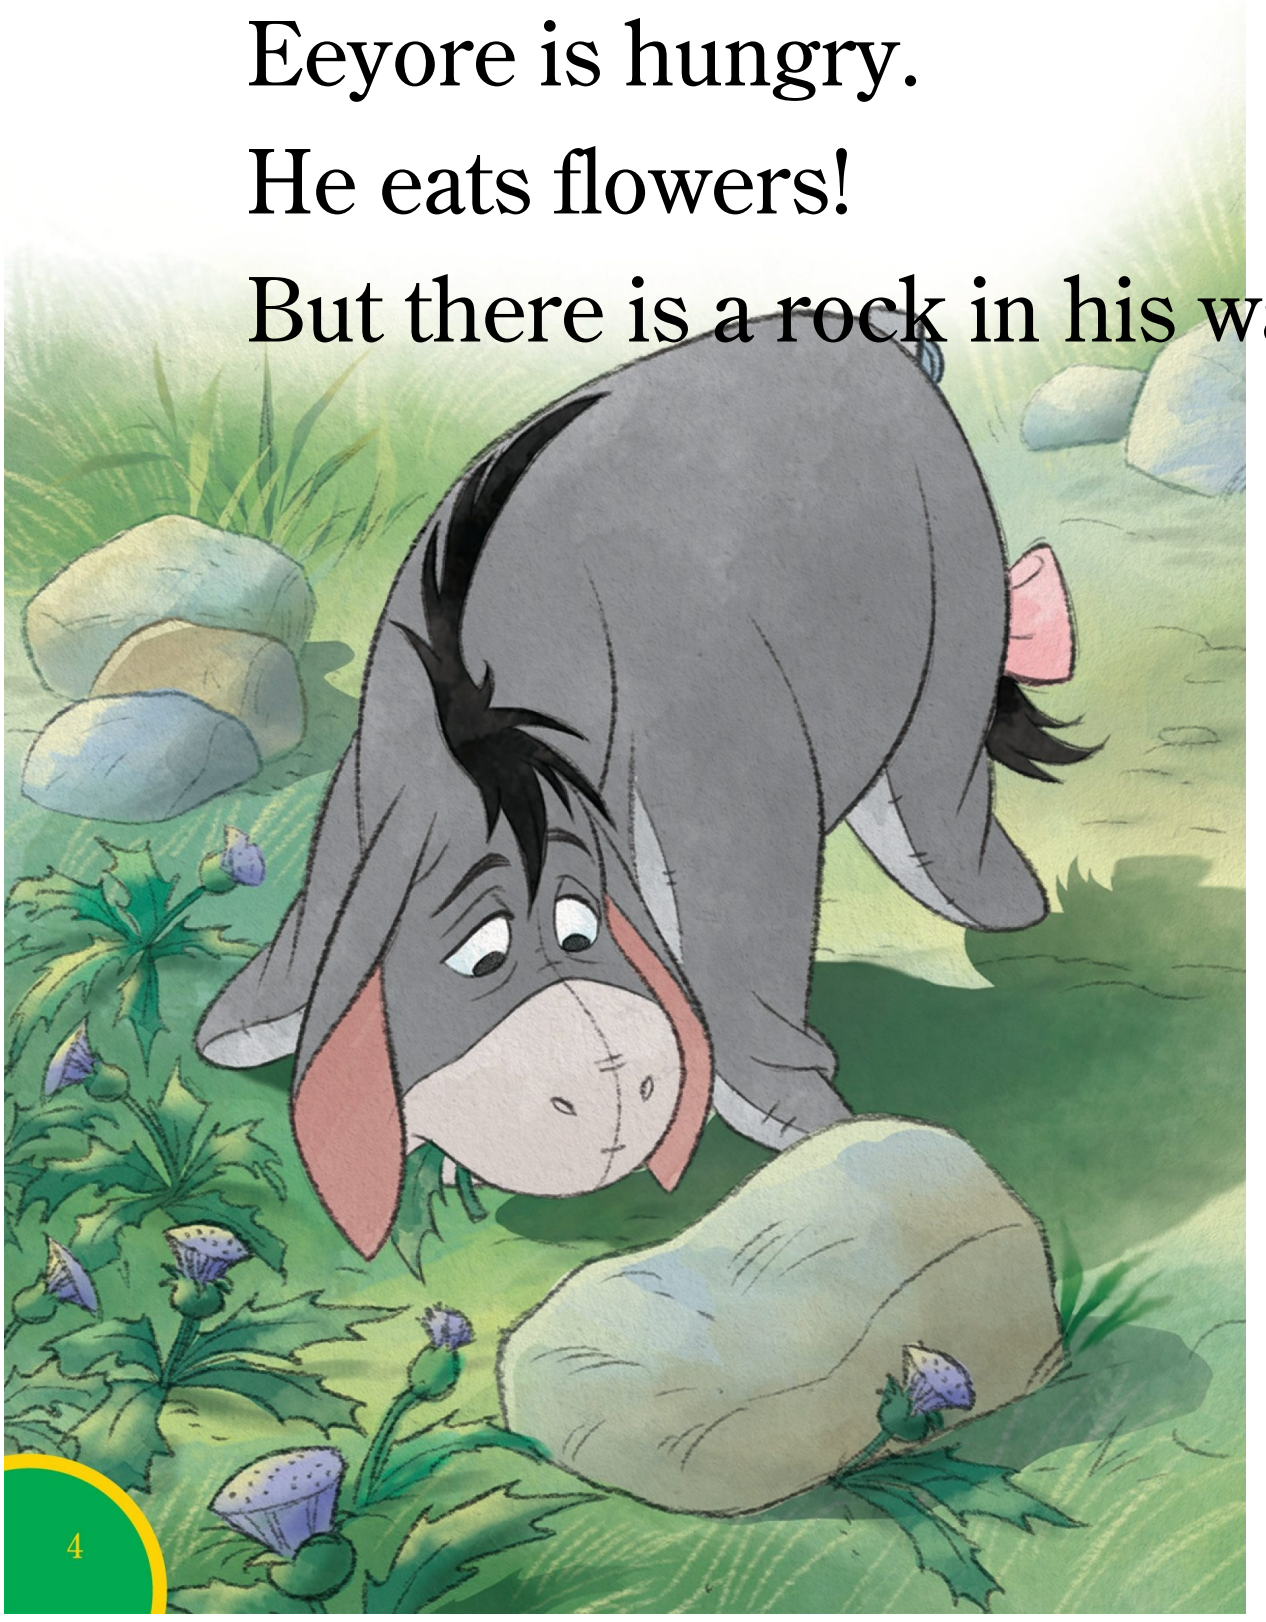
Pooh's Kindness Game

Eeyore is hungry.
He eats flowers!
But there is a rock in his way



Eeyore tries to push the rock
There is a stack of rocks behind him.
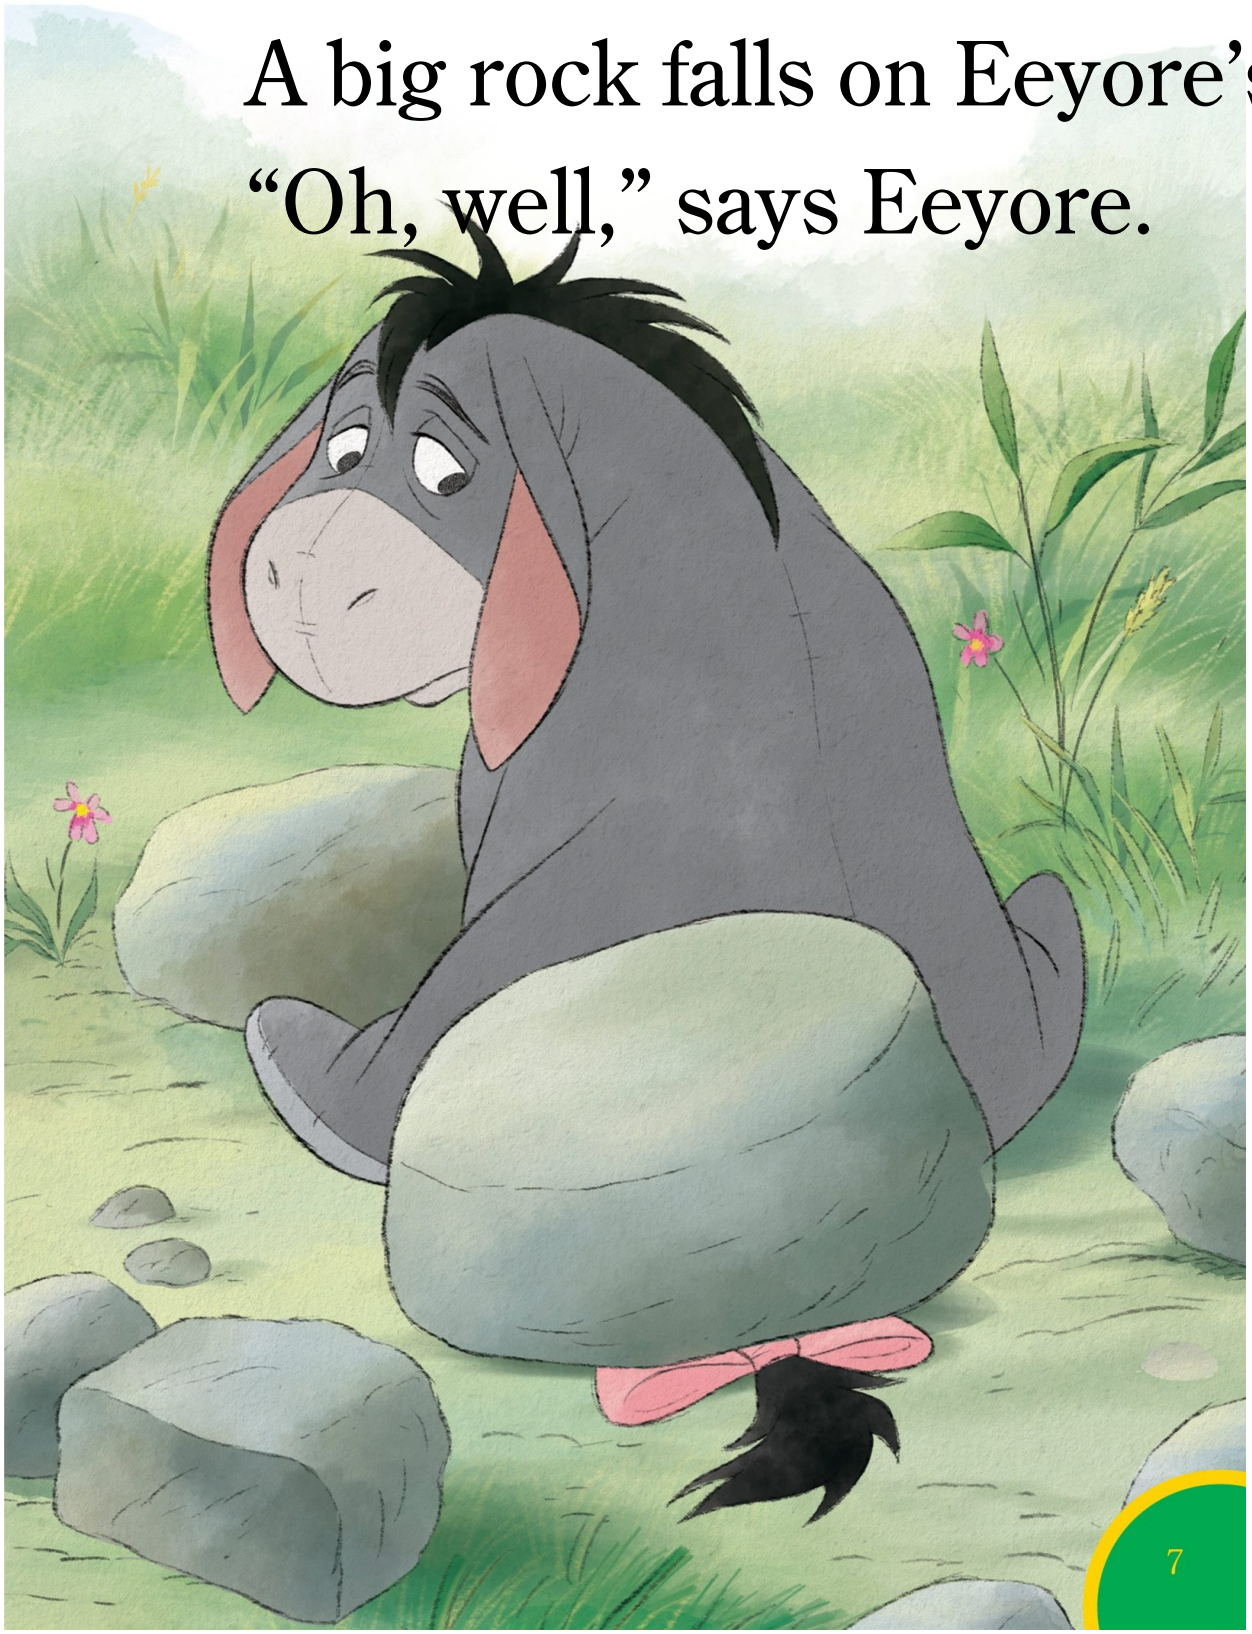
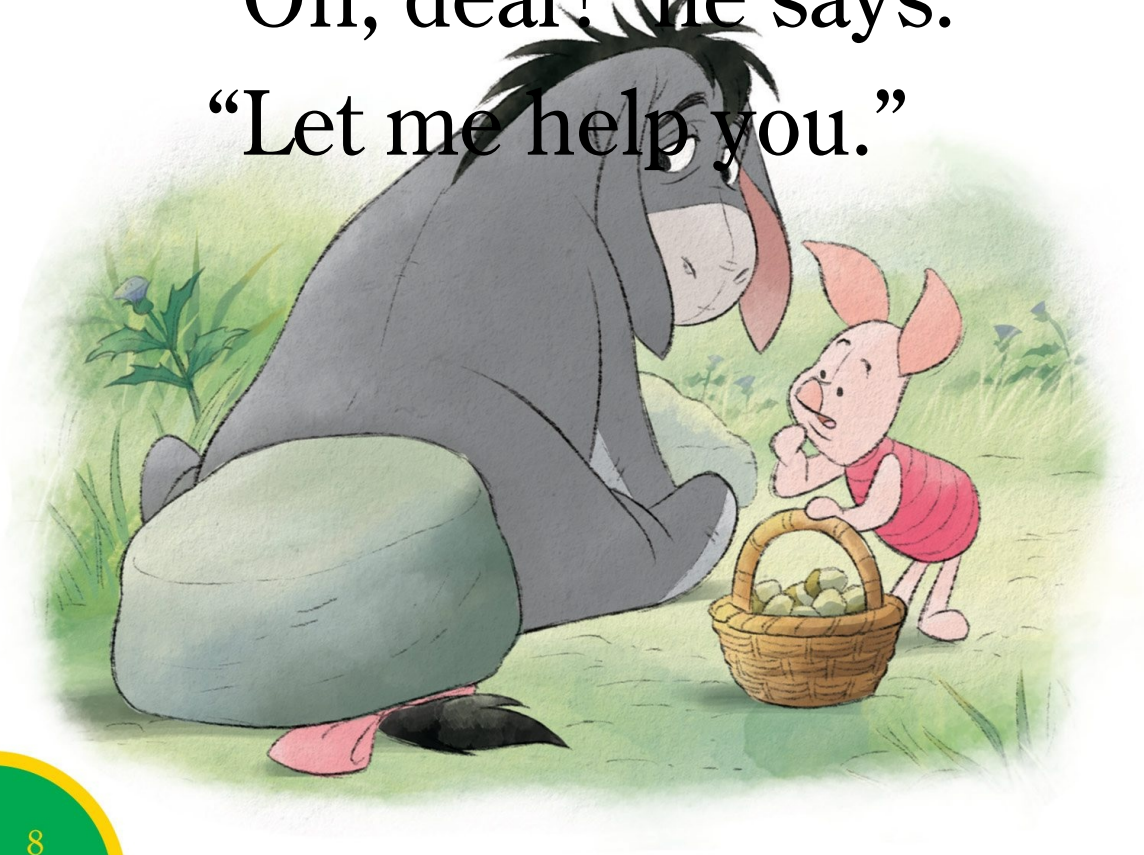
Eeyore does not see the stack
It starts to fall!



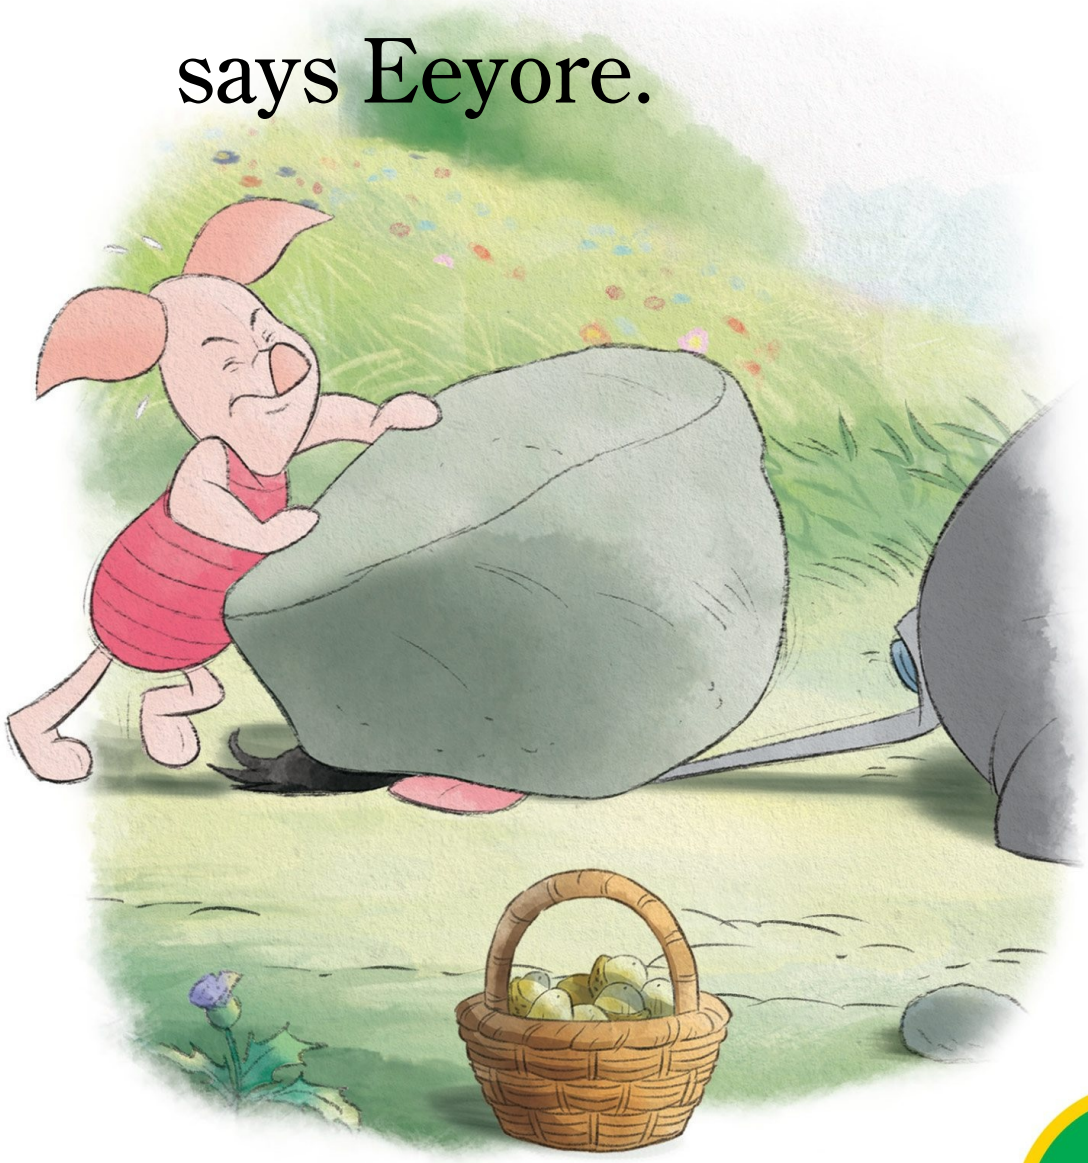
A big rock falls on Eeyore's ta

"Oh, well," says Eeyore.

Piglet walks by.
“Oh, dear!” he says.
“Let me help you.”



Piglet tries to push the rock.
It is too big.
“I think I am stuck,”
says Eeyore.



Piglet goes for help.
He knocks on Winnie the Pooh's door.

RNIG ALSO

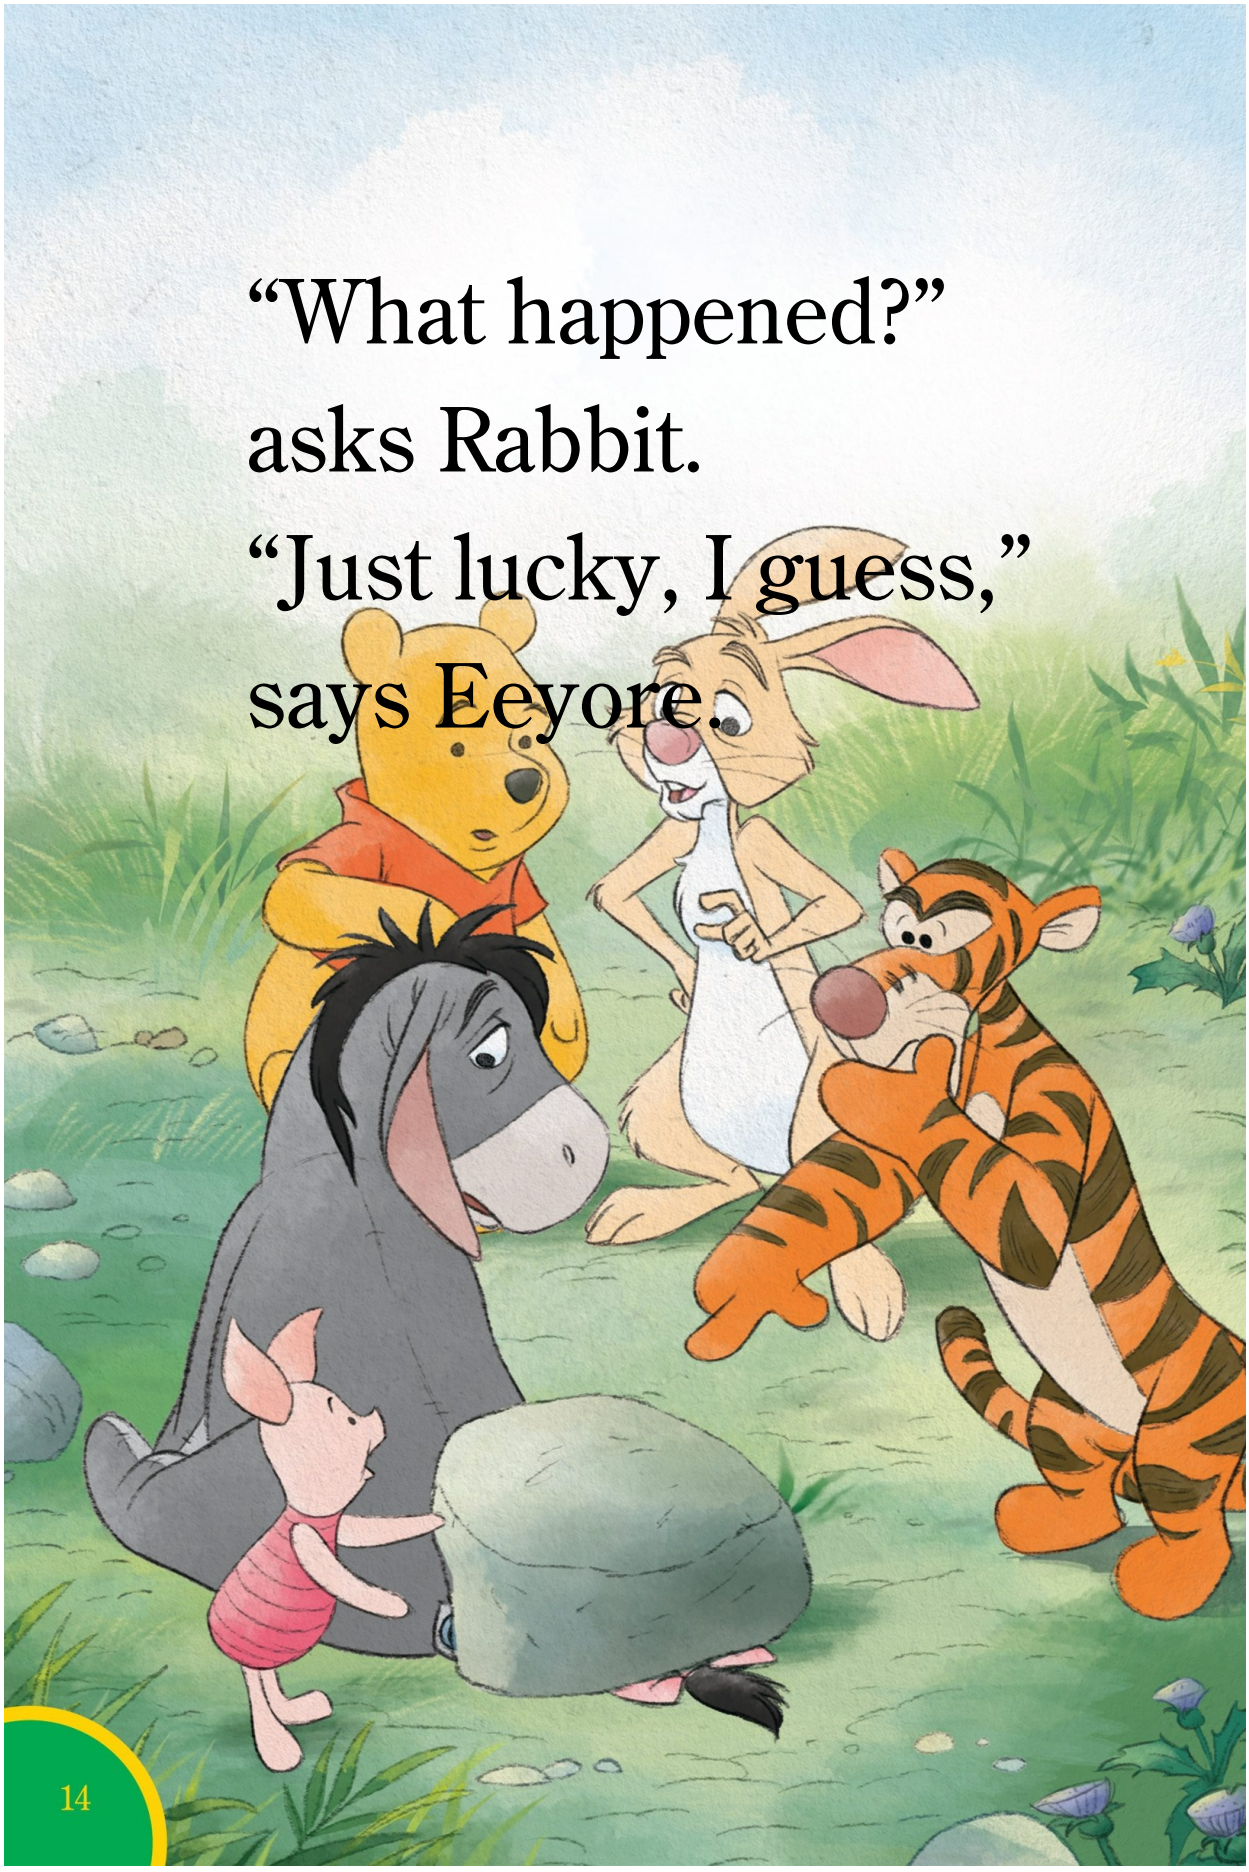
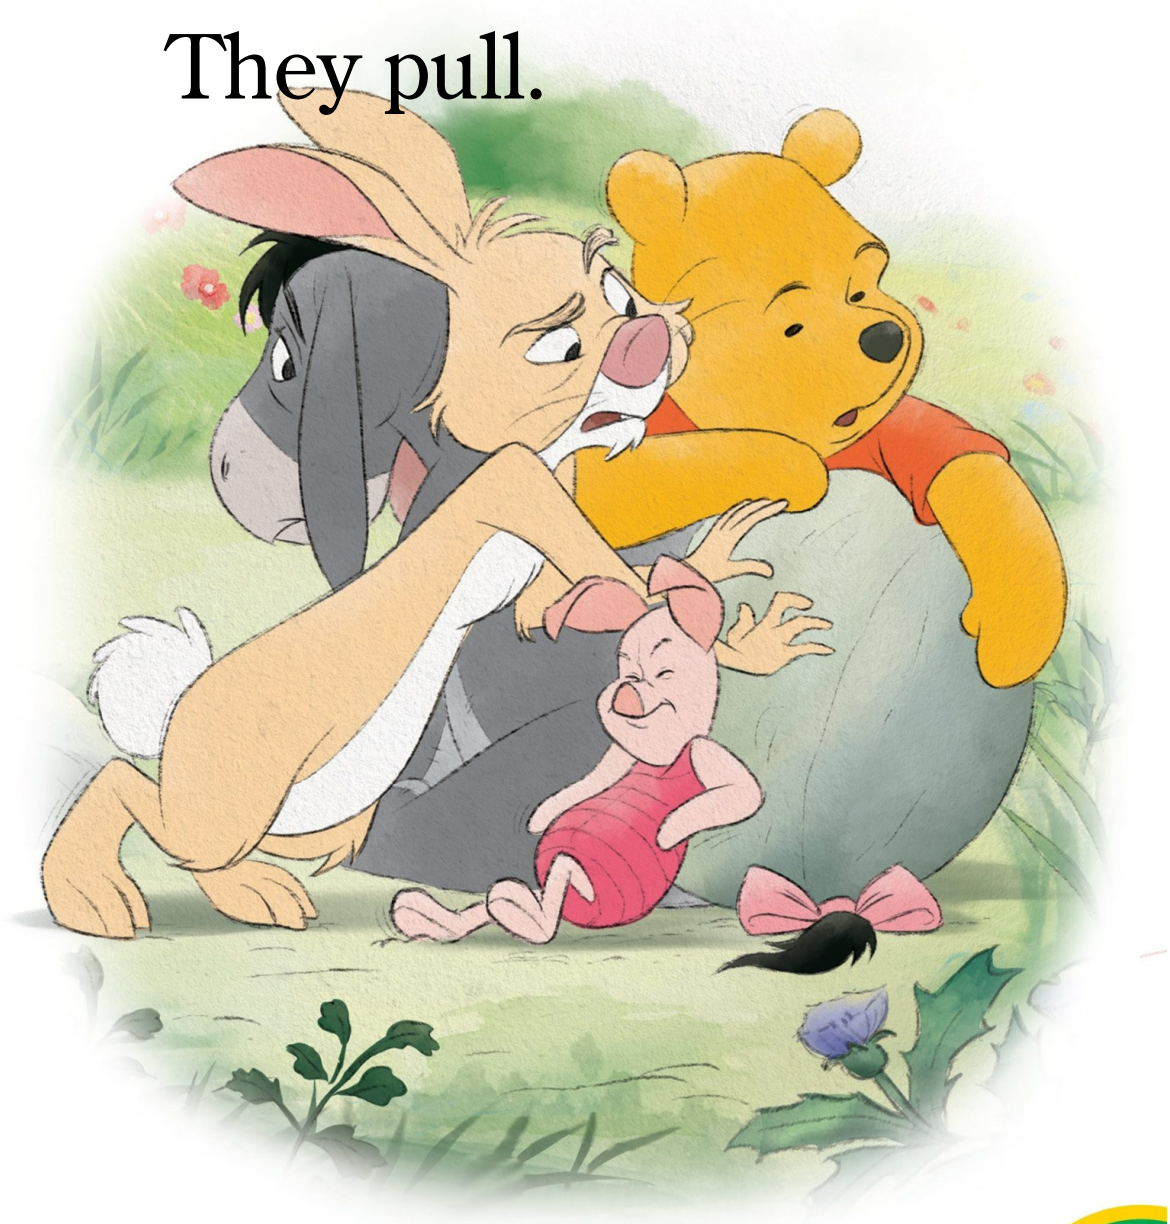
“Hurry!” says Piglet.
“Eeyore needs our help.”

Pooh and Piglet run to help Eeyore.
Rabbit and Tigger come along, too.



“What happened?”
asks Rabbit.
“Just lucky, I guess,”
says Eeyore.

Everyone works together.
They push.
They pull.



Eeyore is free!
Everyone cheers.
“Thanks,” says Eeyore.
“That feels better.”

Just then, Owl flies over.

“Hello there!” he calls.
“I could use some help.”
Everyone follows Owl to his ho

“What is wrong?” Tigger asks
“I cannot find my glasses,” says Owl.

The friends look up and down.
They look over and under.
They do not find the glasses.

“Excuse me,” Pooh says to O
“But are your glasses on your head?”

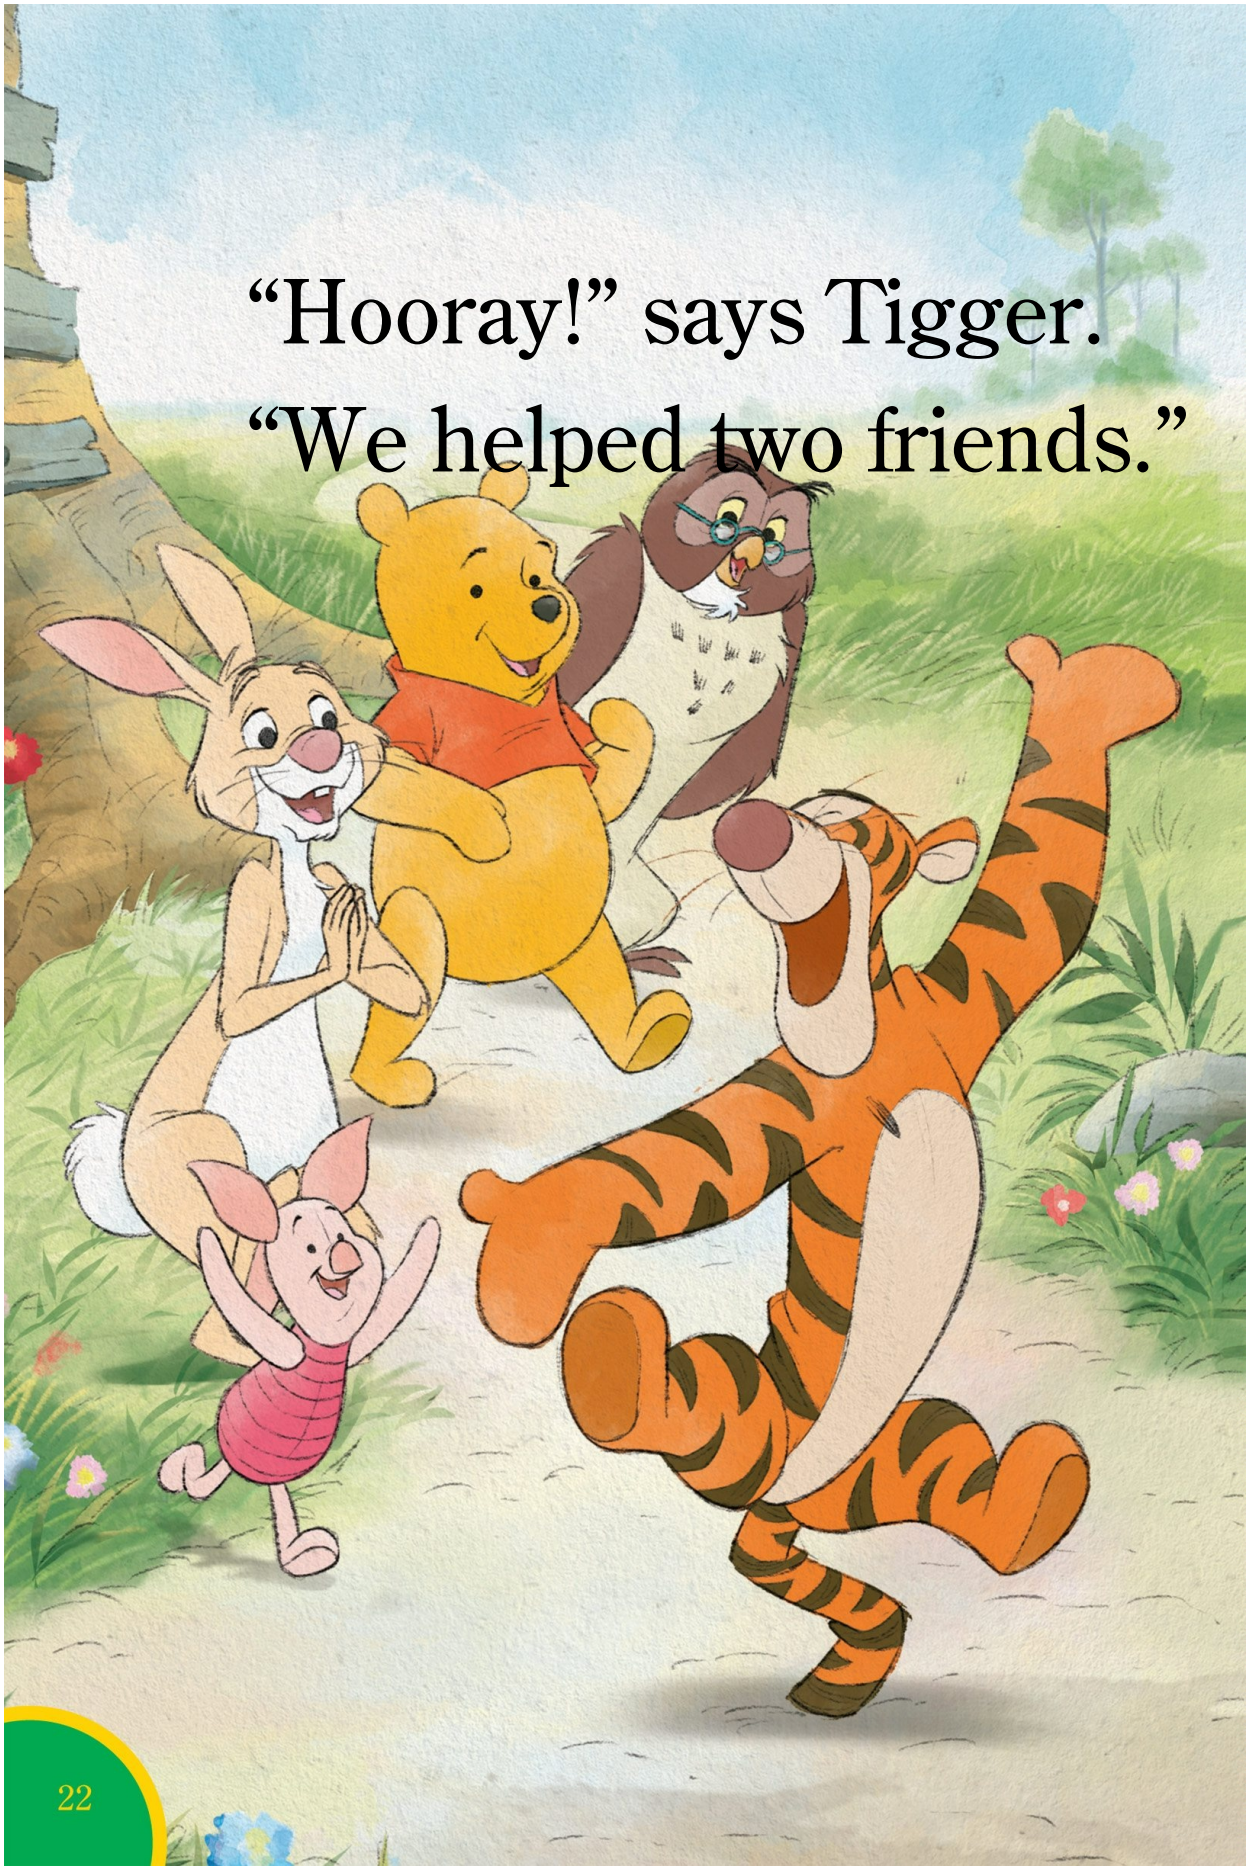
Owl feels silly.
“Oh!” he says.
“How kind of you, Pooh.”



“Hooray!” says Tigger.
“We helped two friends.”

“Helping makes me hungry,”

says Pooh.
Pooh and Piglet start to walk home.

They walk by Kanga and Roo's house.

“Can you help me?” Roo asks
“I think my swing is broken.”

“I may be a bear of very little brain,”

says Pooh.
“But I think you just need a push.”

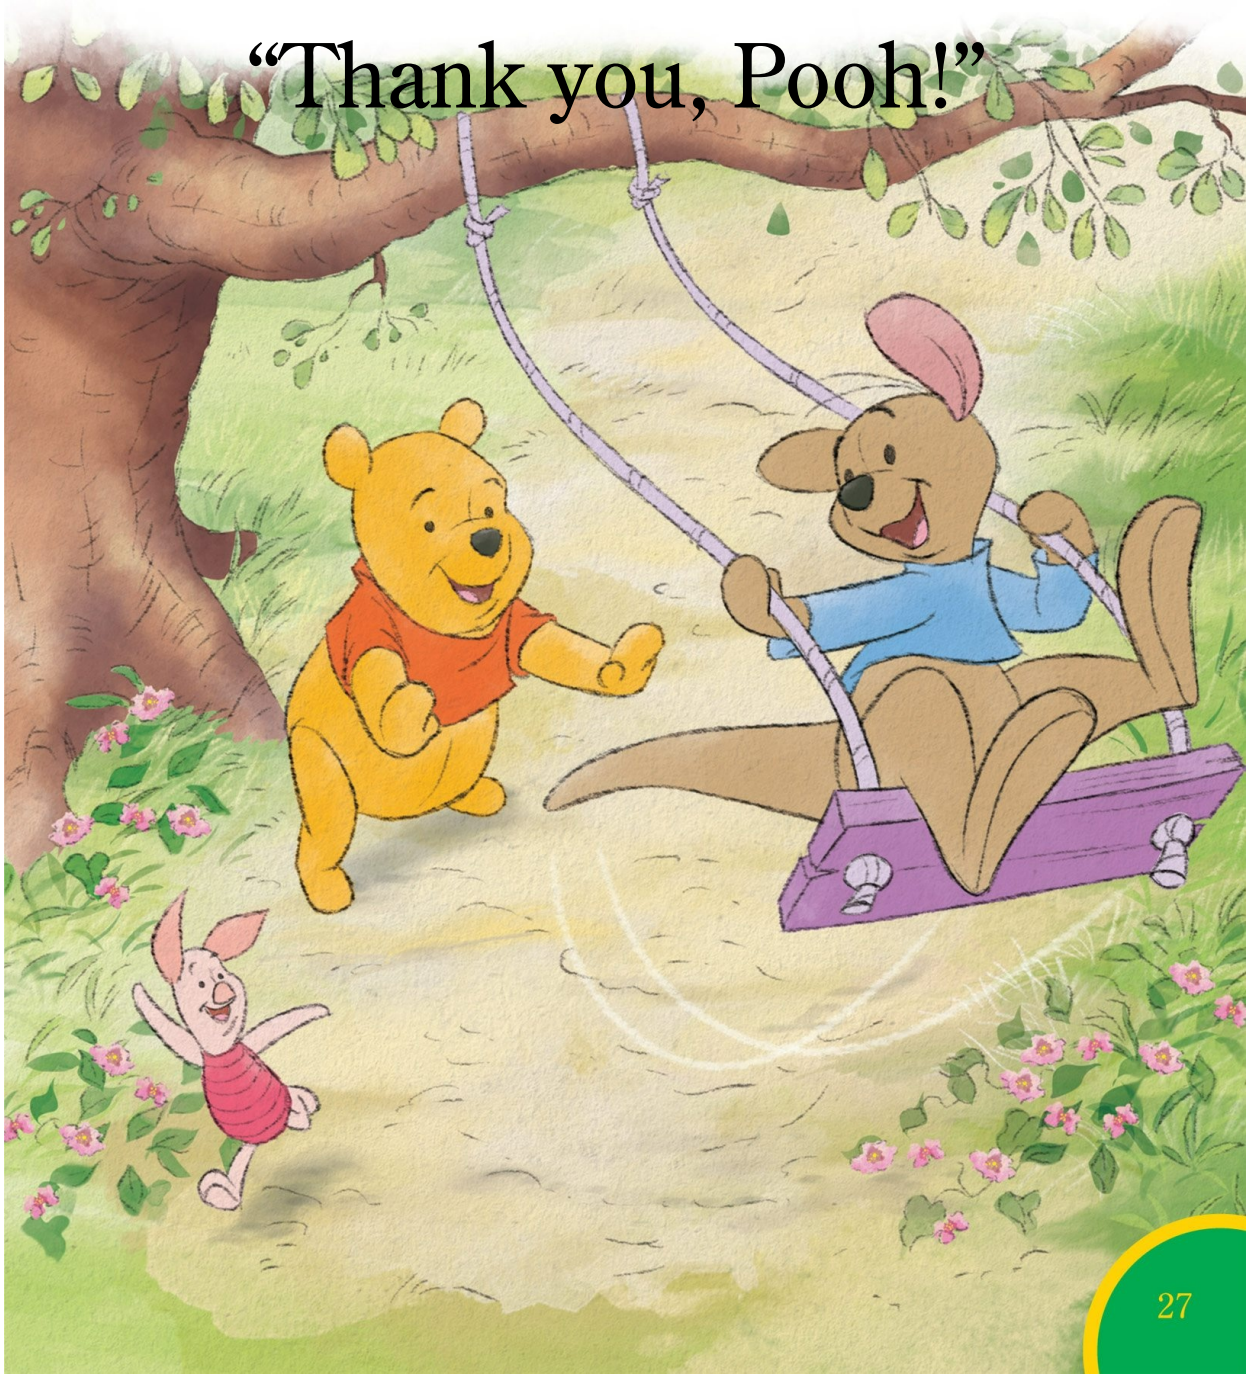
“I can almost touch the sky!”
says Roo.
“Thank you, Pooh!”



Pooh and Piglet wave goodbye

Then they go home for a snack

More friends come over for te

They talk about their day.
Everyone liked helping each other.

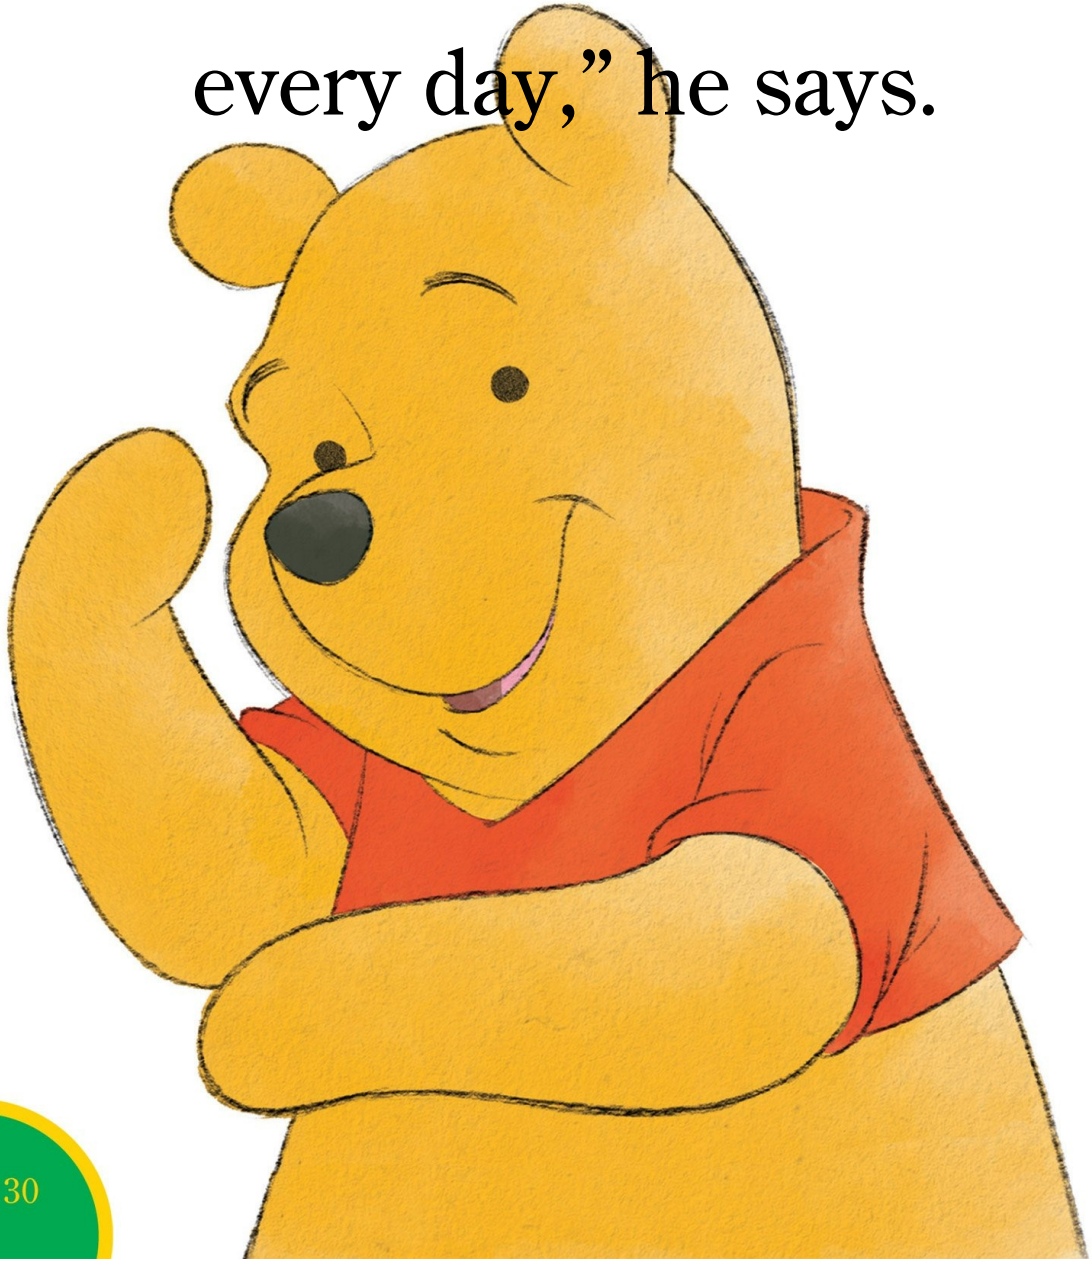
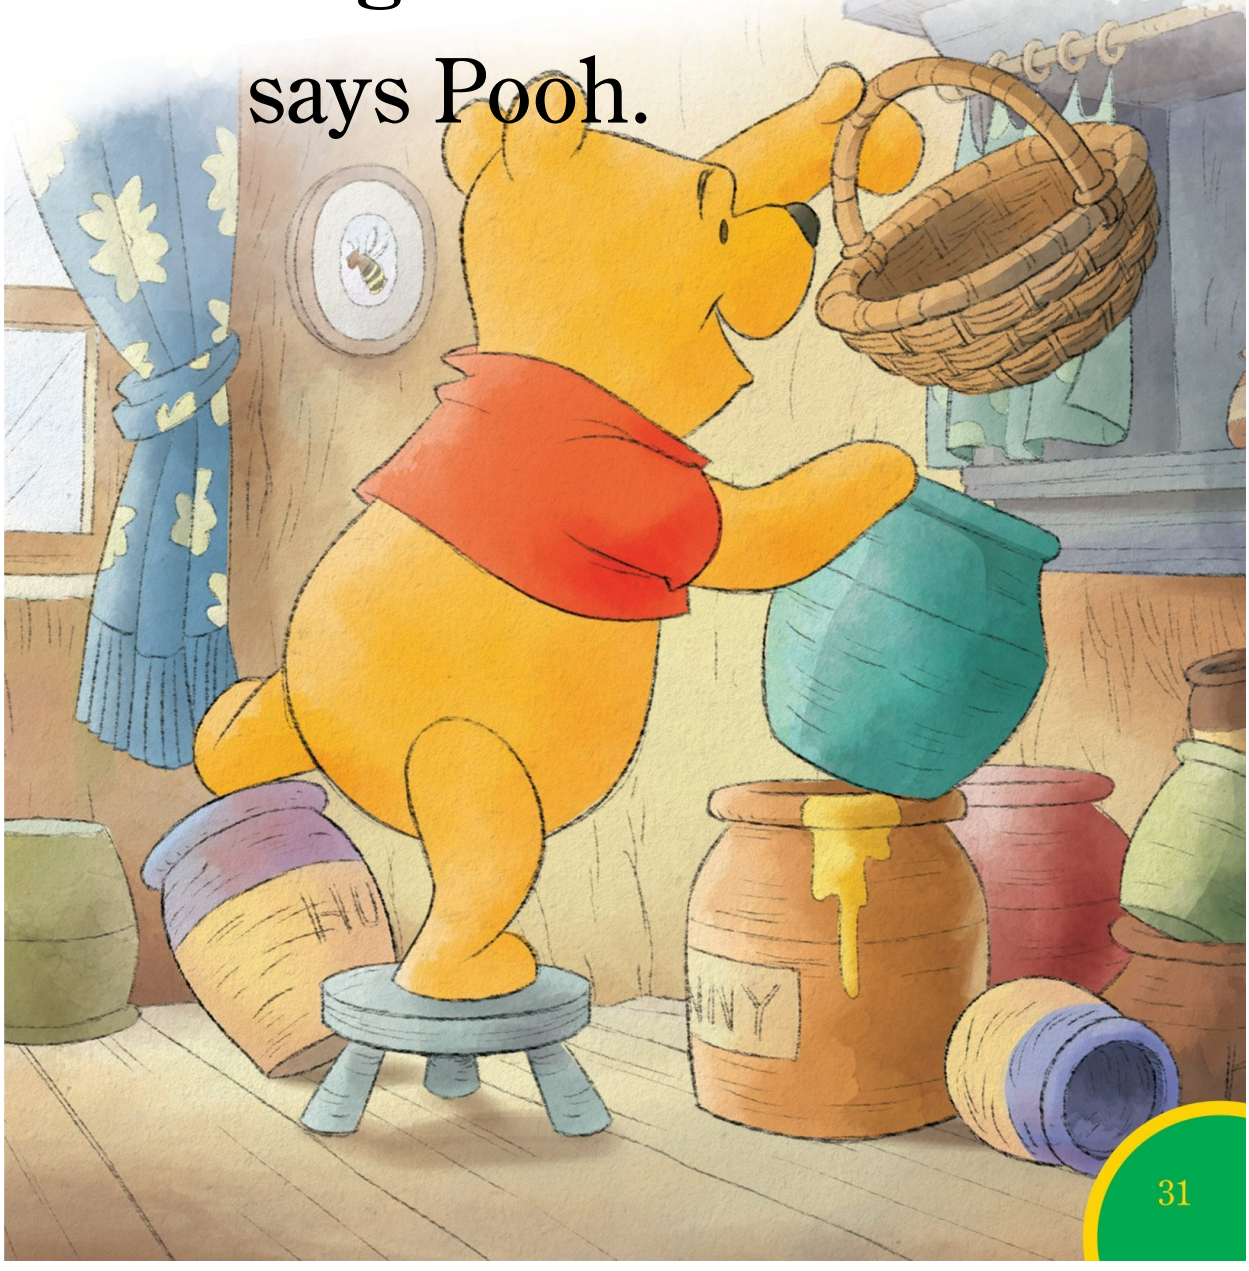
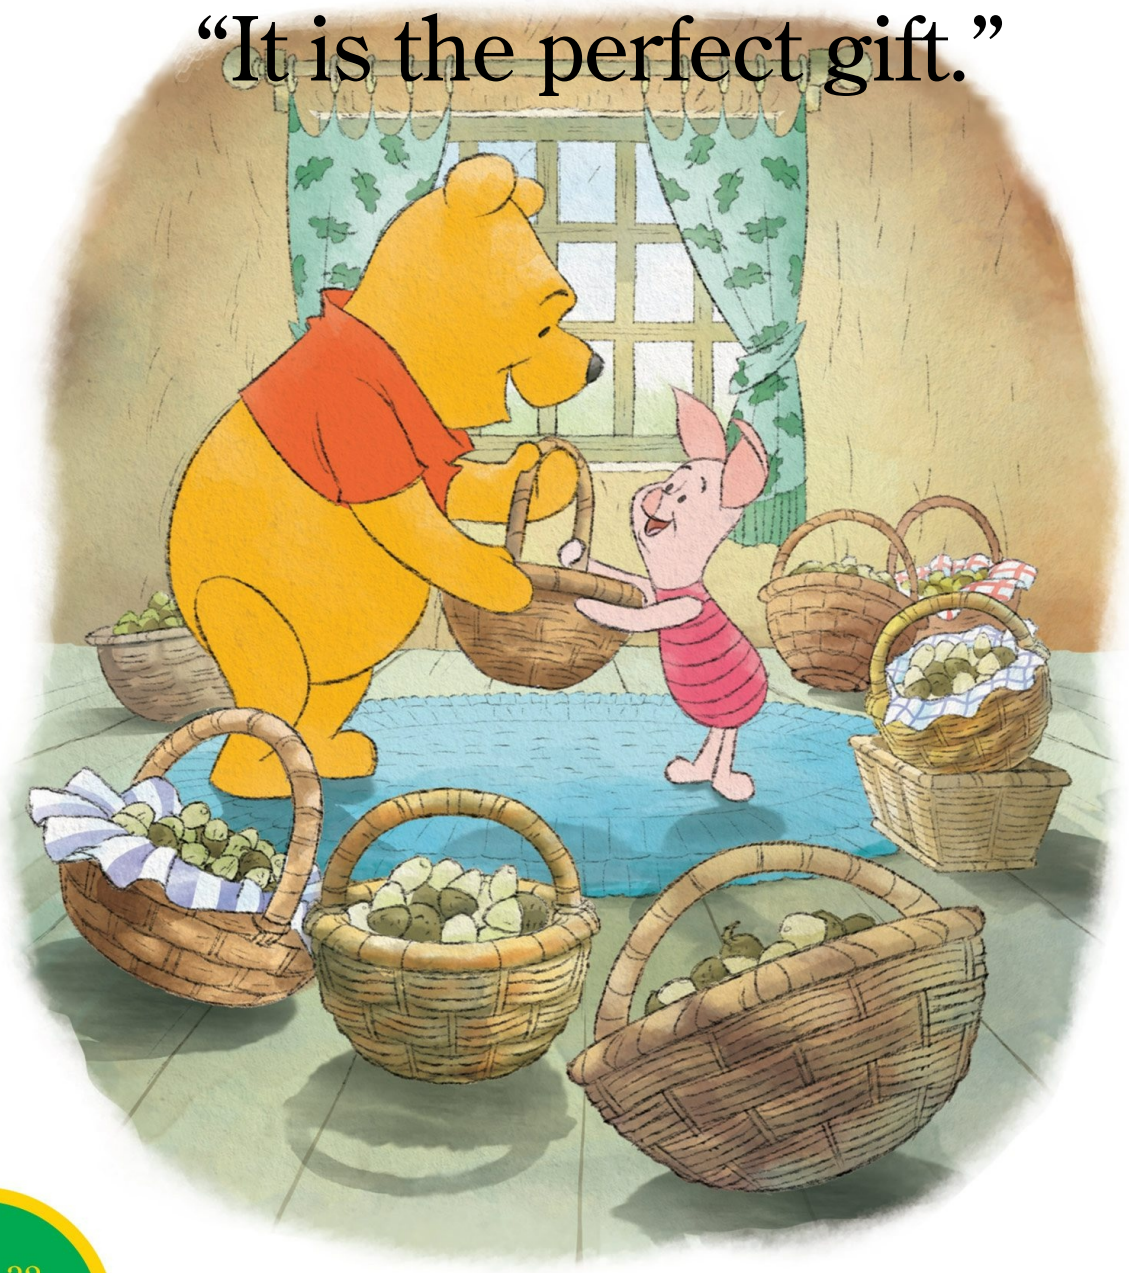
Pooh has an idea.
He calls it the Kindness Game.
“We can do one kind thing
every day,” he says.



The next day, Pooh starts to play the Kindness Game. "Piglet will like this basket," says Pooh.



Pooh gives Piglet the basket.
“Thank you, Pooh!” says Pigl
“It is the perfect gift.”



The next day, it is Rabbit's tu
to play the Kindness Game.
He brings Pooh honey.

The next day, it is Tigger's tu
to play the Kindness Game.
He helps Rabbit in the garde

“Who knew hard work was so much fun?”
says Tigger.

The next day, it is Piglet's tur
to play the Kindness Game.
He makes muffins for Kanga and Roo.

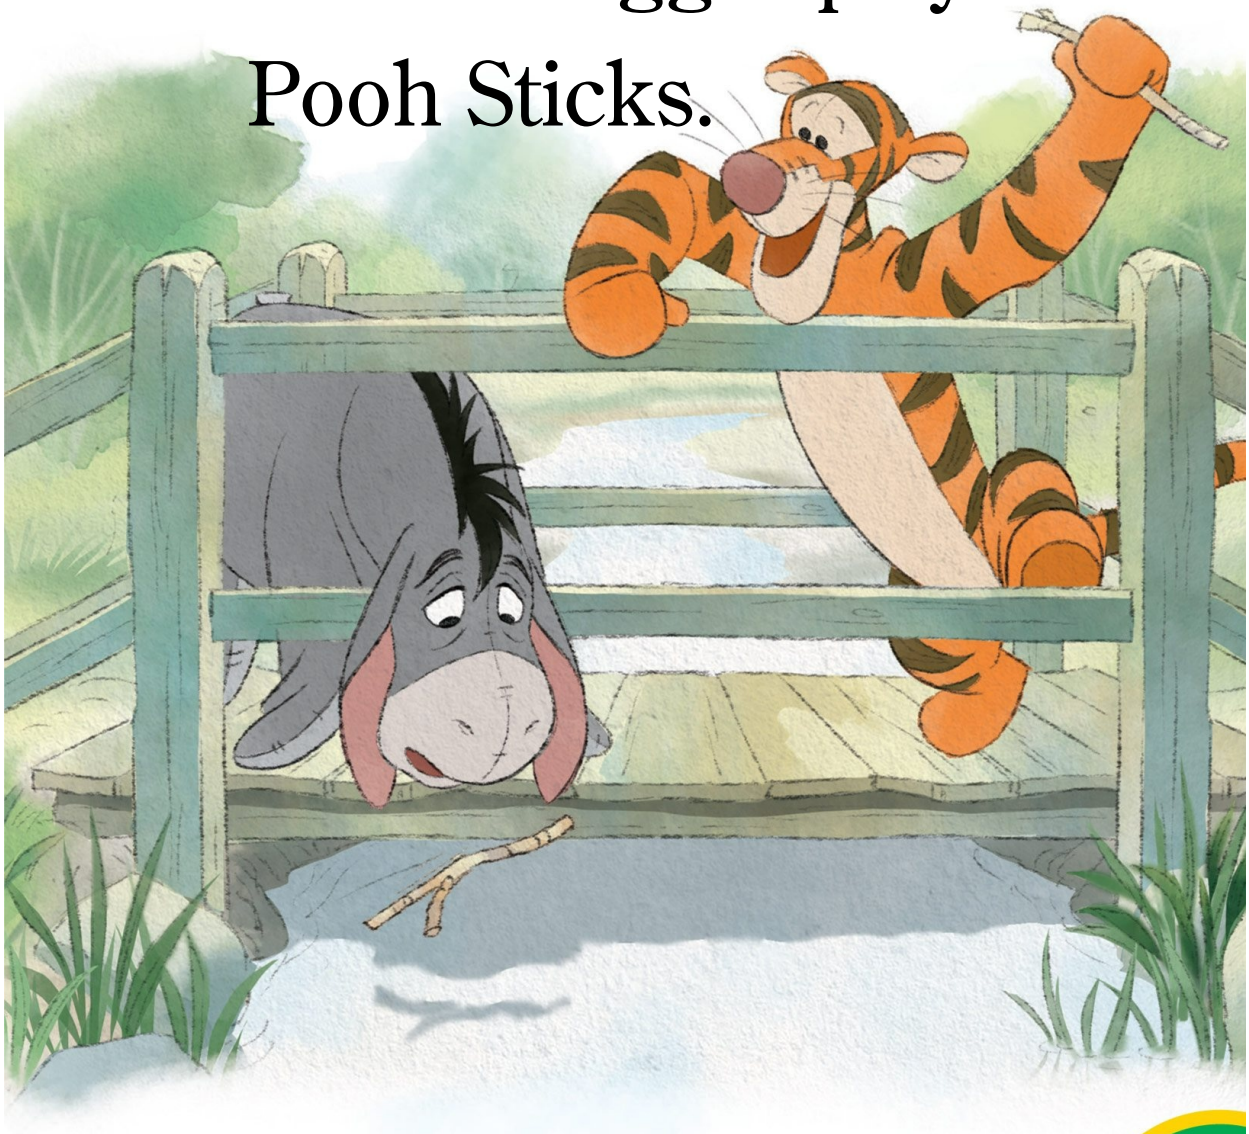
The next day, it is Eeyore's tu
to play the Kindness Game.
He and Tigger play
Pooh Sticks.



The next day, the friends meet at Pooh's house.

MR SANDER

Everyone feels very happy.
Even Eeyore is smiling!

“It must be the Kindness Game!”
says Pooh.

MR SANDER

Kindness is good for everyon and good for you, too!

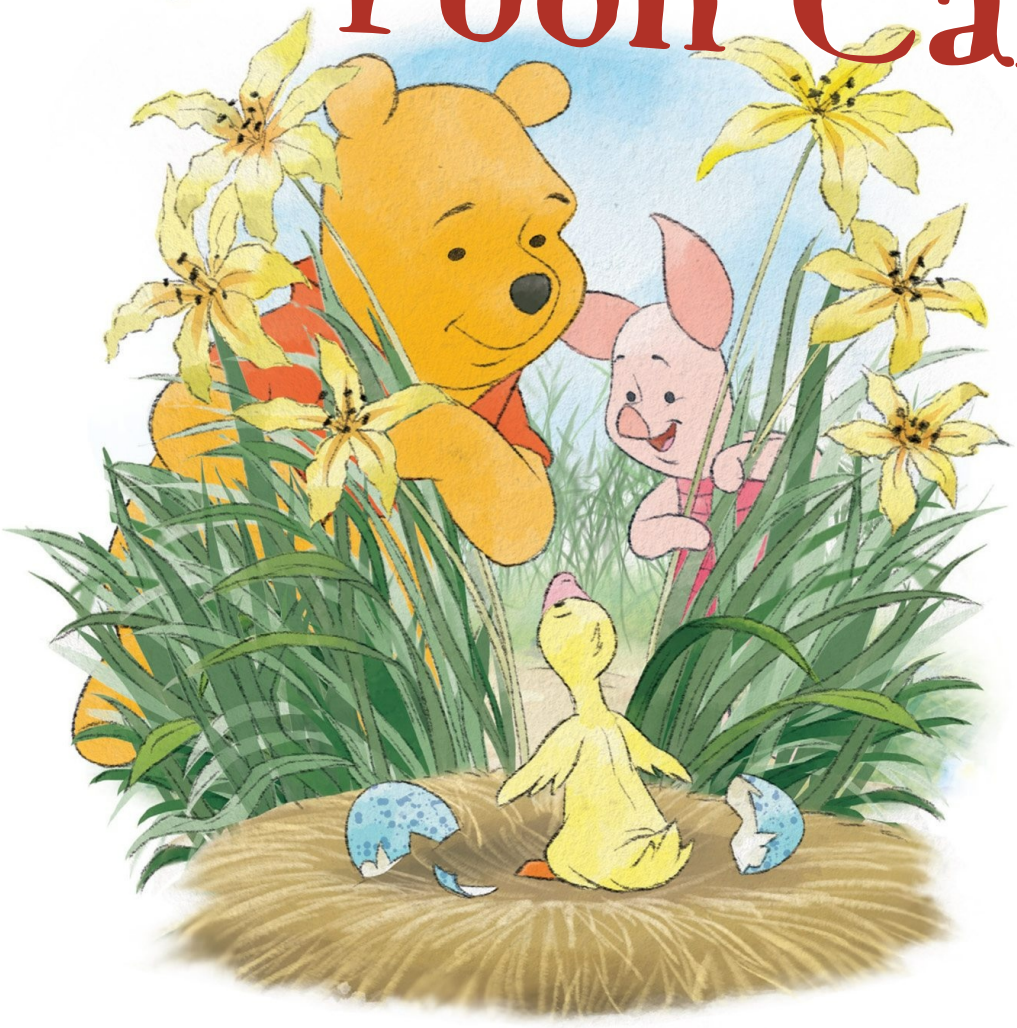
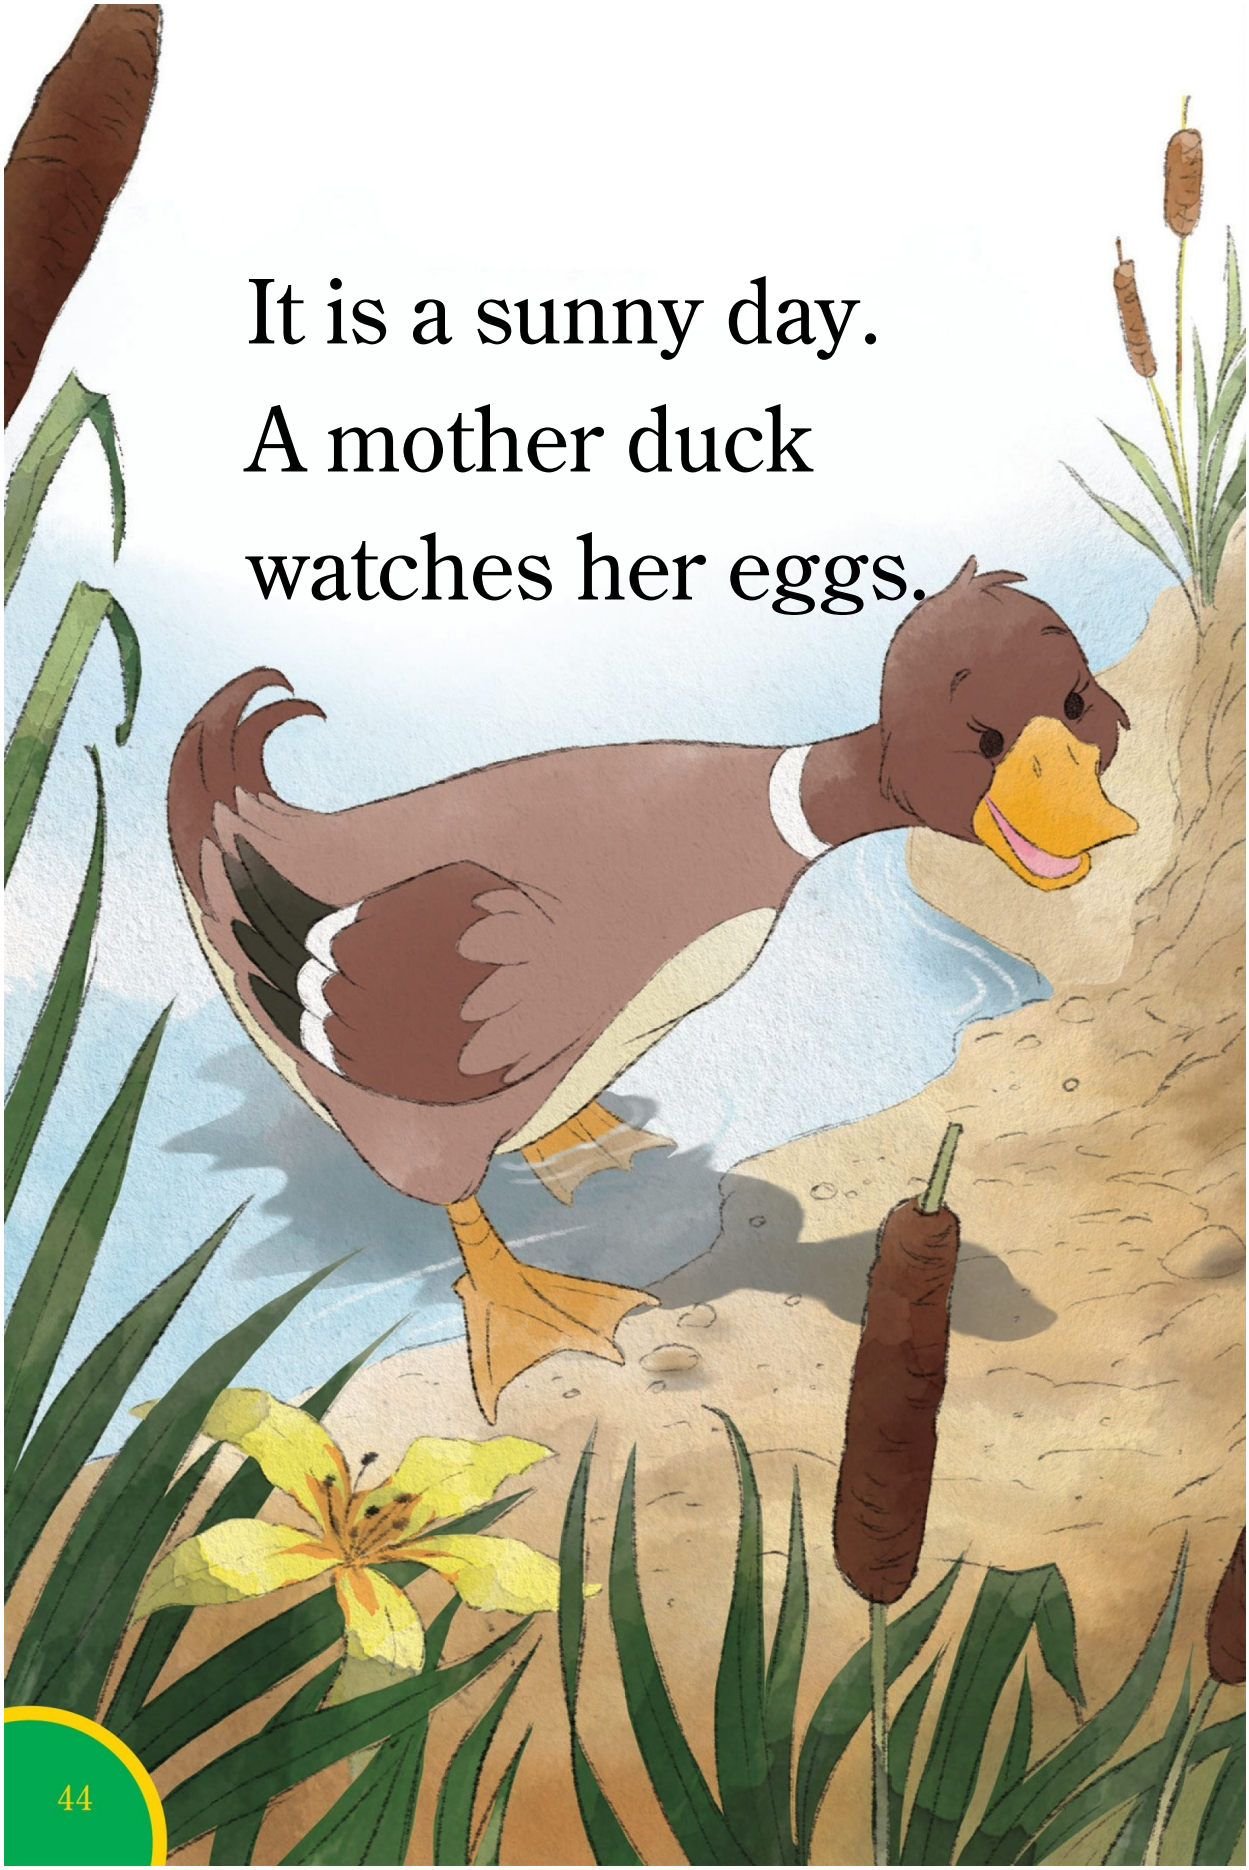
Hooray for Winnie the Pooh and the Kindness Game!

Who Cares? Pooh Cares





It is a sunny day.
A mother duck watches her eggs.

CRACK! CRACK! CRACK!

The eggs break open.

The mother now has three babies!

“Quack, quack!” they say.
They go for a swim.

CRACK!

One more egg breaks open.

The last baby is all alone.

TRESPASSERS WILL

Winnie the Pooh is out on a walk.
He asks Piglet to come along.

They walk by the pond.

“Quack, quack!”

“What is that?” Piglet asks.

Pooh and Piglet find the baby duck.

“Where is her mother?”
Pooh asks.

Pooh and Piglet look around.
They do not see the mother duck.

“We cannot leave her alone,”

says Piglet.
“Follow us, little one!”
says Pooh.

“That is the perfect name,”
says Piglet.
“We can call her Little.”

“What do ducks like to eat?”
Pooh asks.

“I do not know,” says Piglet.
“But Rabbit has a lot of good things to eat.”

The next day, they go to Rabbit's house.
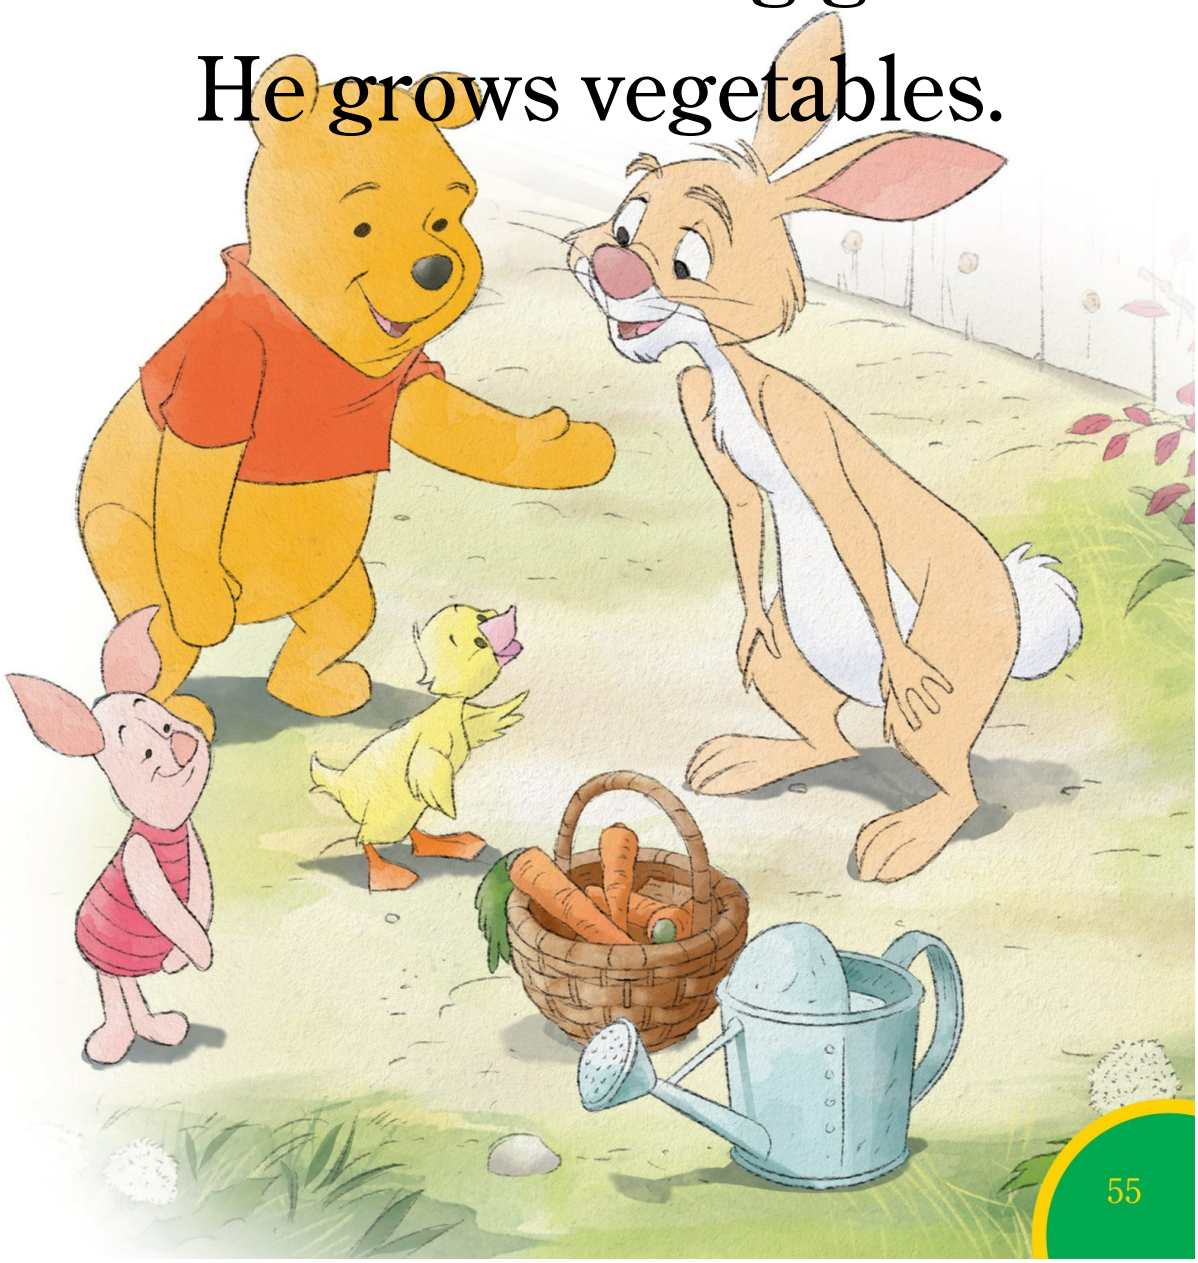
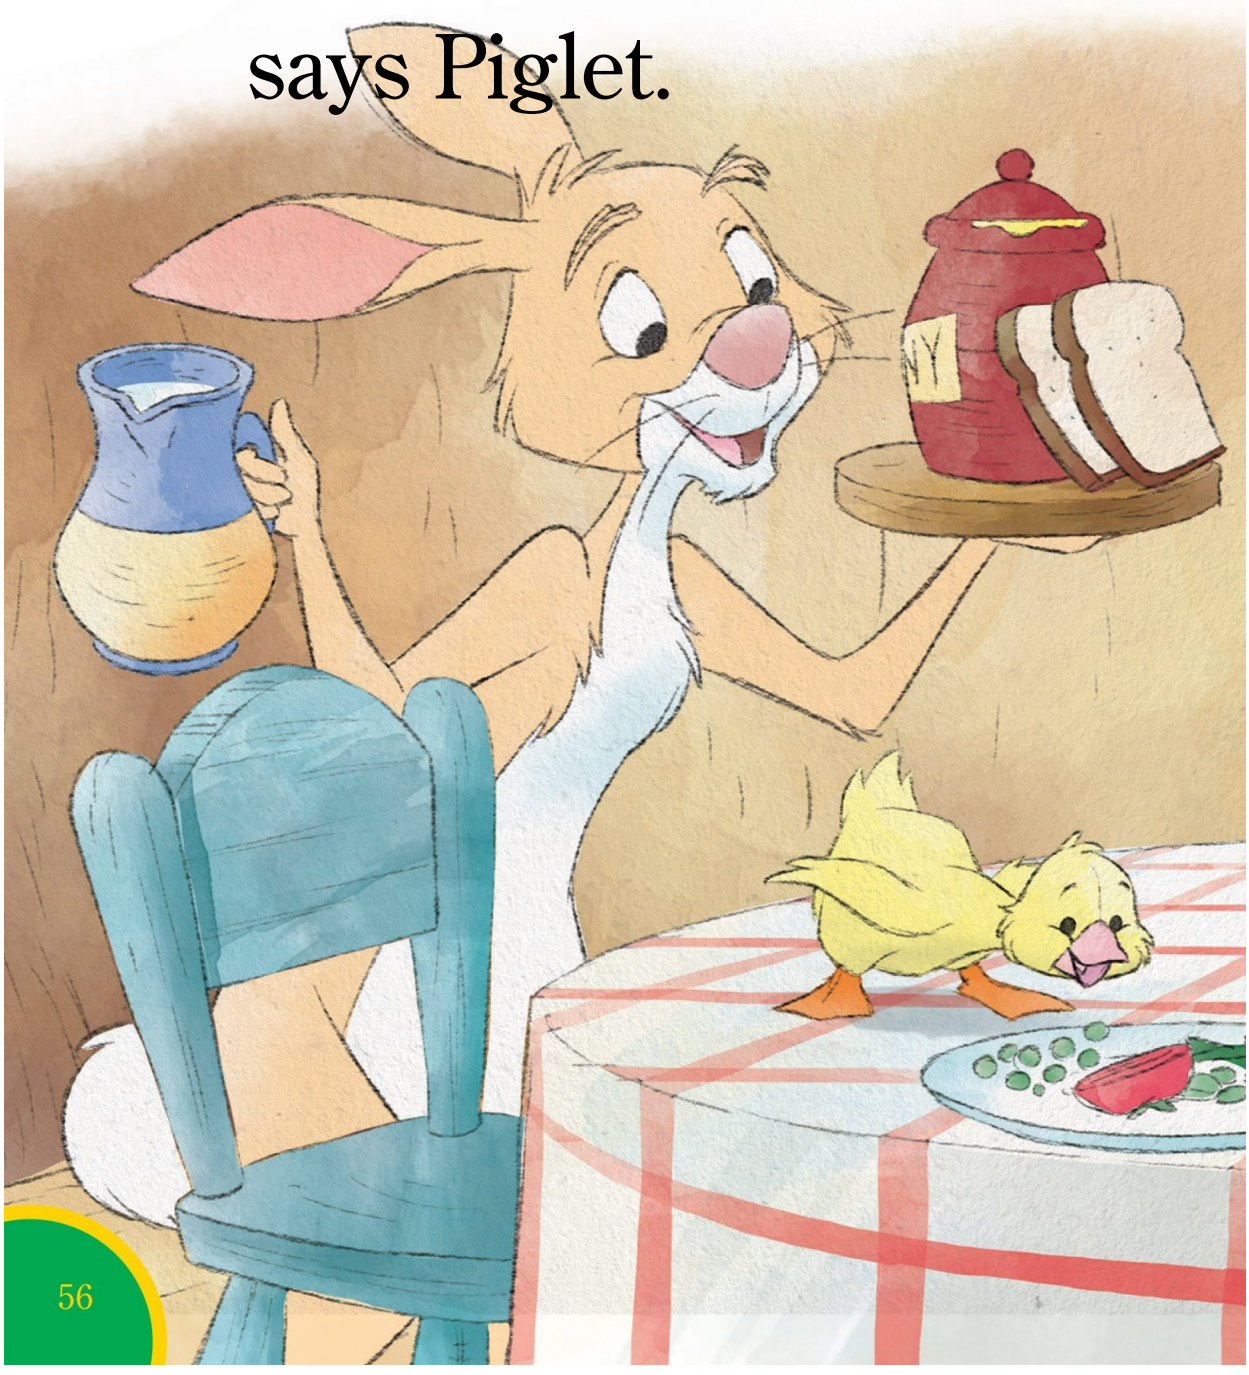
Rabbit has a big garden.
He grows vegetables.



Little likes the vegetables.
"Thank you, Rabbit,"
says Piglet.



“Now we must be going.
We need to find
Little’s mother,” says Pooh.

They walk by Kanga and Roo
“This is Little,” says Pooh.
“We are looking for her mother.”

“Little is even littler than I am,”
says Roo.
“Come play with me, Little!”

Roo is happy to have a new friend.
He teaches her his favorite games.

Roo and Little find a mud puddle.
They make mud pies.

Then they need a bath!
Little likes the bubbles.

Little's feathers are wet and fuzzy.
Owl shows her how to dry them.

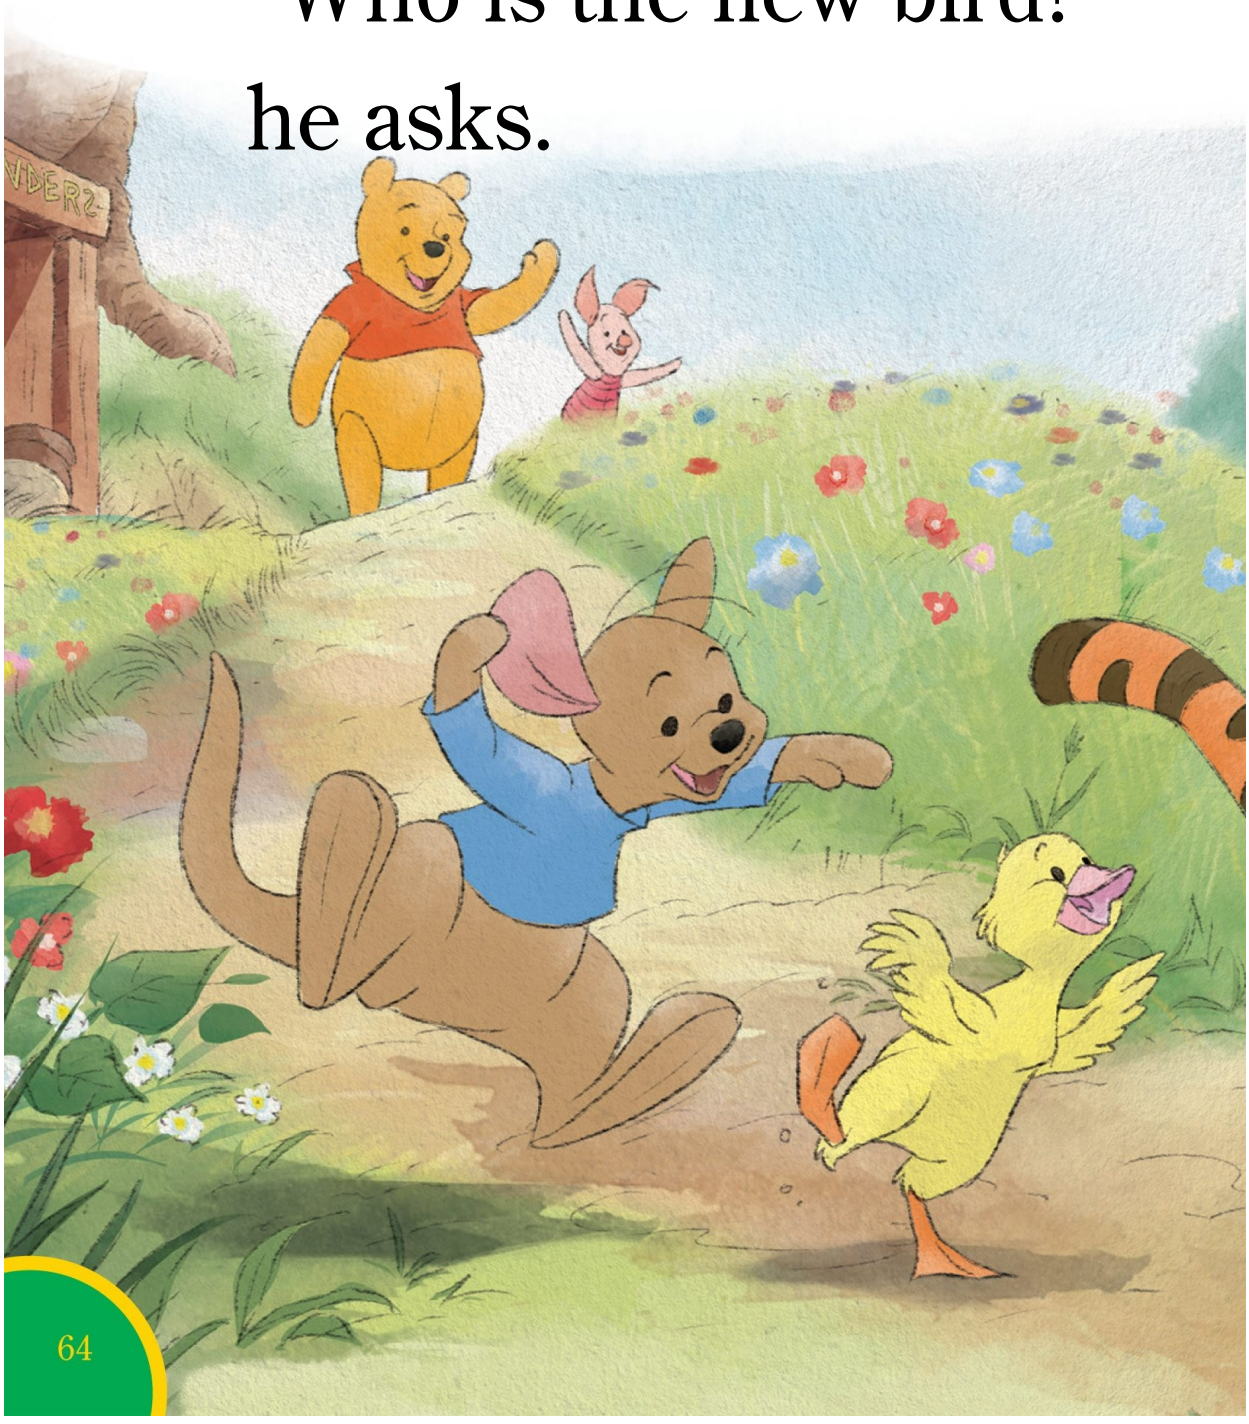
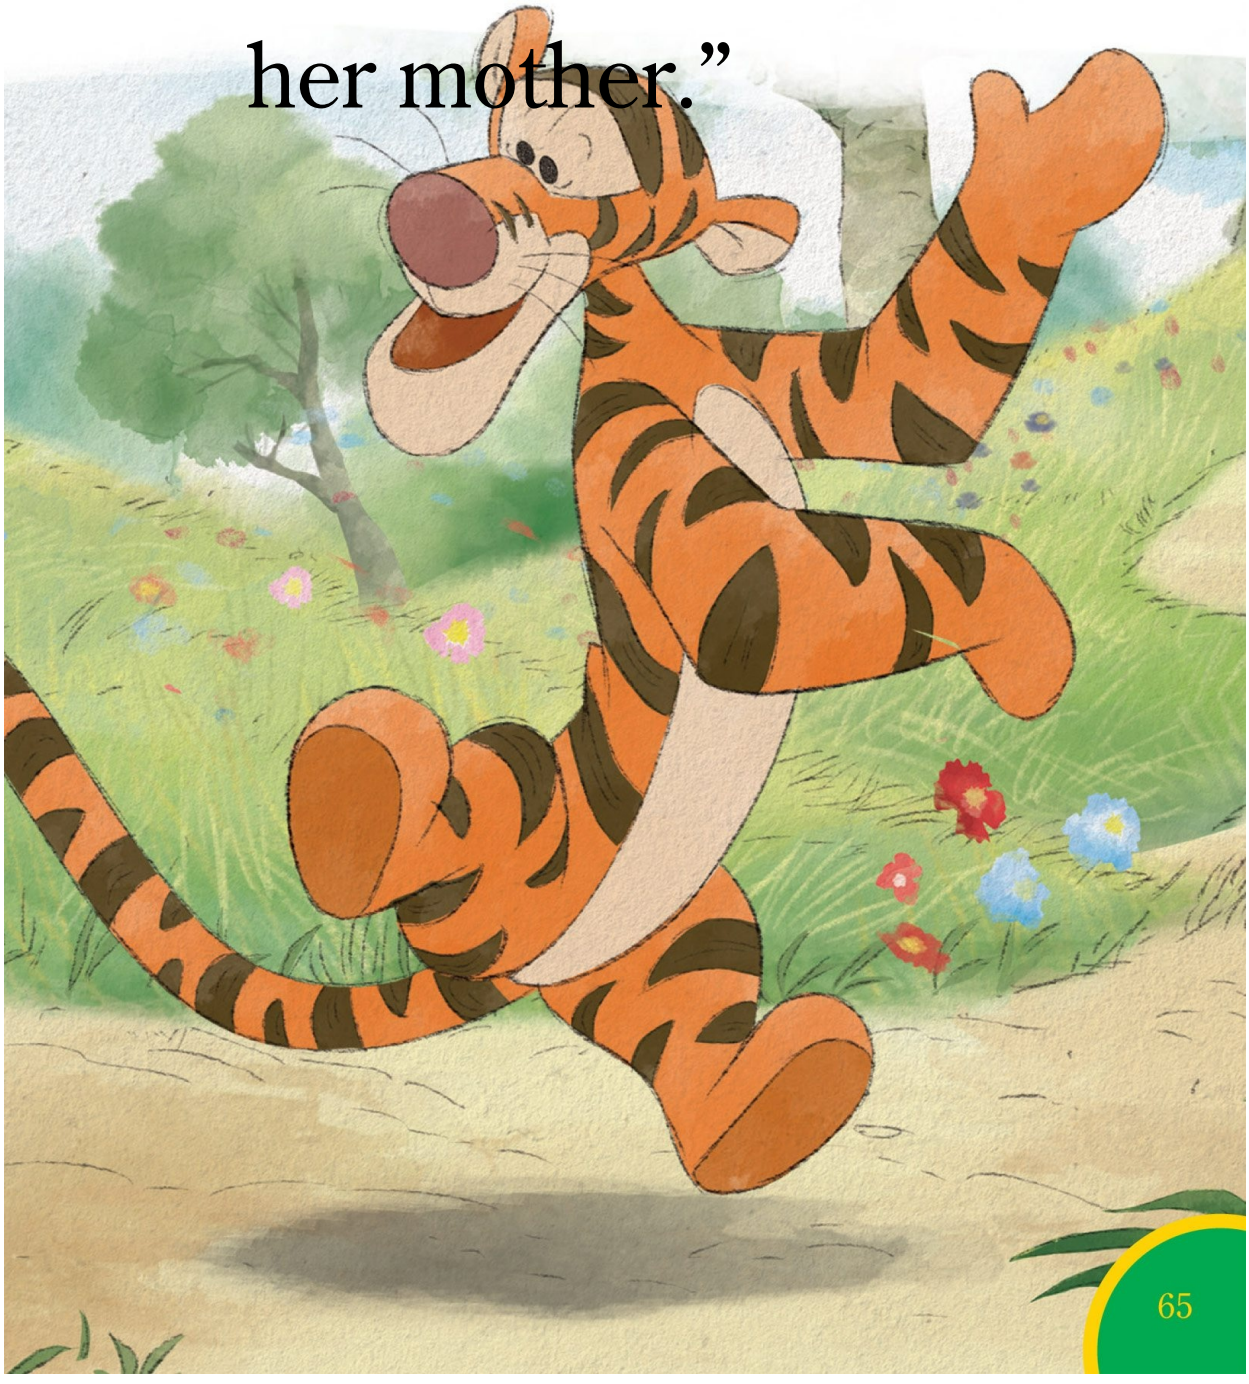
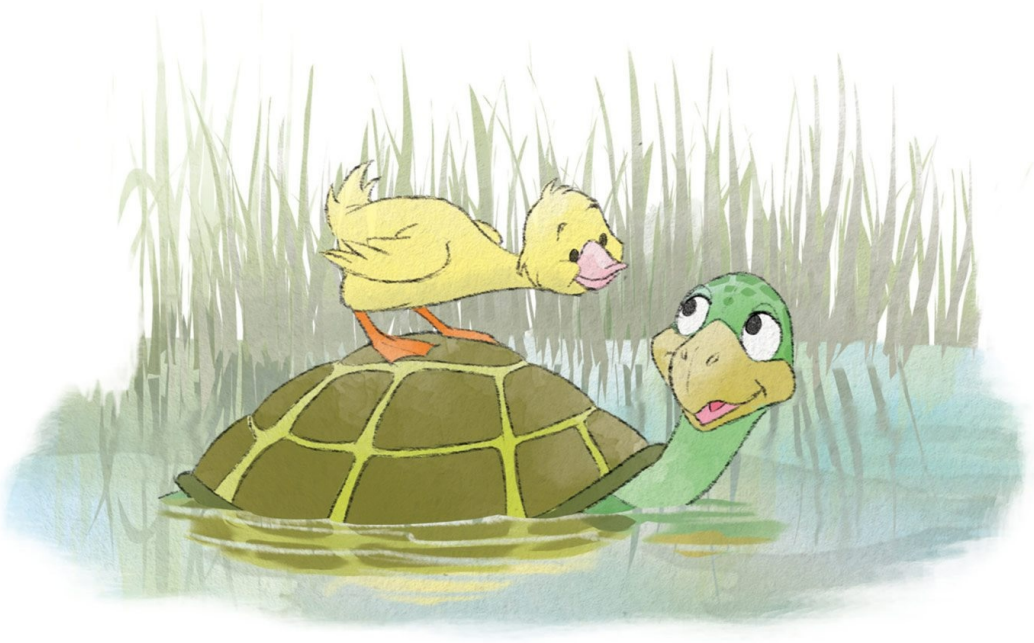
They walk by Tigger.
"Who is the new bird?"
he asks.



“This is Little,” says Roo. “We are looking for her mother.”

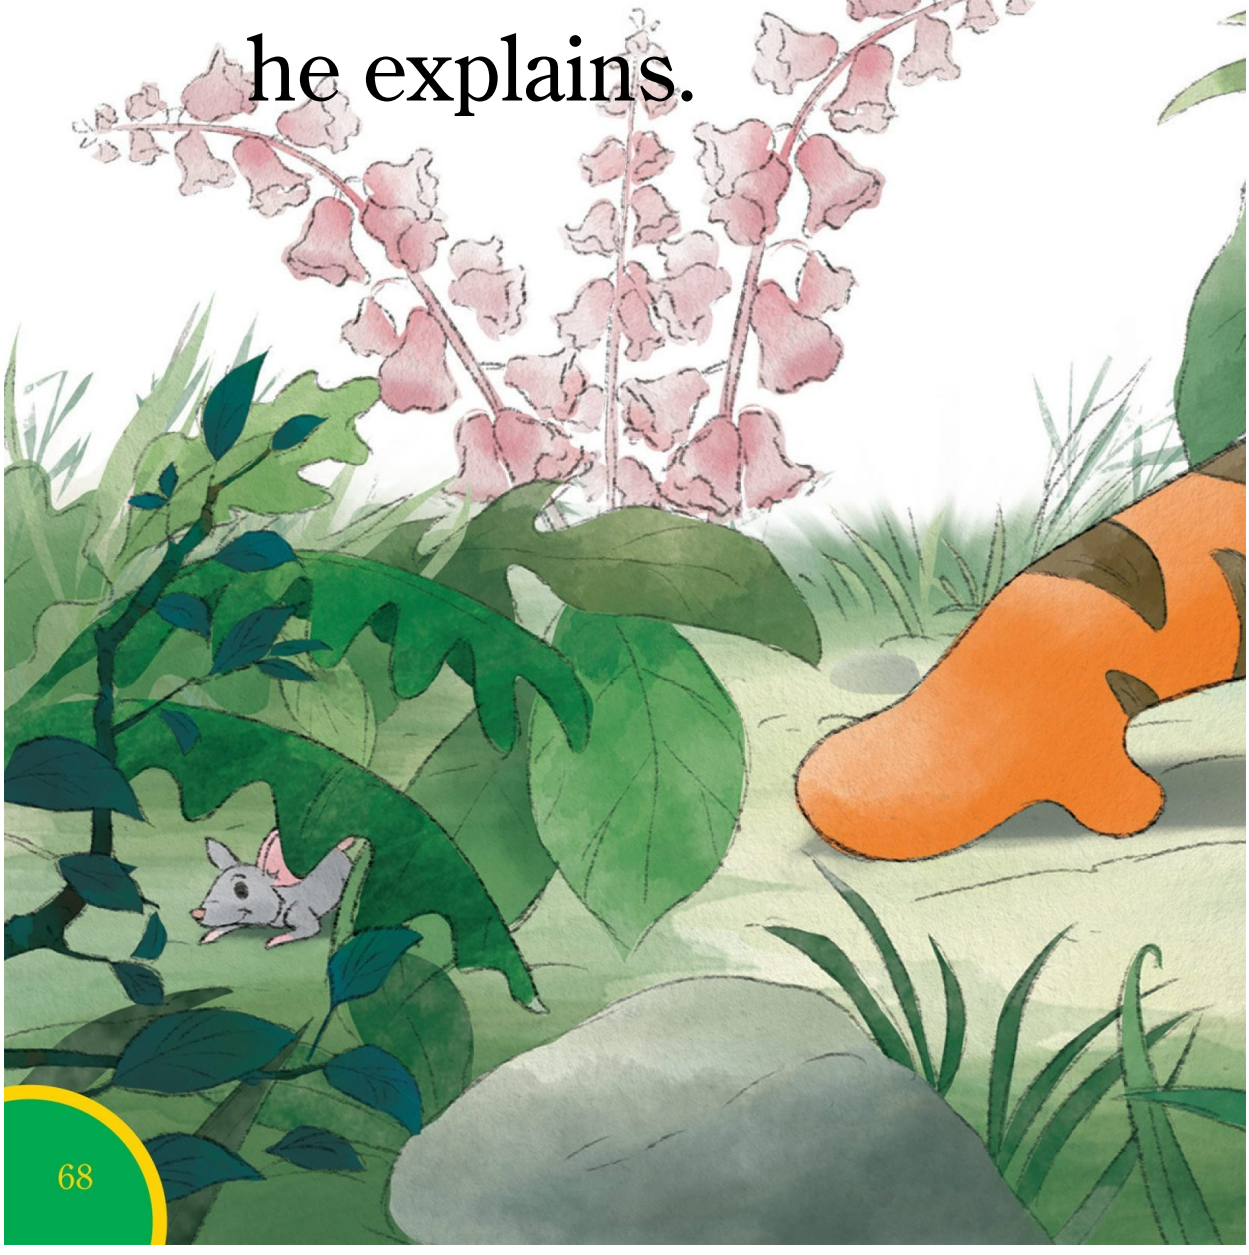


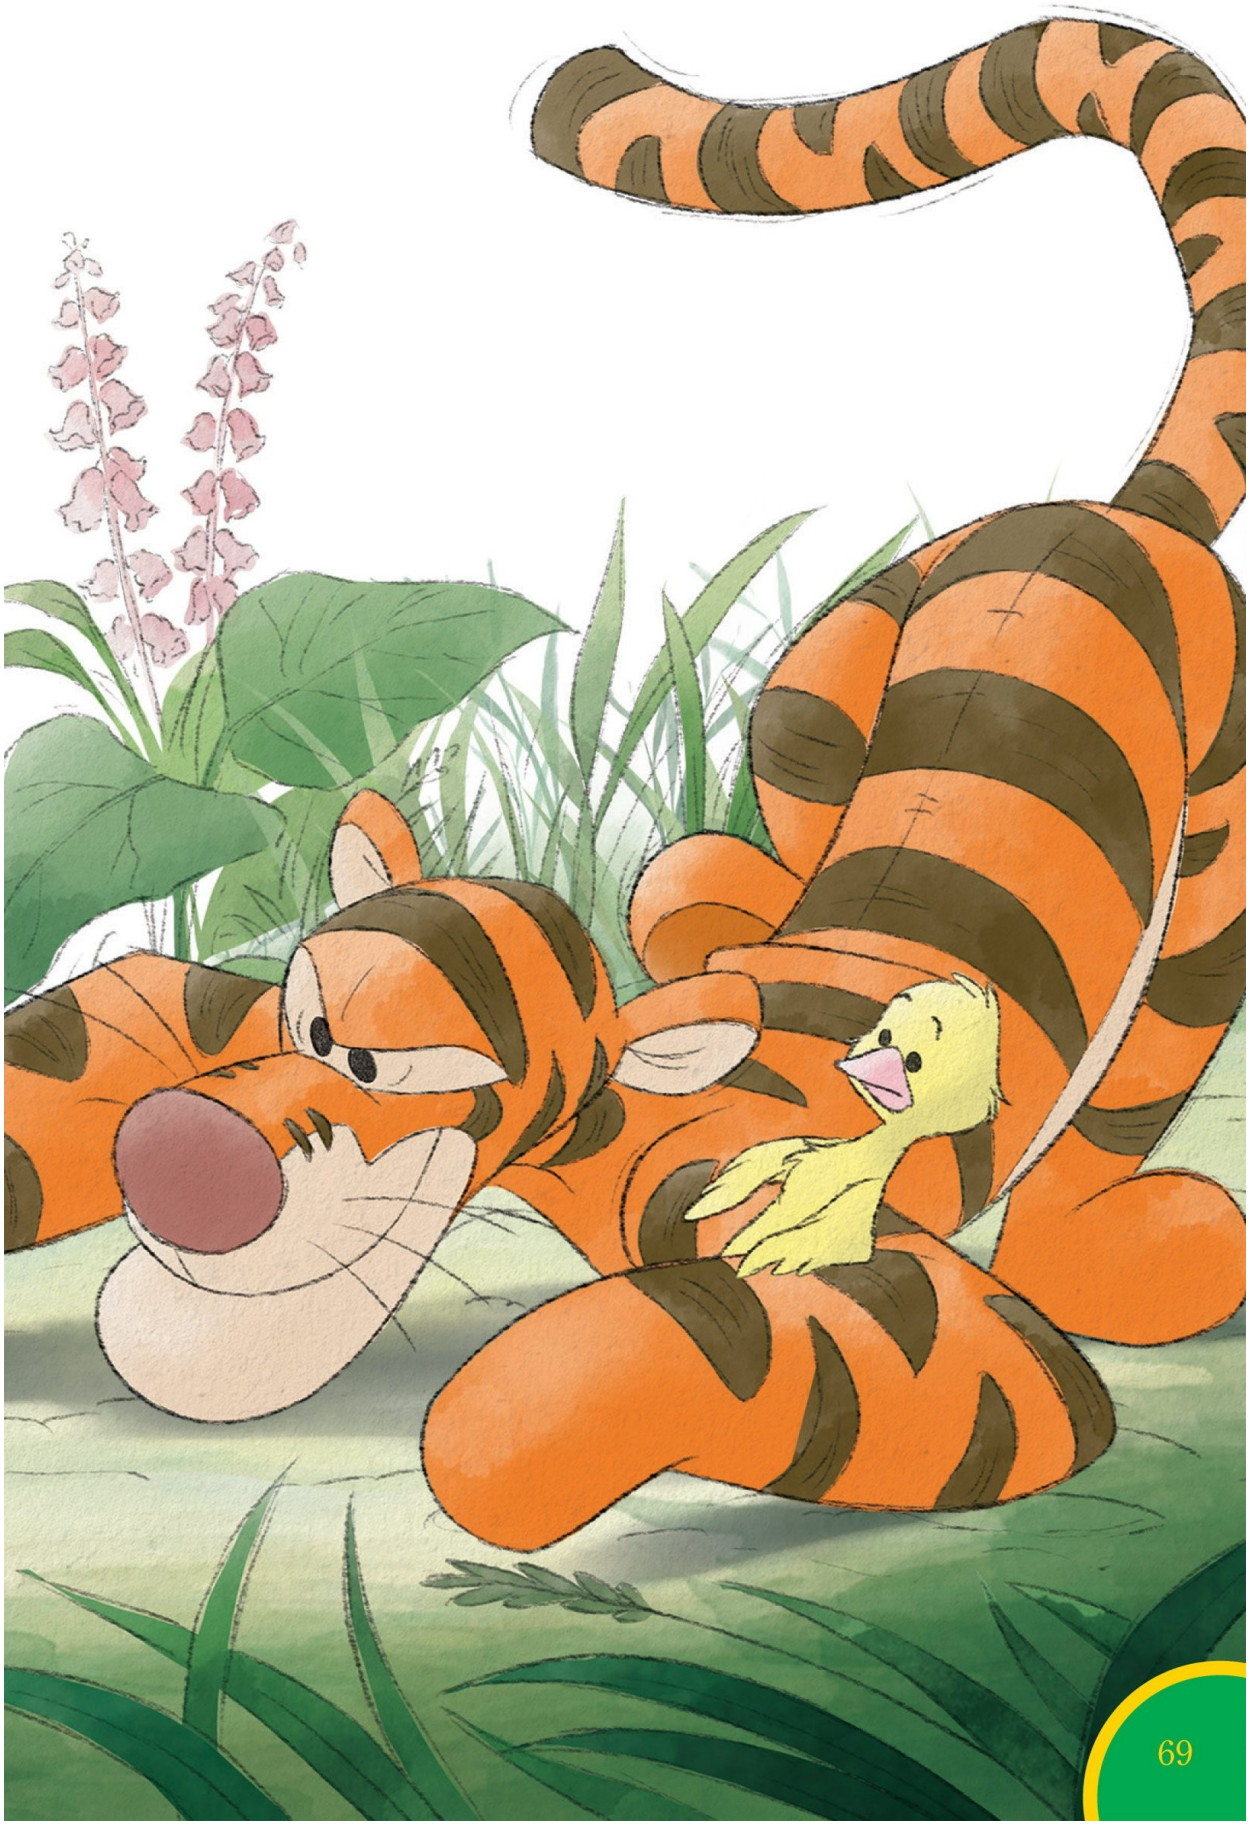


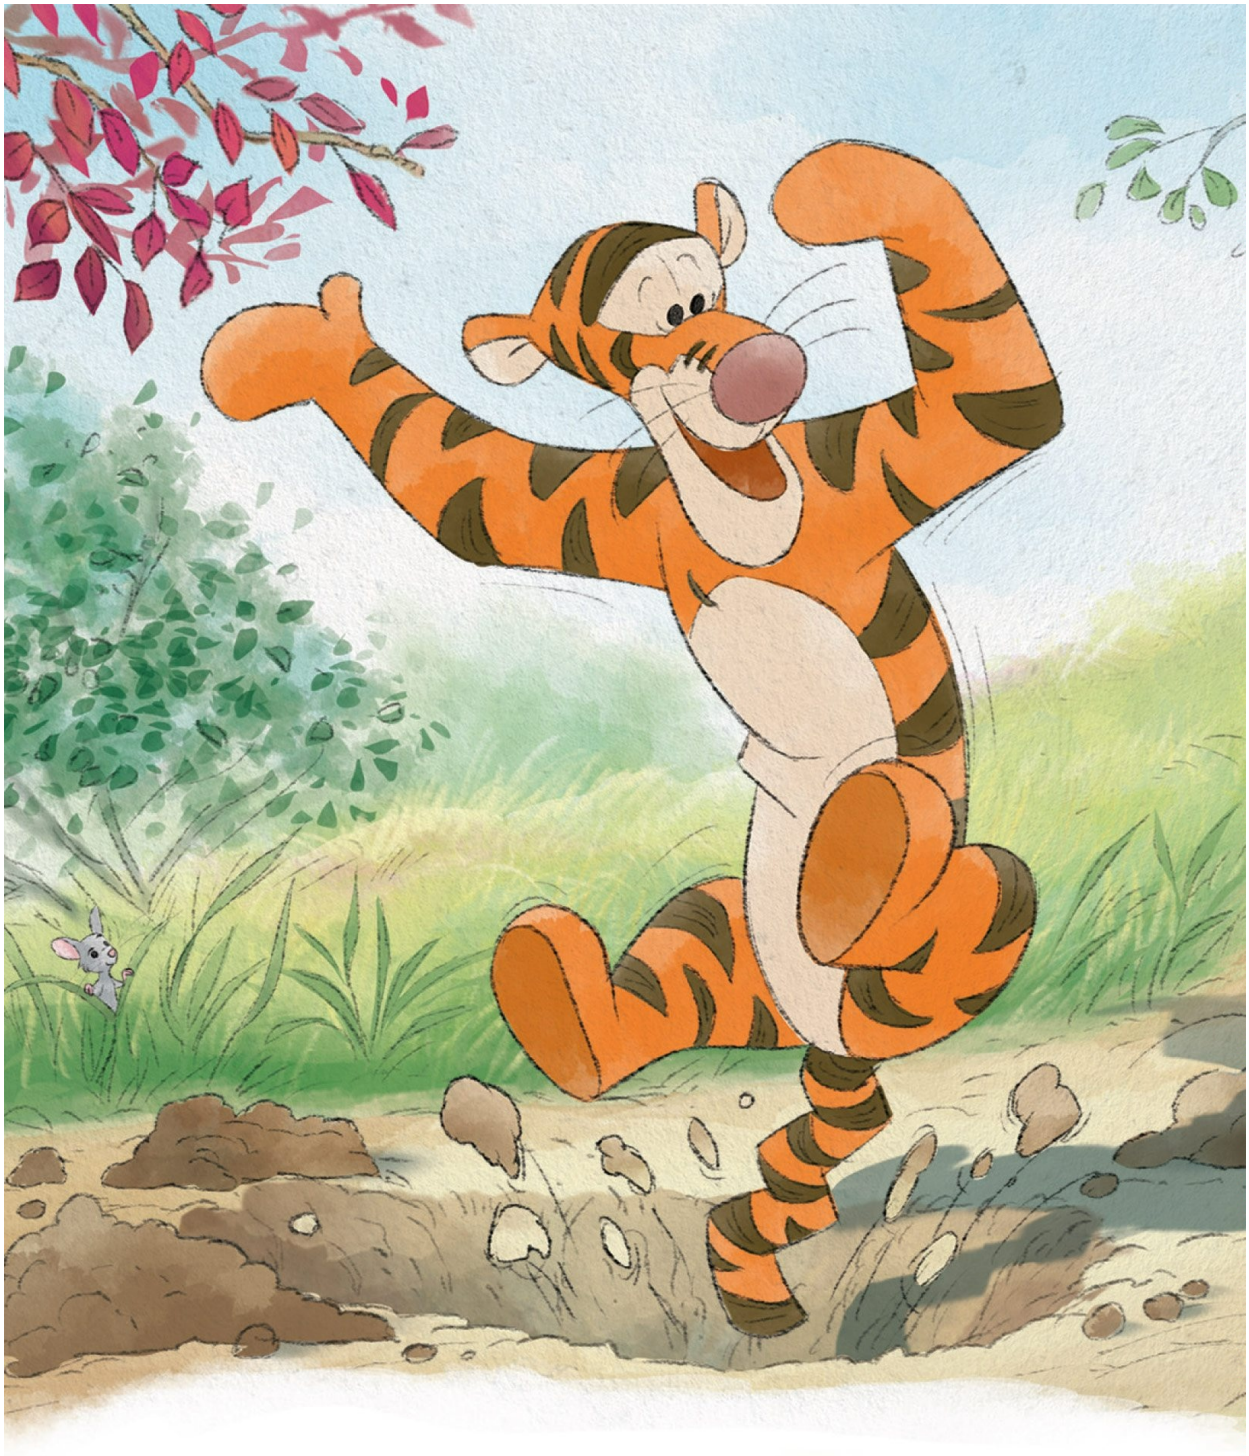
They go to the pond.
Little makes new friends.

“Little is a lot of fun!”
says Tigger.

Tigger shows Little
how to bounce.
“First, you get down real low,
he explains.



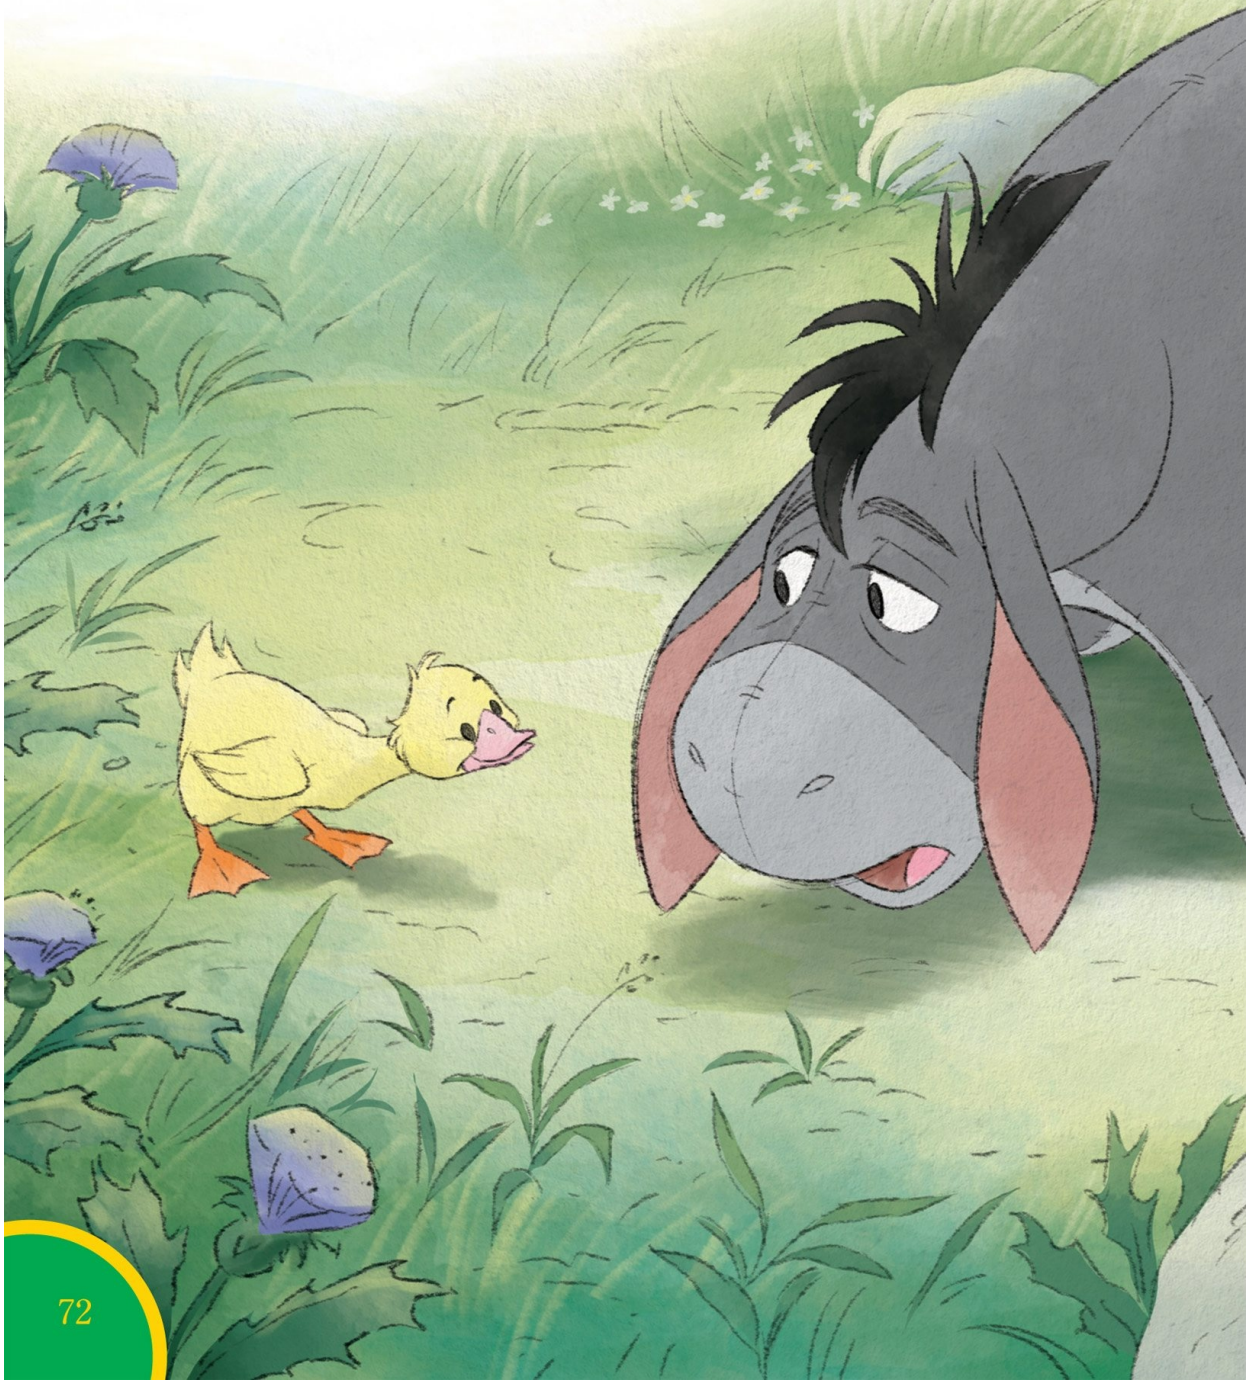




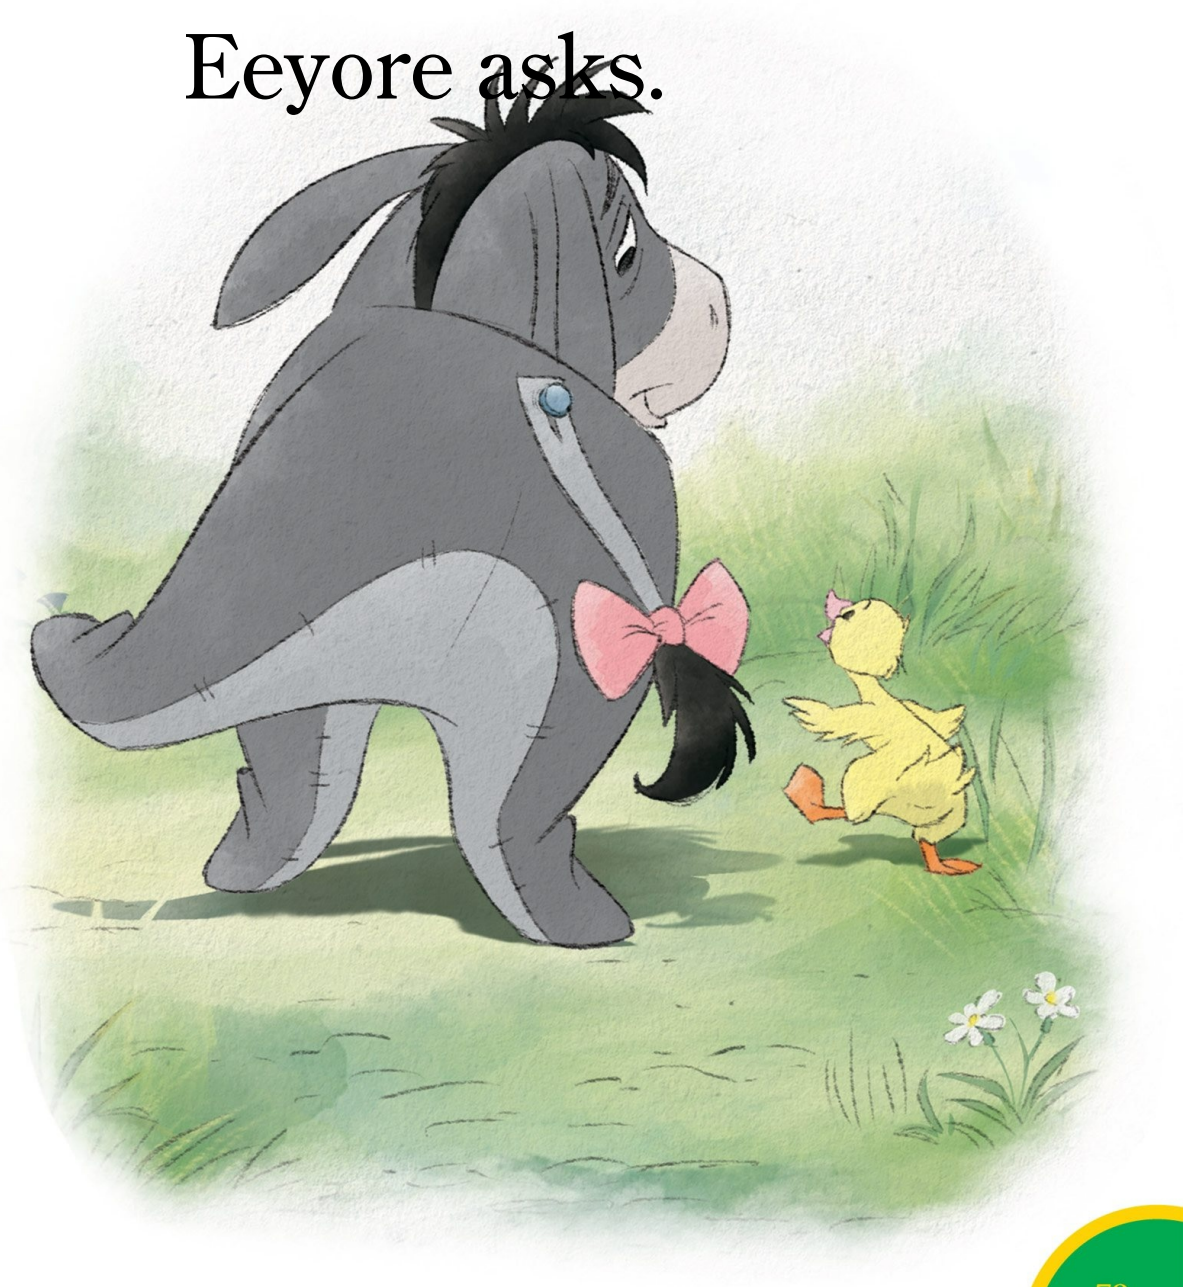
“Then you bounce up high!”
says Tigger.

“Quack, quack!”
says Little.

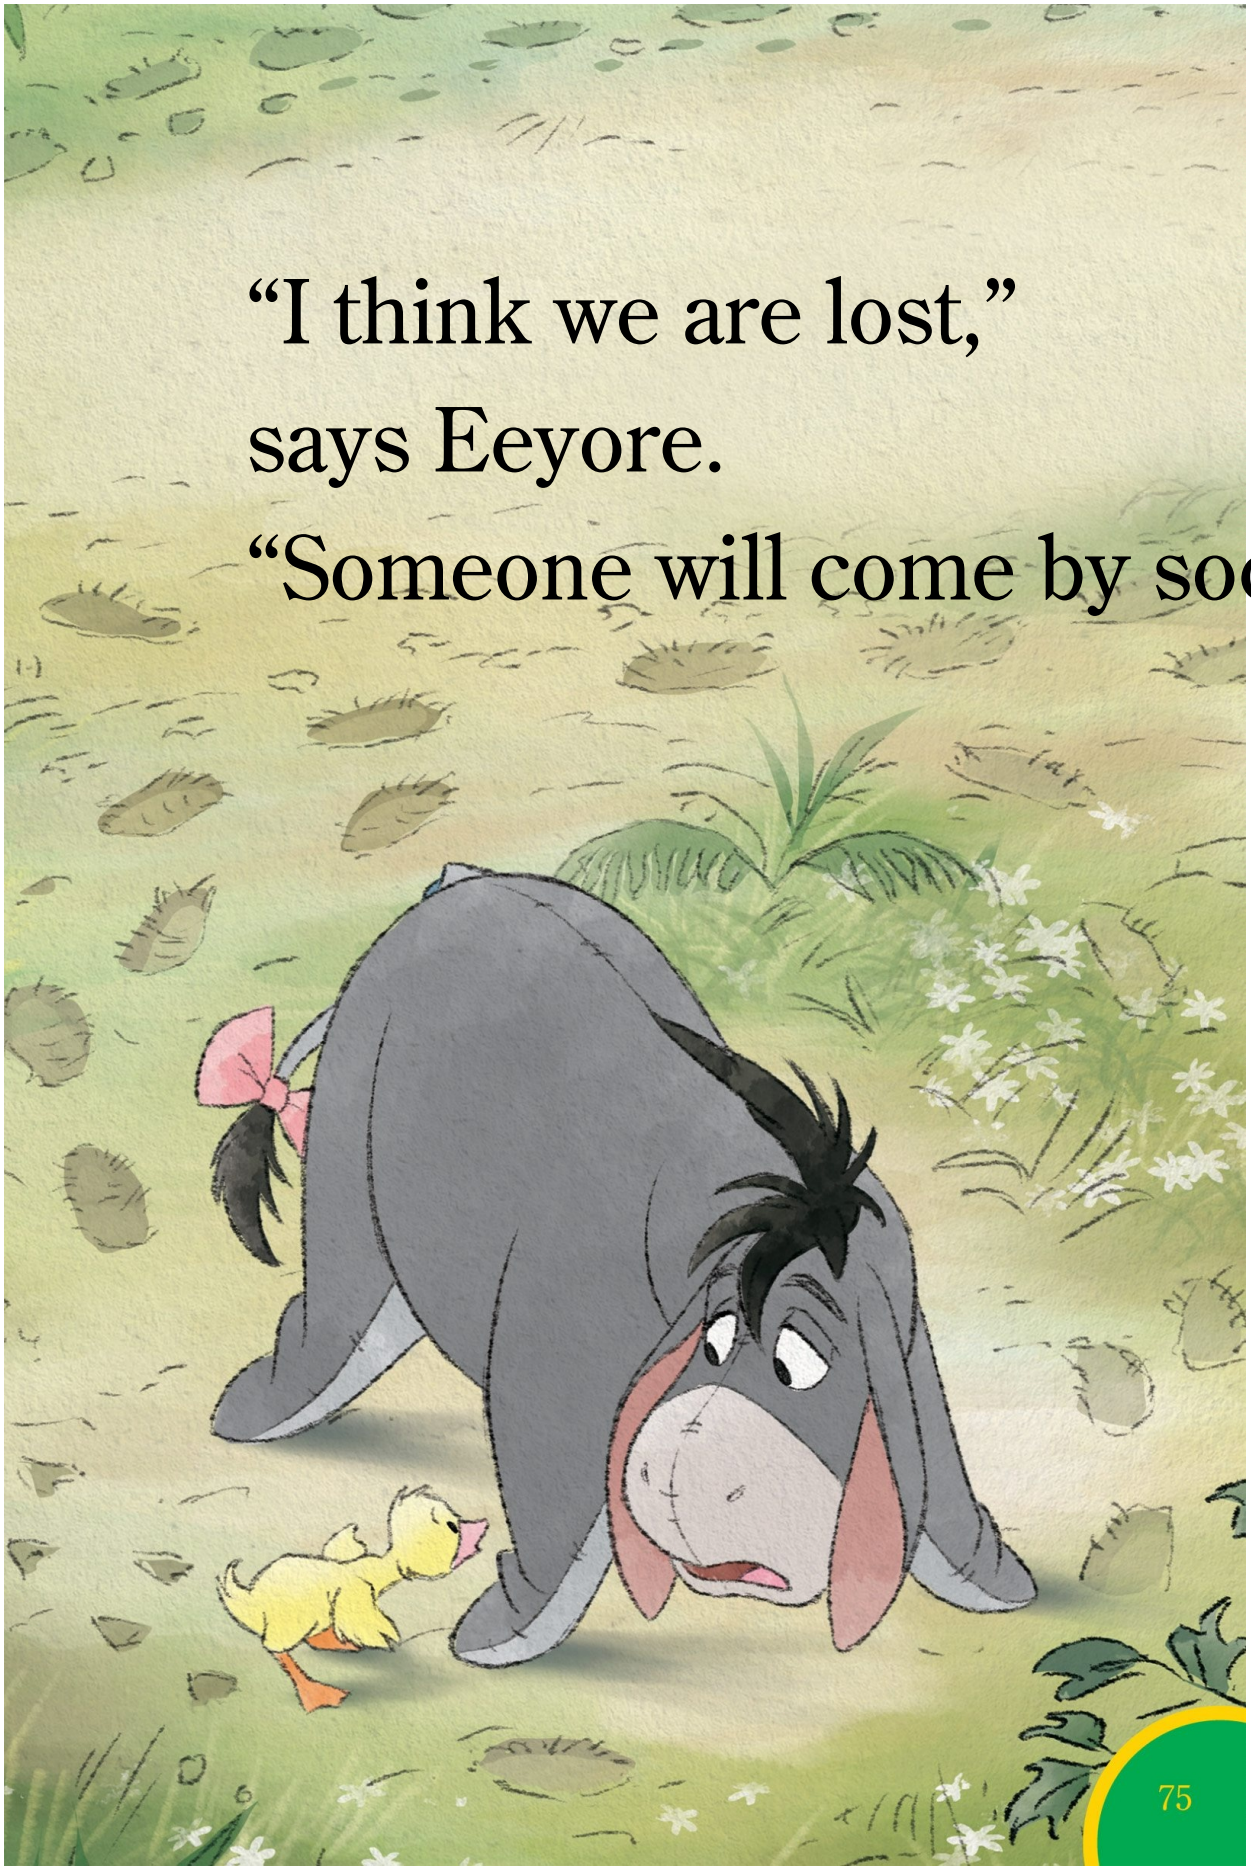
Eeyore walks by.
Little waddles over to him.



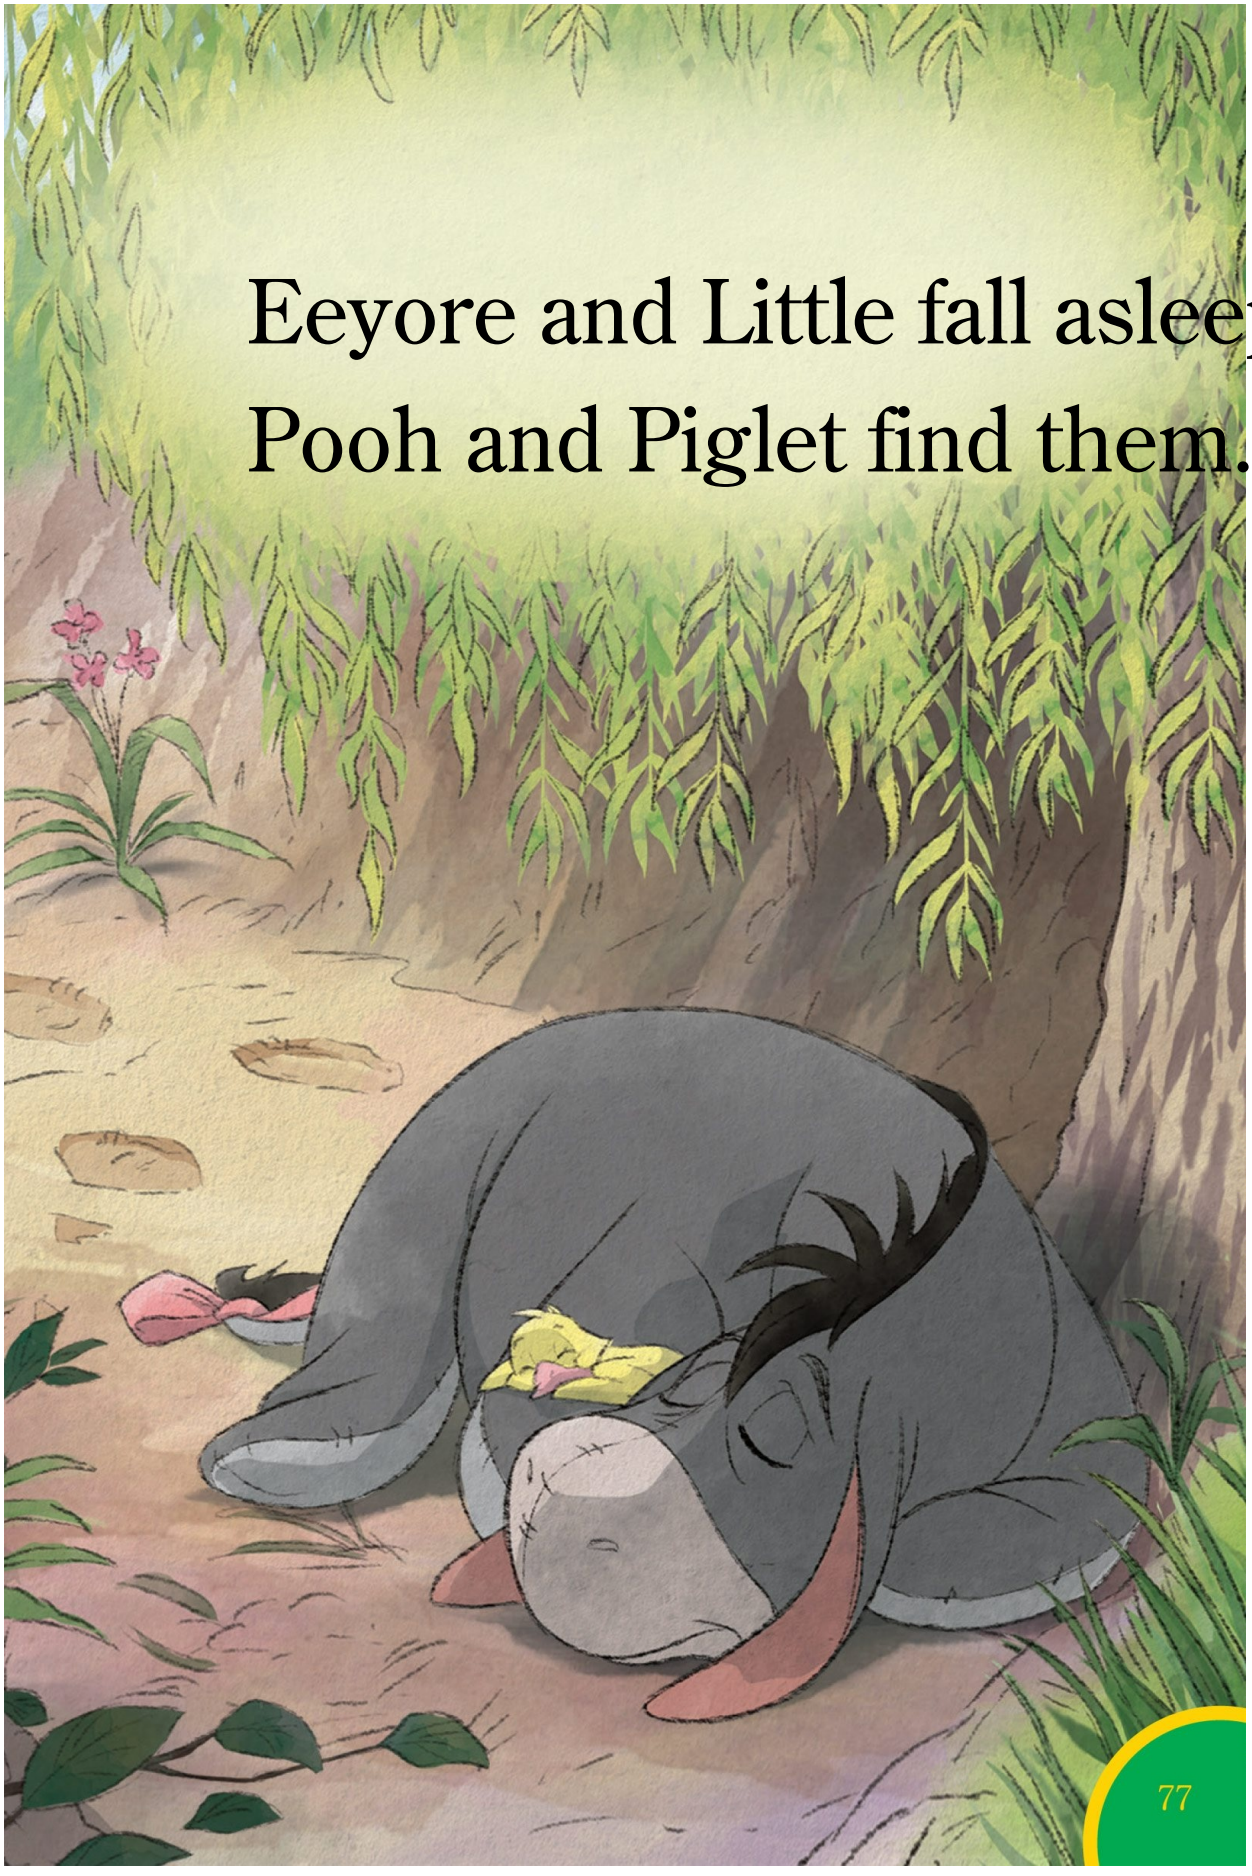
“Can you show me how to do that?” Eeyore asks.



They go for a waddle.
Eeyore trips and falls!
Little helps him up.



“I think we are lost,”
says Eeyore.
“Someone will come by soon.



Eeyore and Little fall asleep.
Pooh and Piglet find them.

“Quack, quack!”
“What is that?”
asks Eeyore.

“Look!” says Piglet.

“A duck family.”

“Could that be Little’s mother asks Pooh.

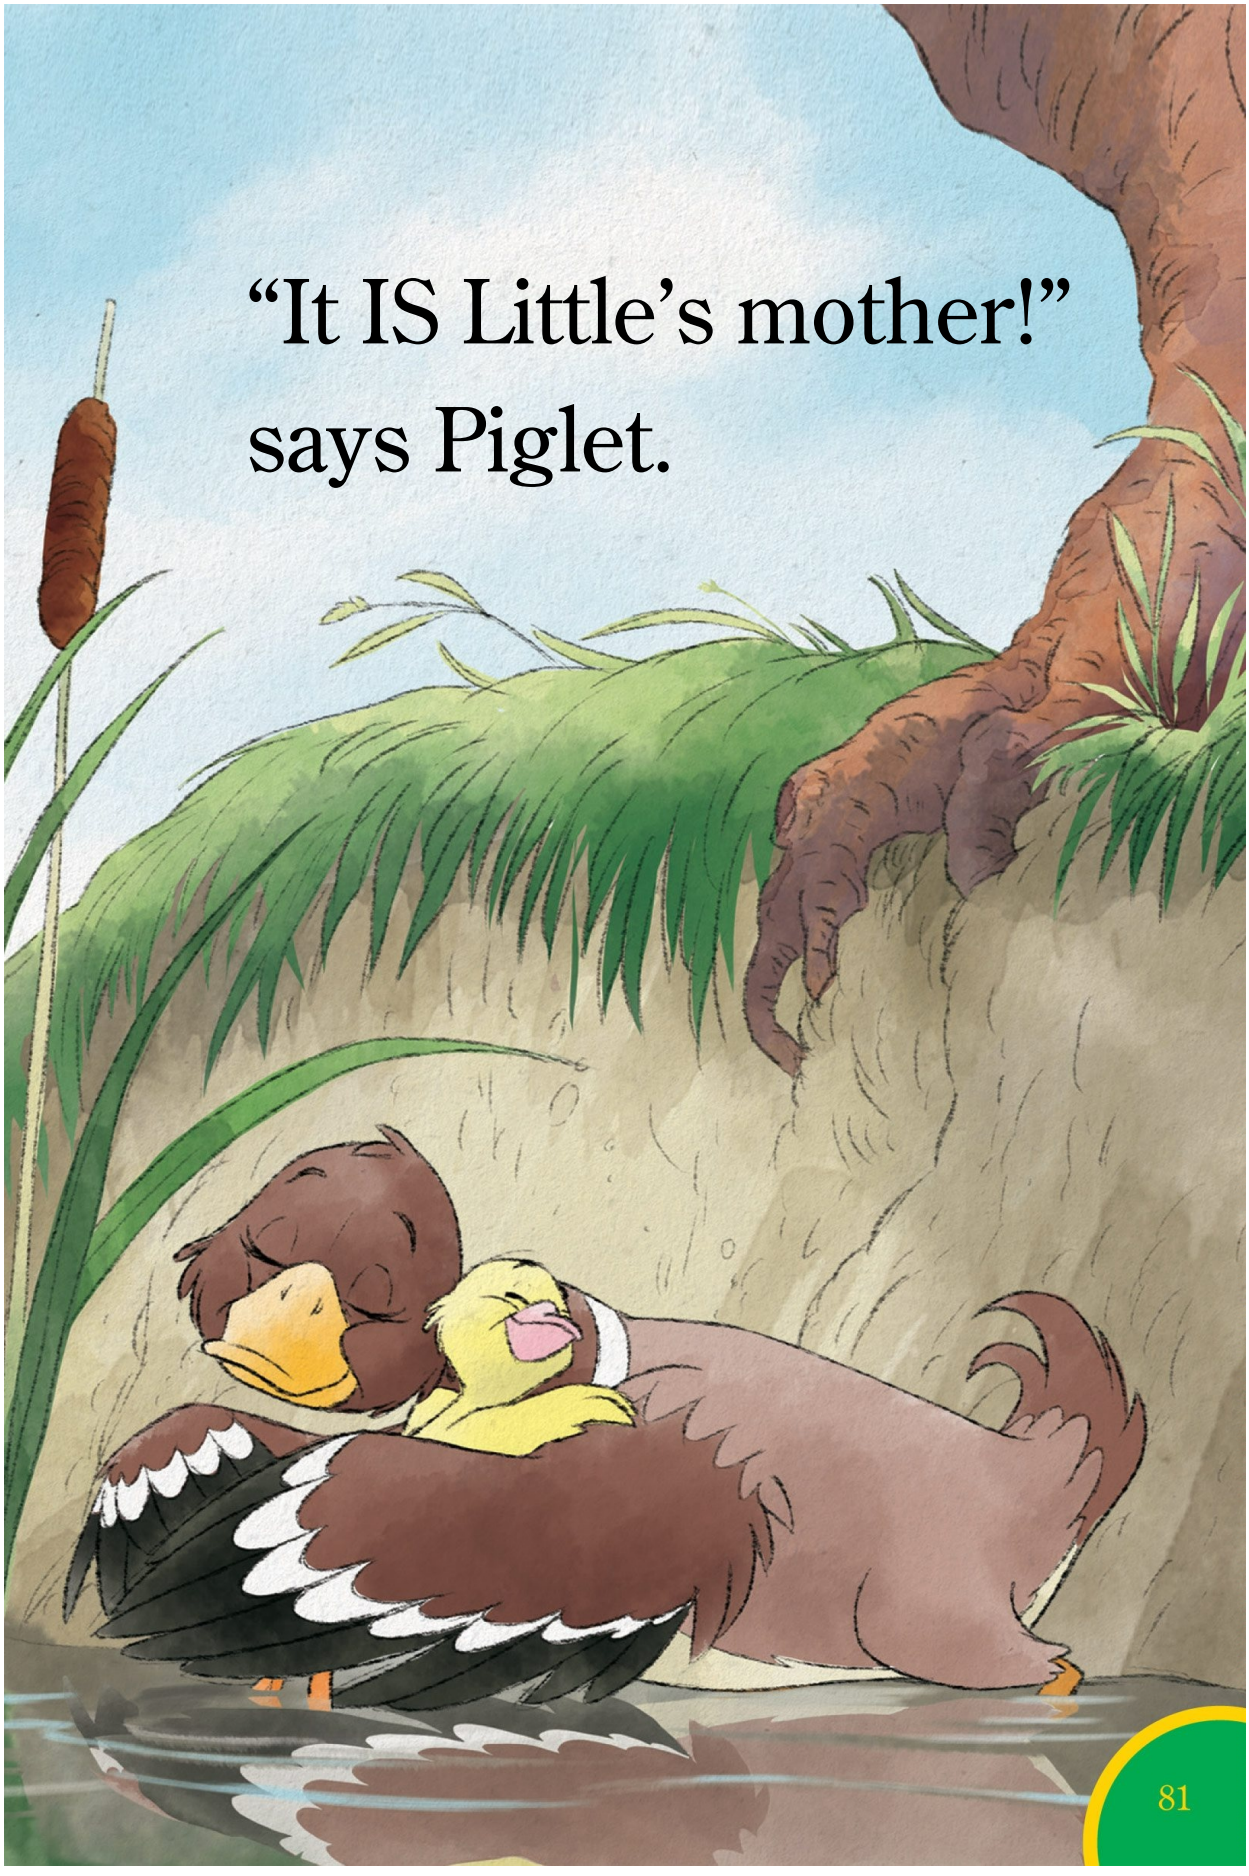
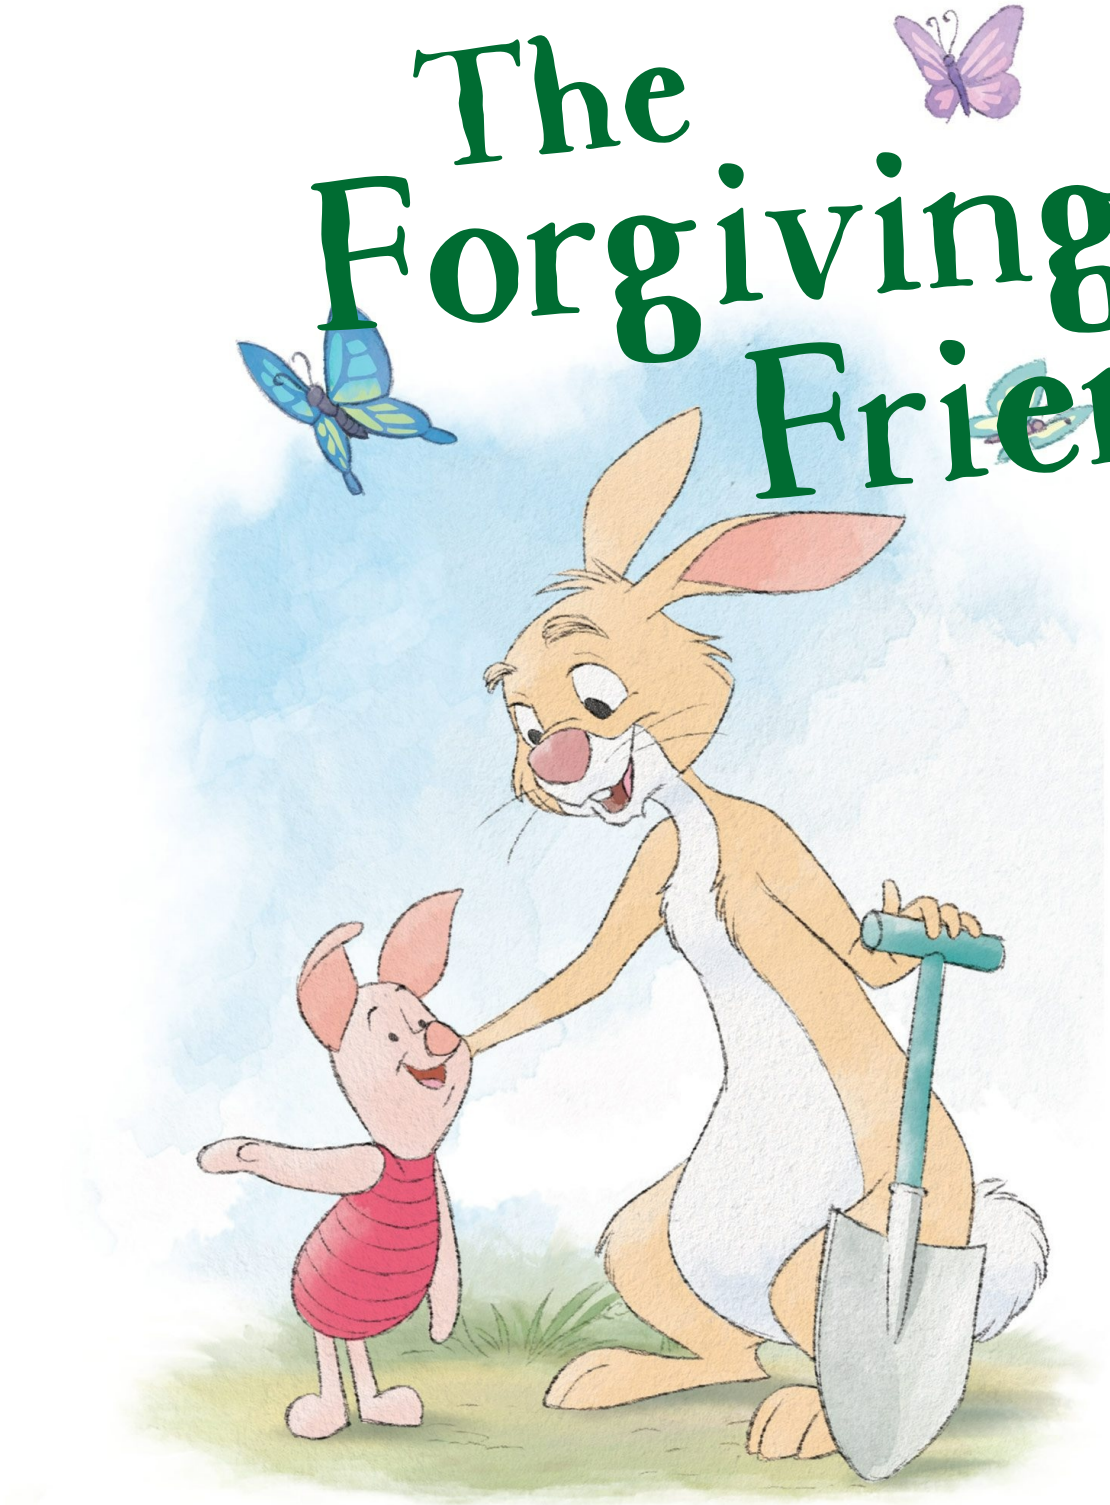
Little swims over to her family.
“Quack, quack!” they say.



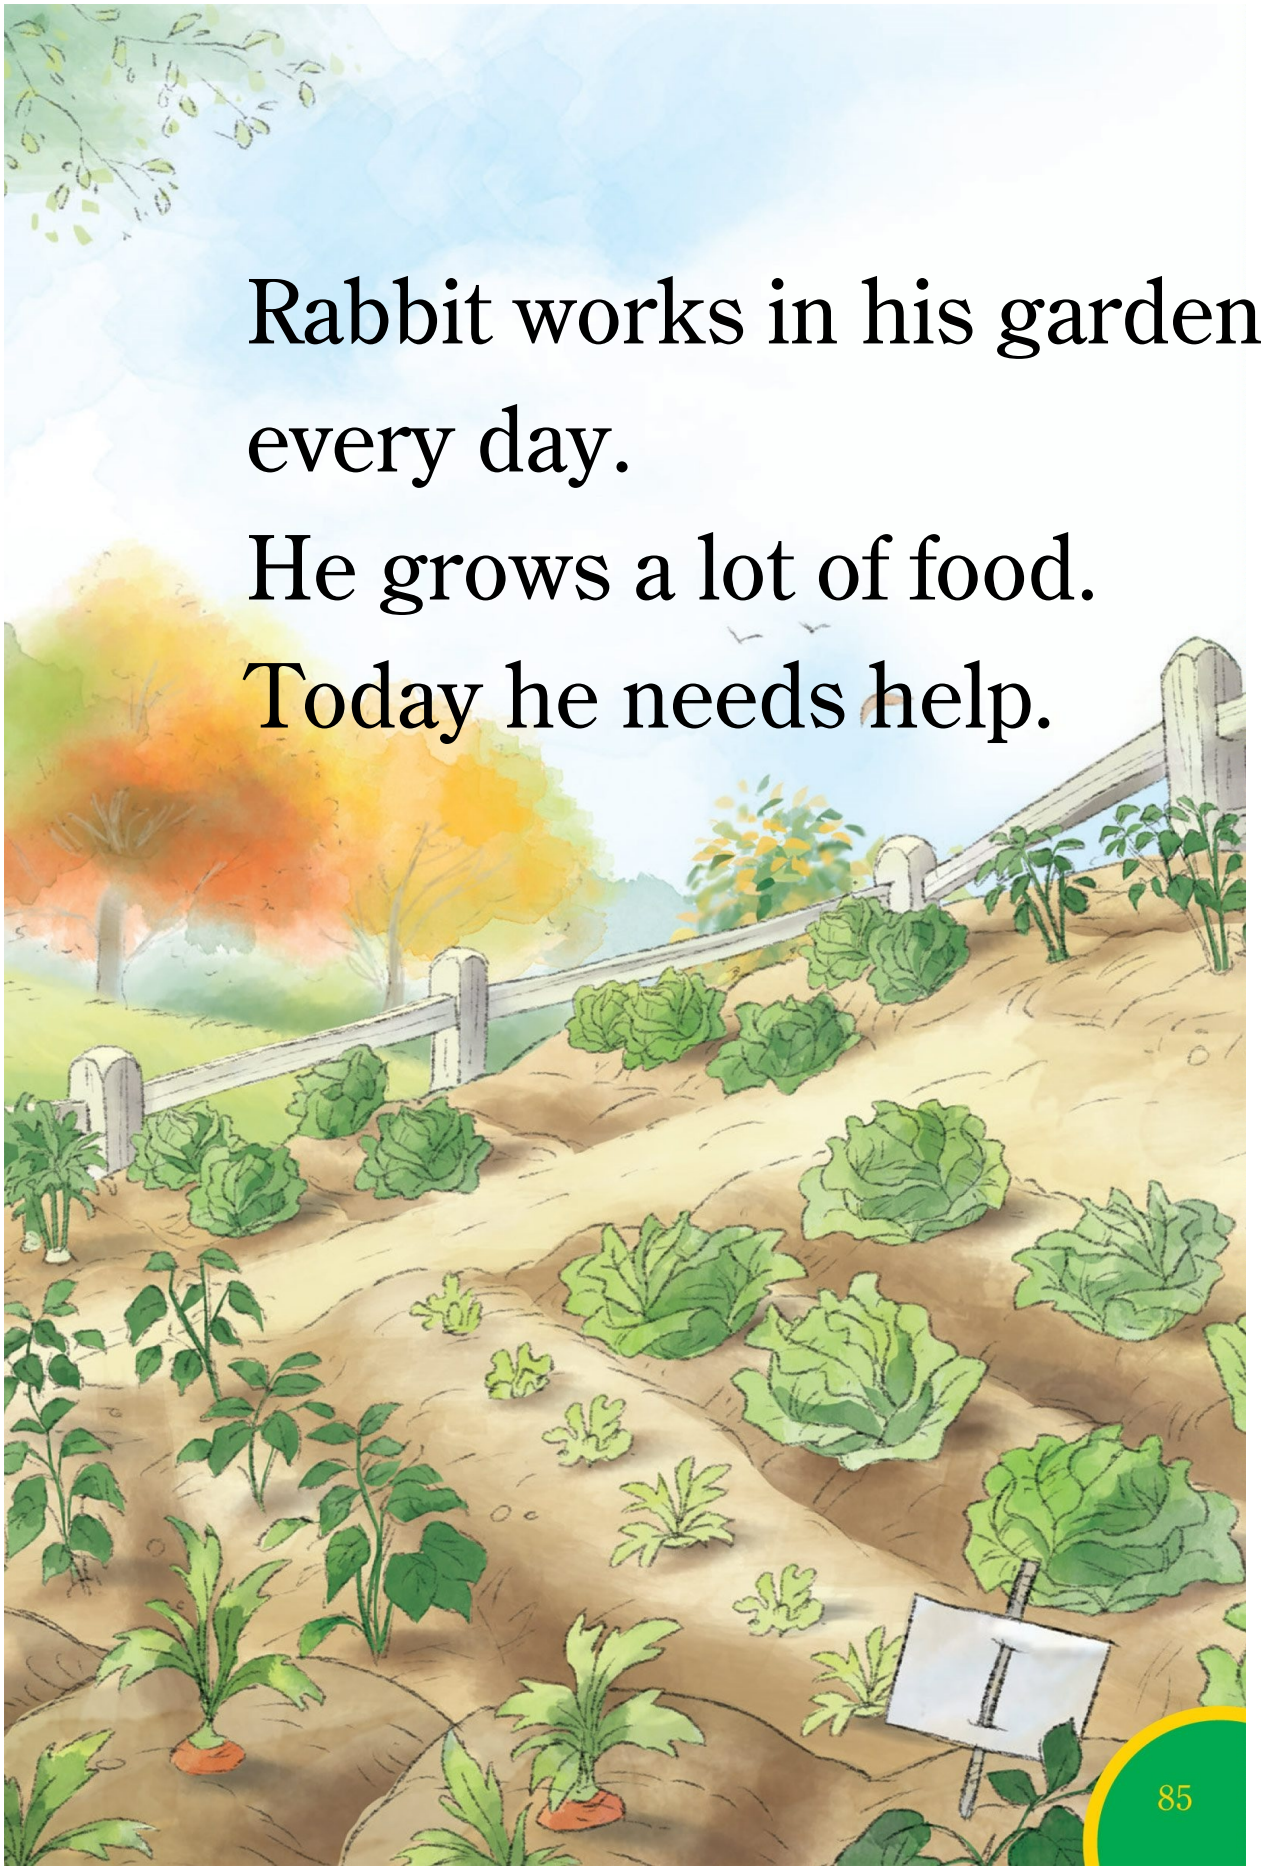
“It IS Little’s mother!”
says Piglet.

Pooh gives his new little frien
a big hug goodbye.

The Forgiving Friend

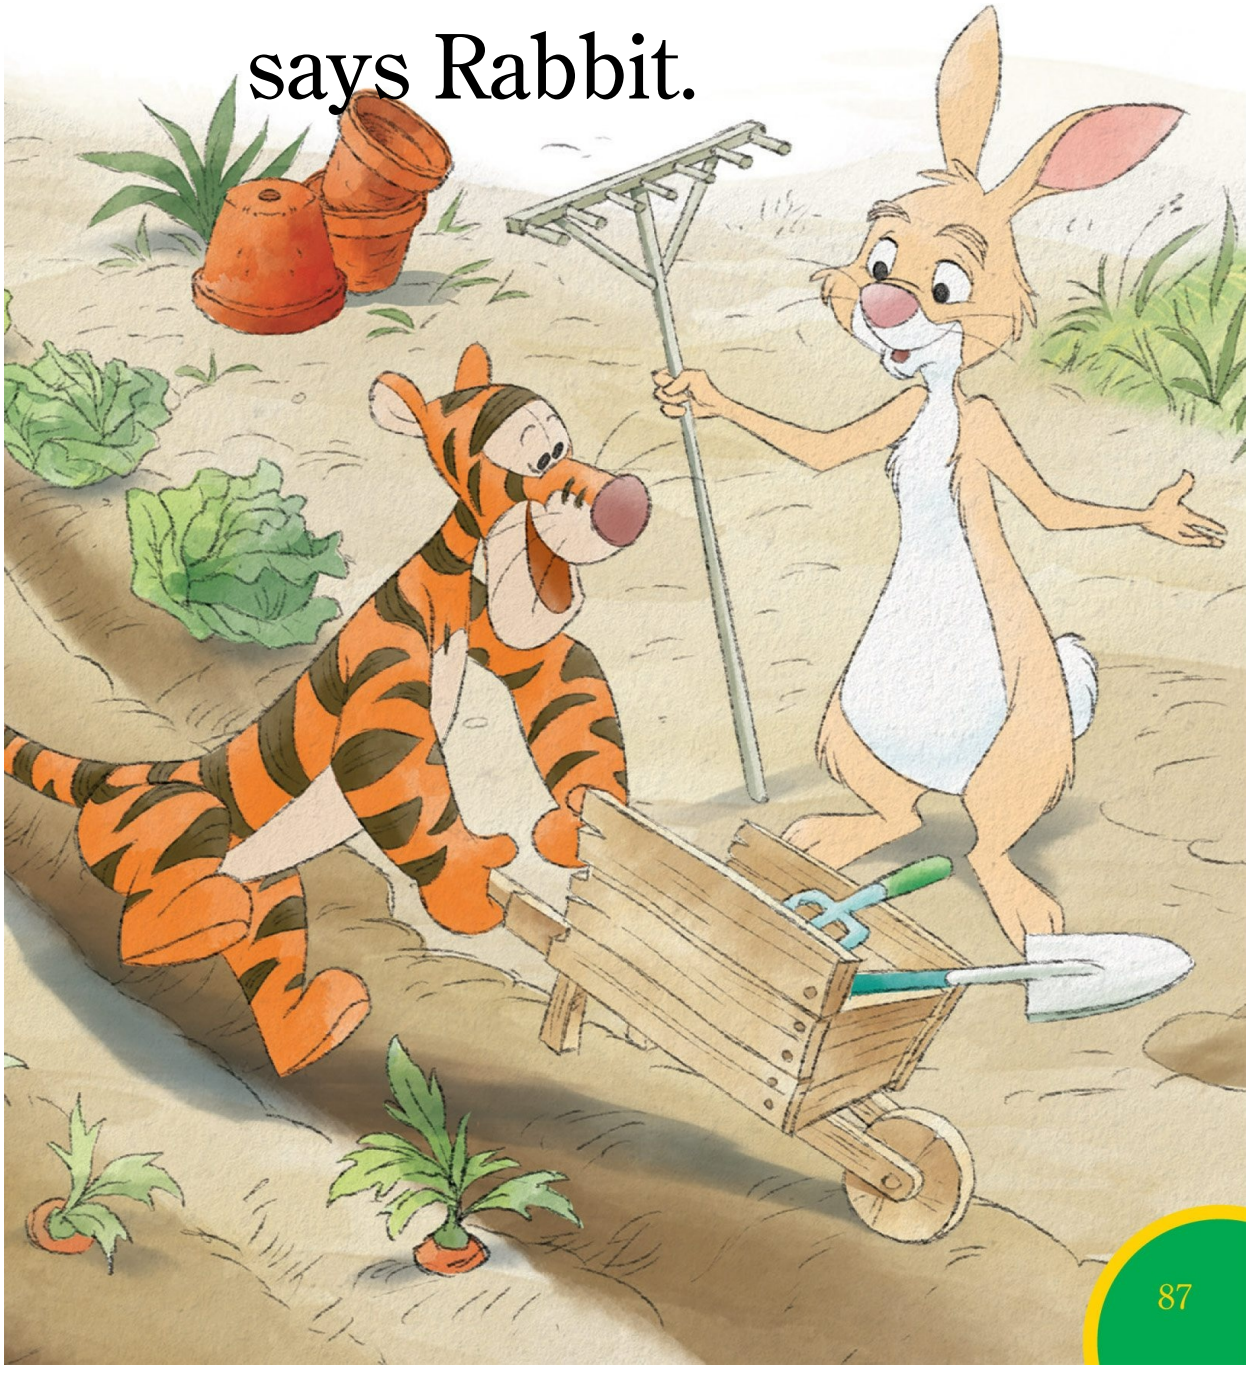


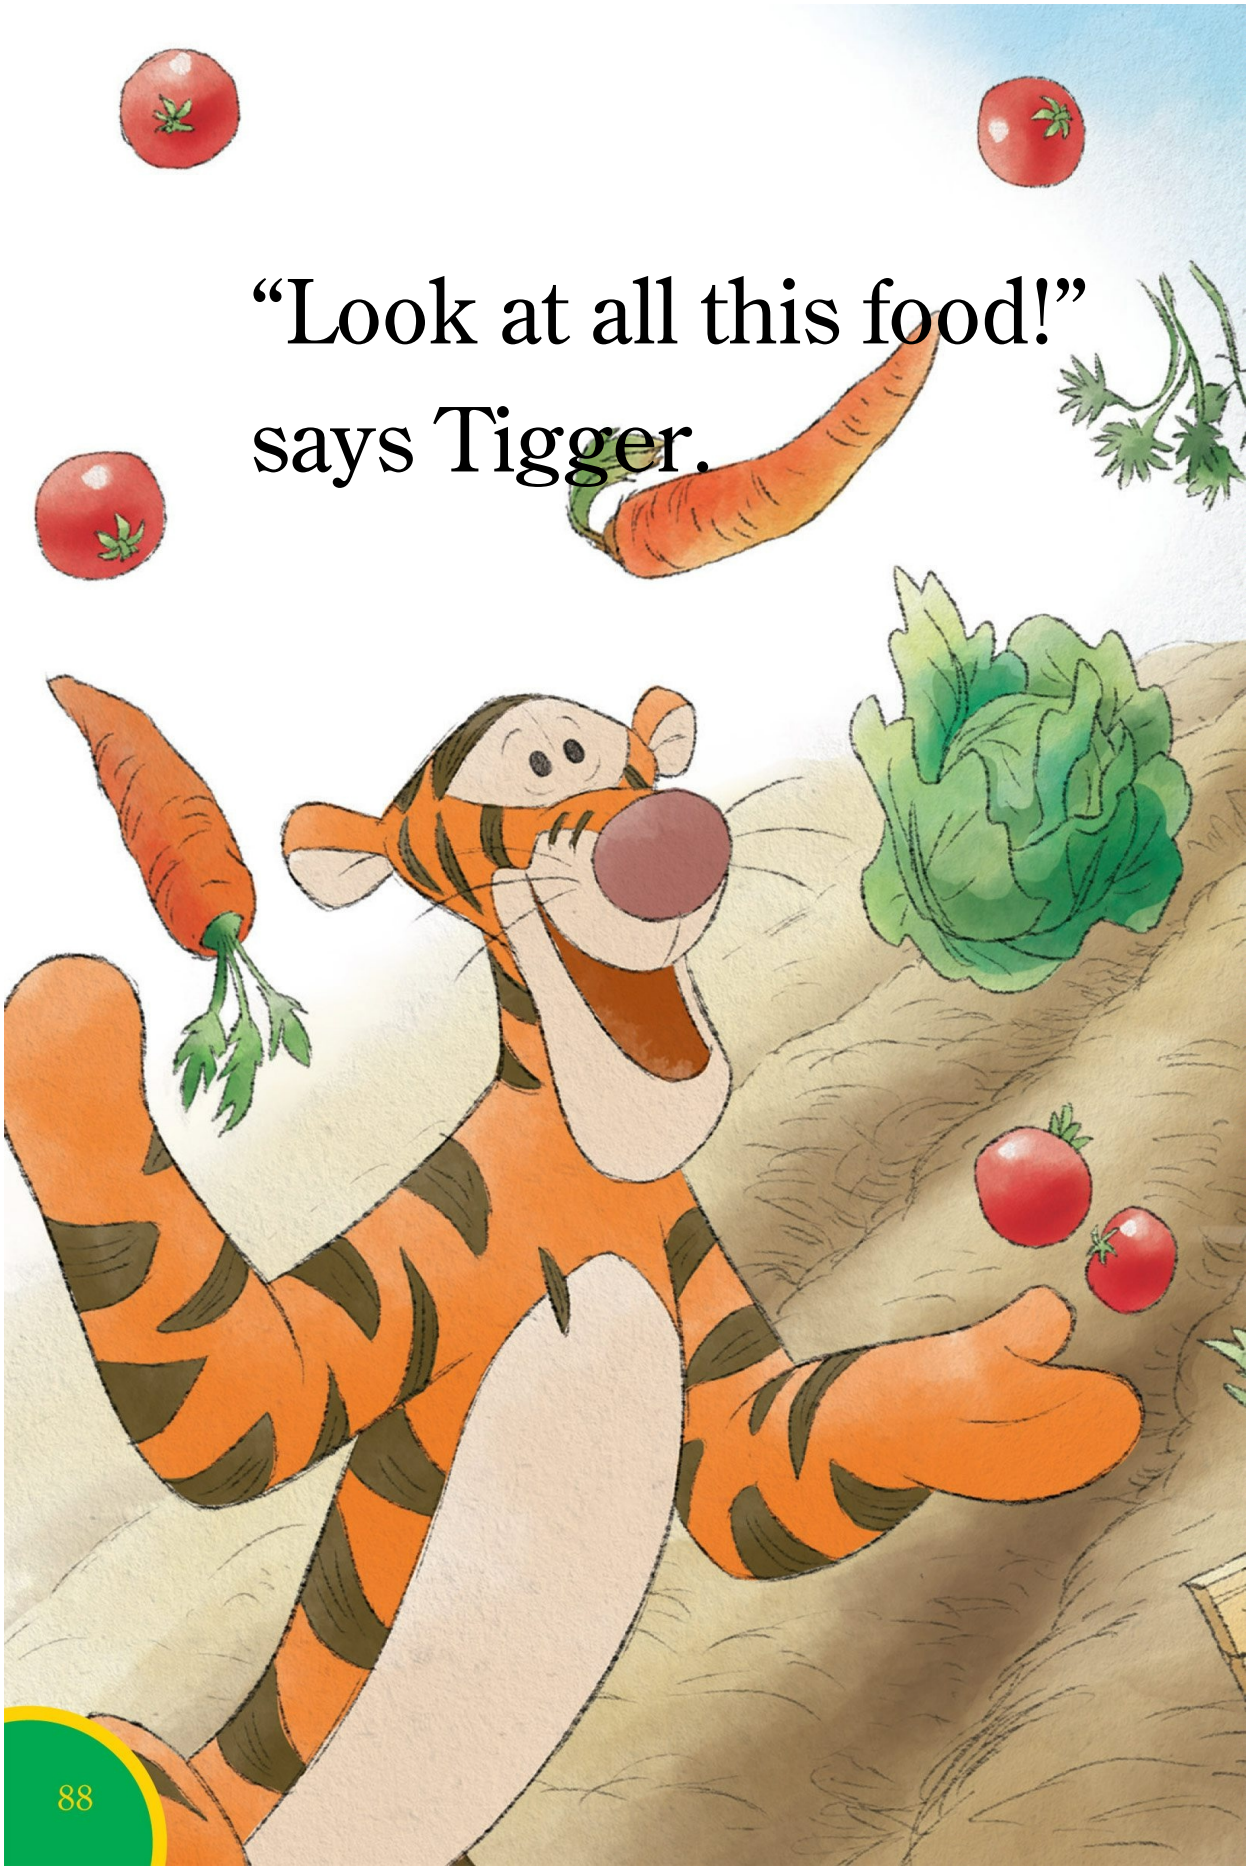
KERRITS



Rabbit works in his garden every day.
He grows a lot of food.
Today he needs help.

Everyone comes to help.
“Many hands make light work,”
says Rabbit.





“Look at all this food!”
says Tigger.

Everyone works hard.
"Thank you," says Rabbit.
"You can take some food home."

“But we are not done,”

says Piglet.
“We will come back again tomorrow.”

Winnie the Pooh and Piglet walk by Kanga and Roo's house.

They stop to say hello.
Roo does not feel well.

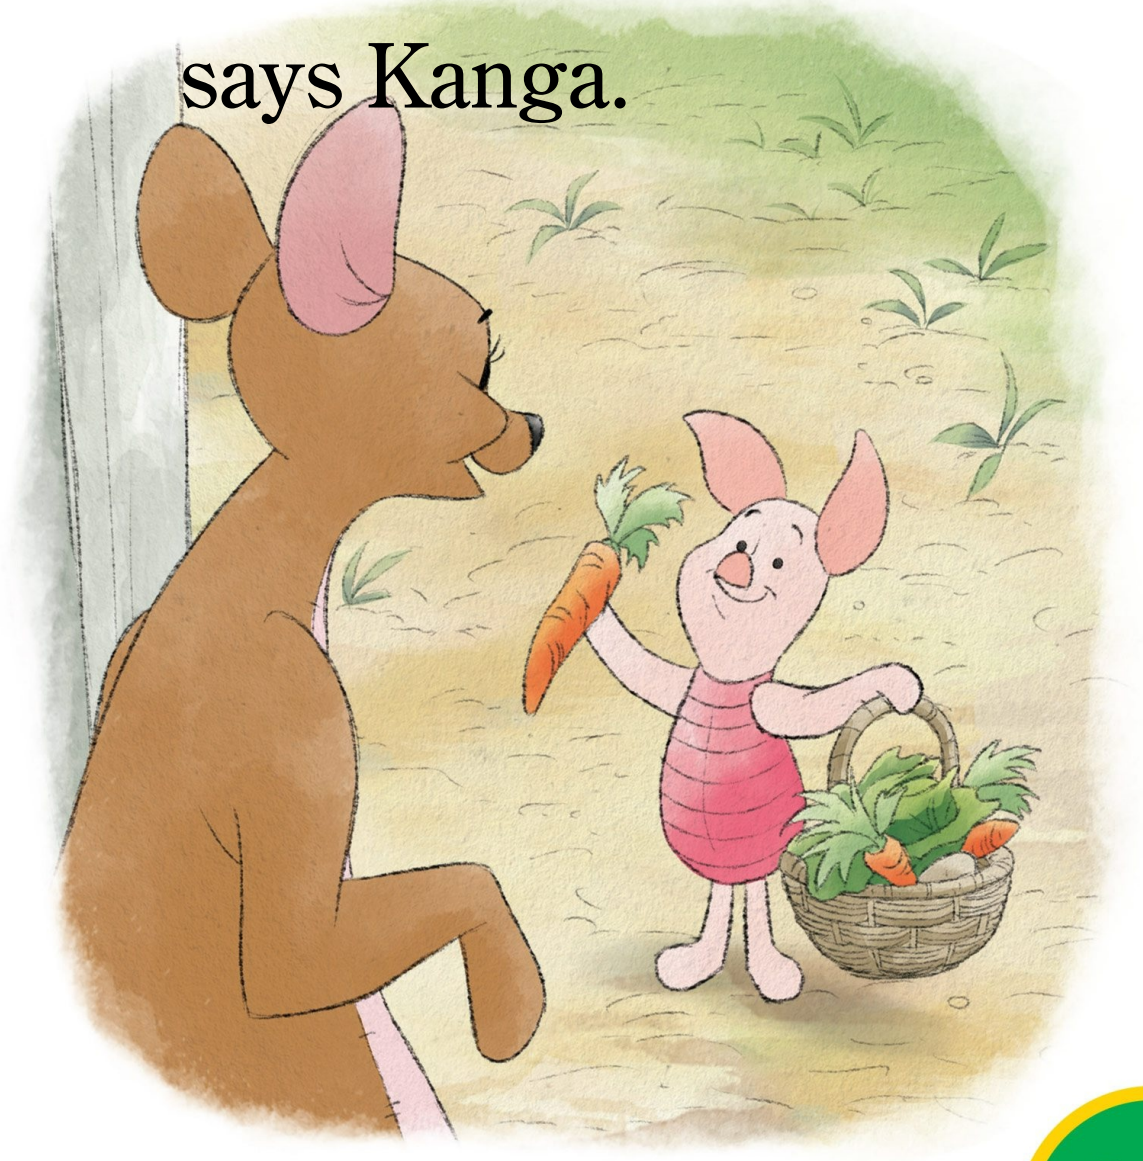
“Mama’s garden soup makes me feel better,” says Roo.

But Kanga does not have any garden soup.

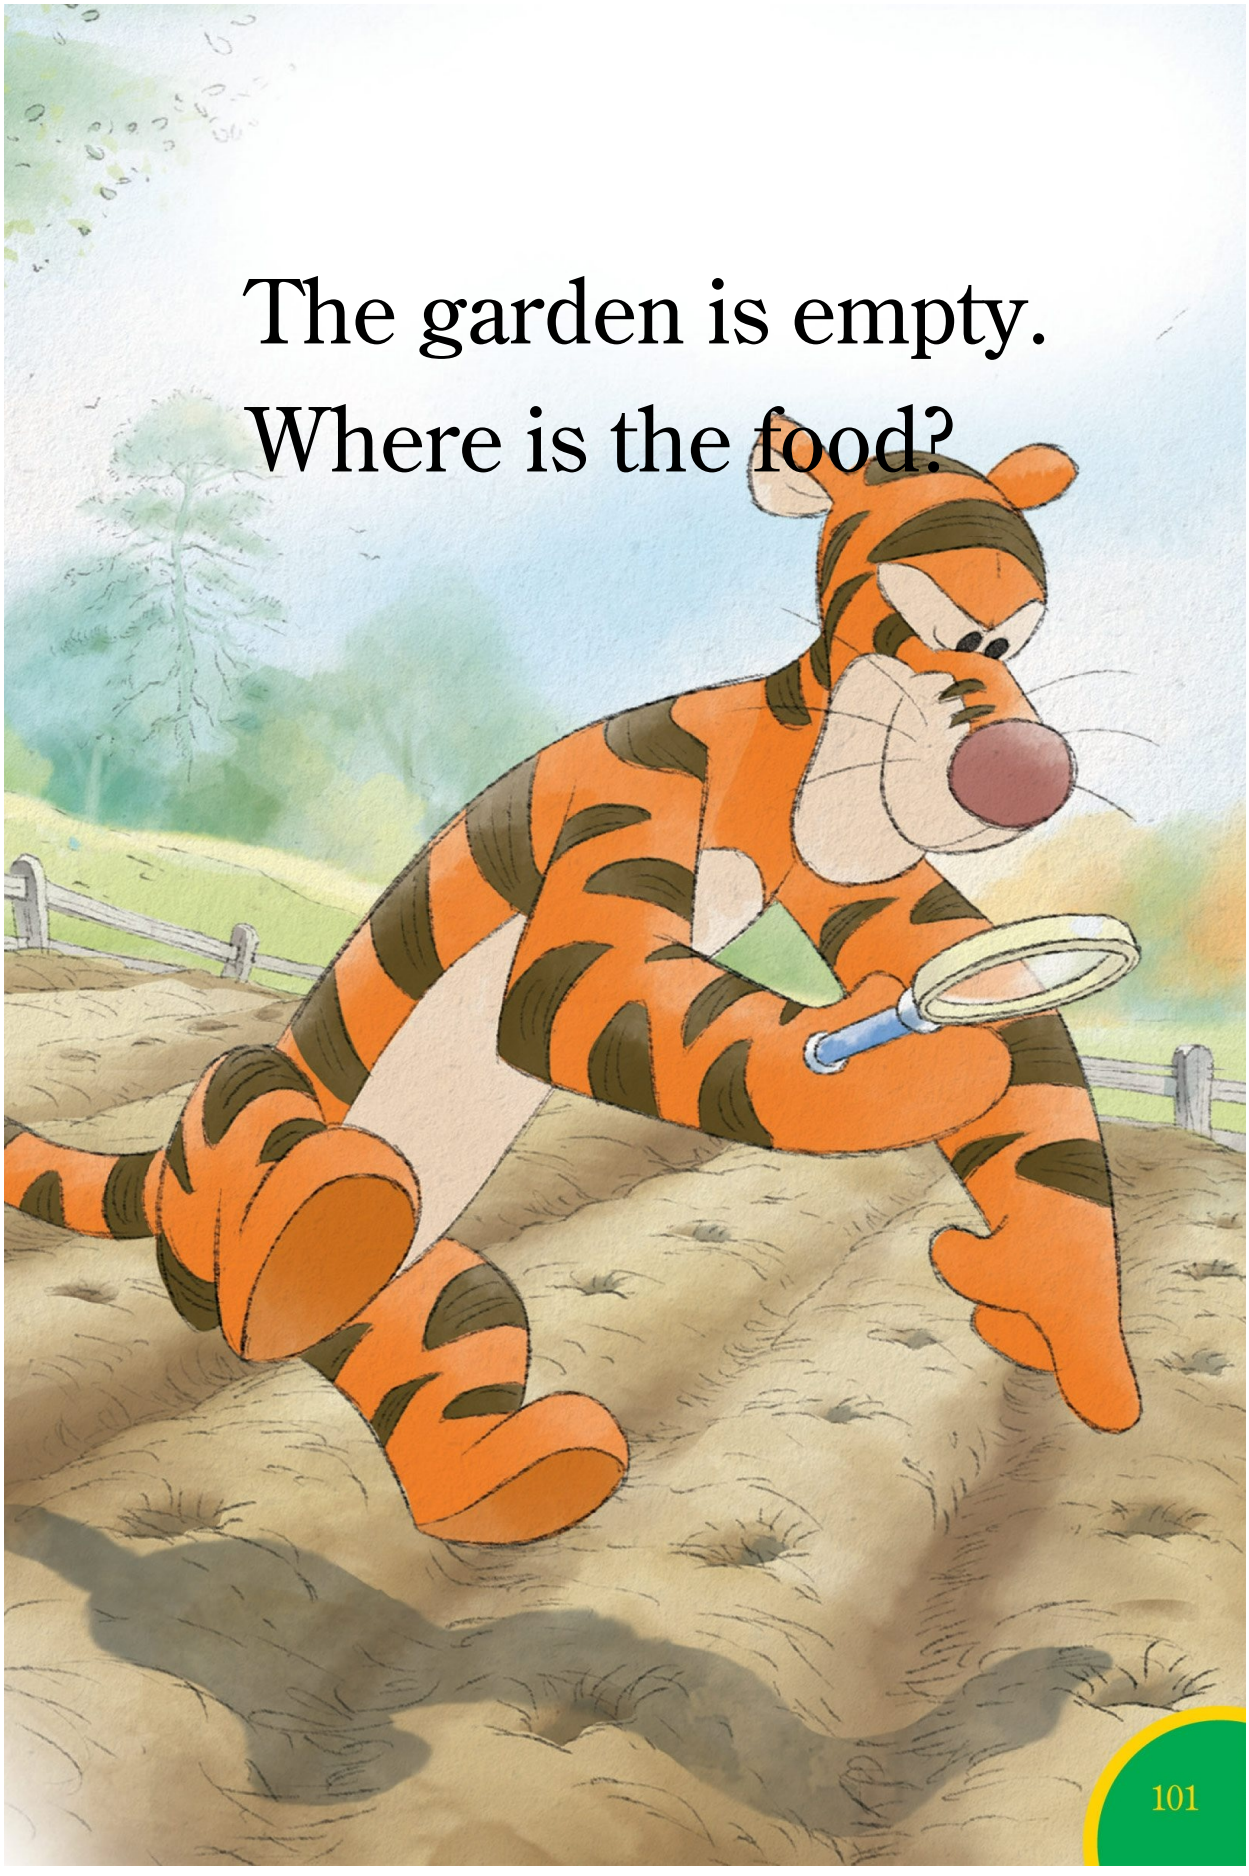
“There is more food in Rabbit’s garden,” says Piglet.

But Rabbit is not home.
“I do not think he will mind,”
says Piglet.

Piglet brings the food
to Kanga.
“Thank you, Piglet!”
says Kanga.



Rabbit comes home with Tigger, Eeyore, and Owl.

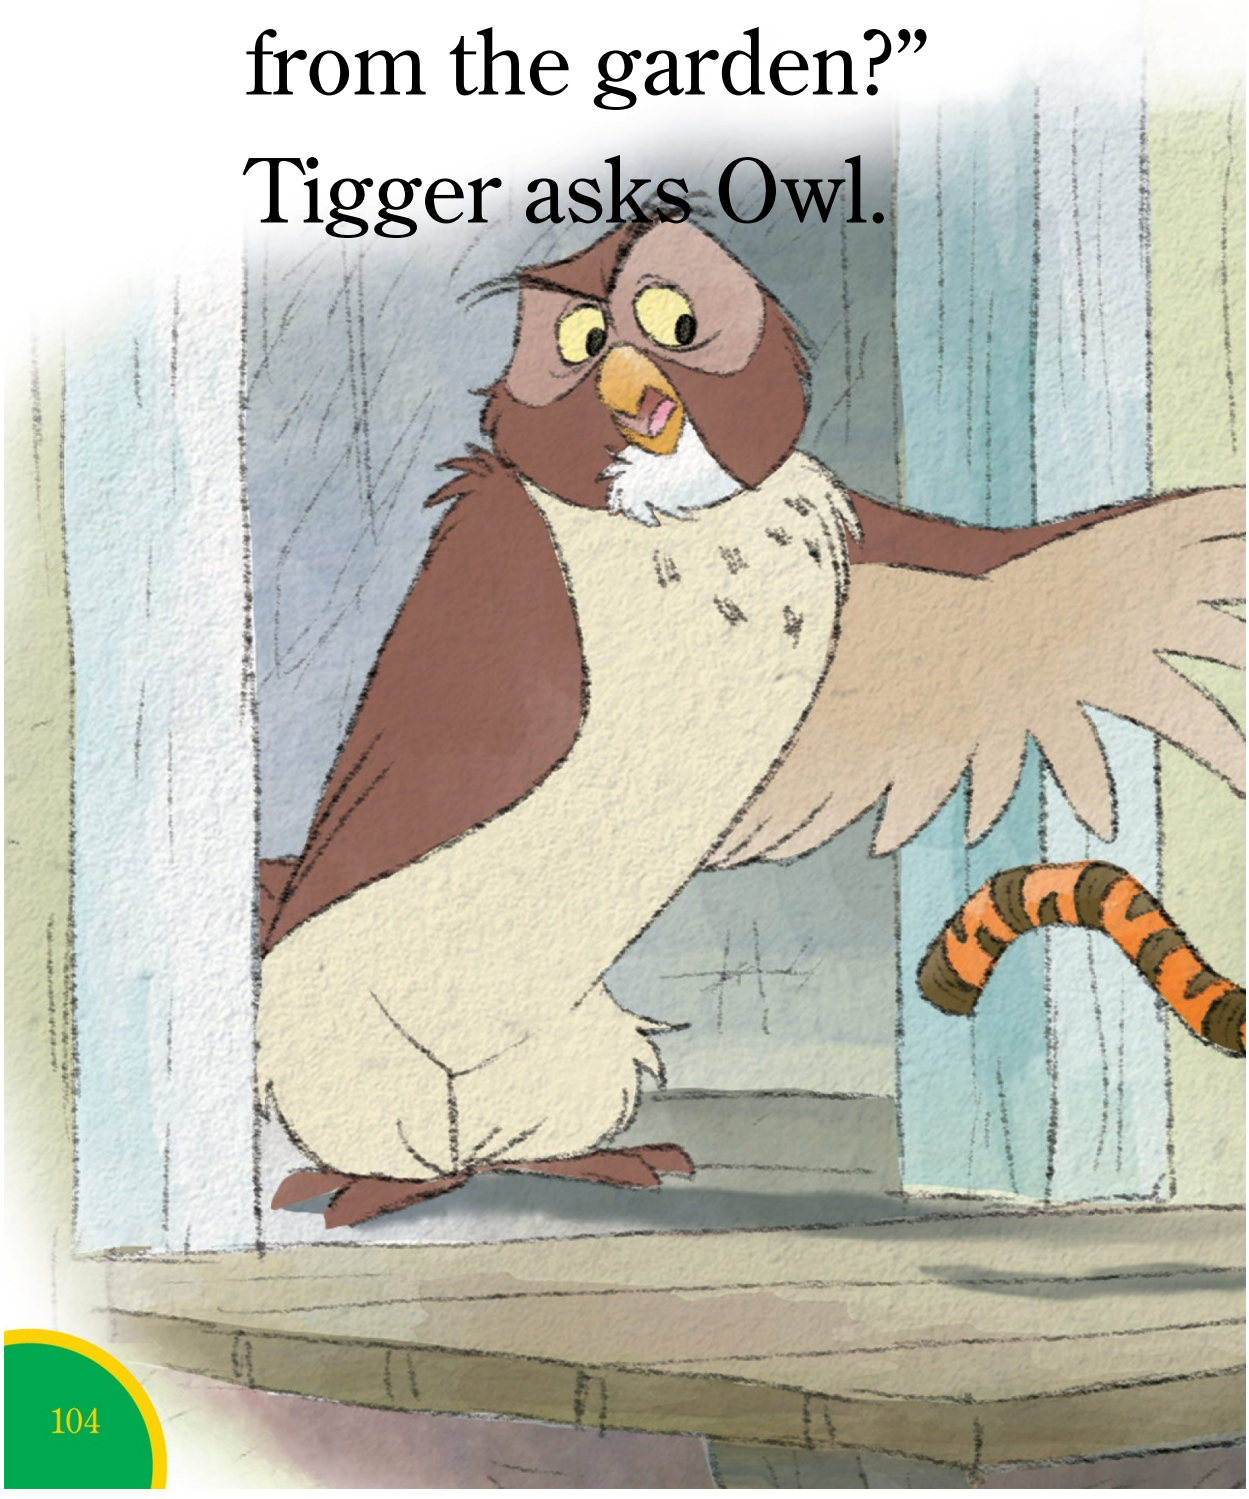


The garden is empty.
Where is the food?

“Did you take all the food from the garden?” Tigger asks Rabbit.

“Do not be silly!”
says Rabbit.

“Did you take all the food from the garden?” Tigger asks Owl.



“No, I did not,”
says Owl.

“Did you take all the food from the garden?”

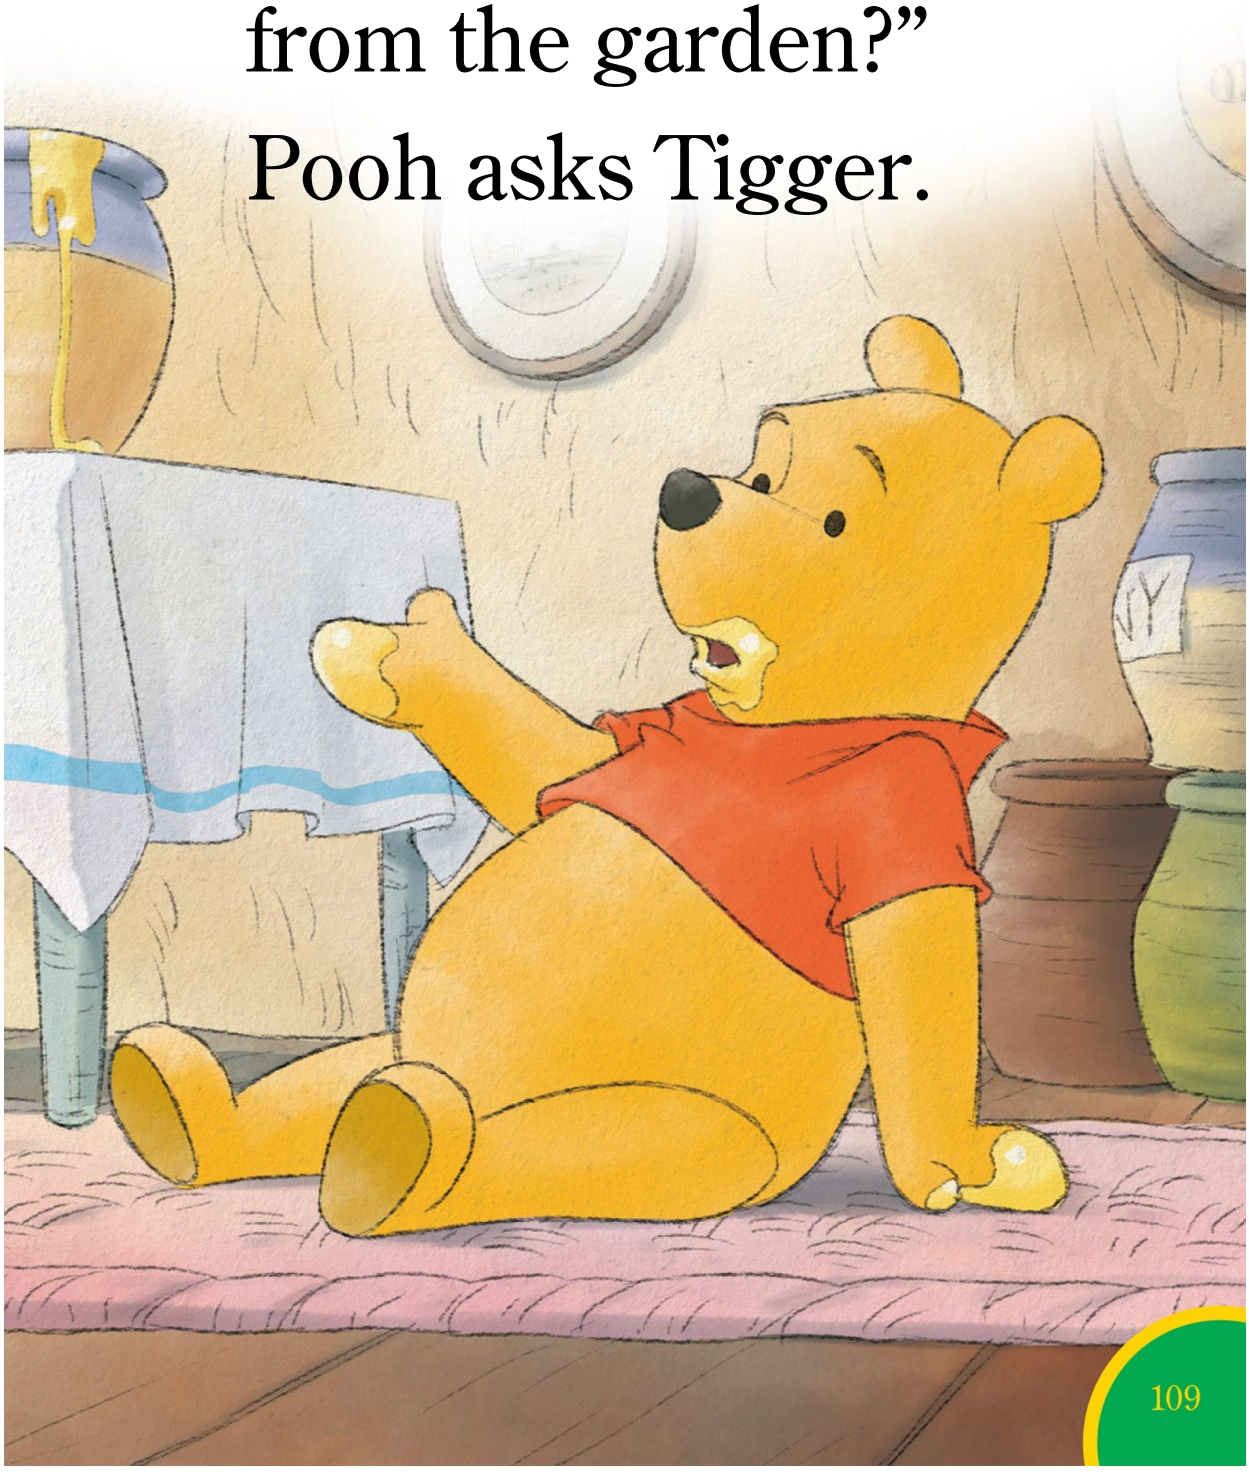
Tigger asks Eeyore.
“No, I did not,”
says Eeyore.

“Did you take all the food from the garden?”

Tigger asks Pooh.
“No, I did not,”
says Pooh.

Tigger thinks.

“Did you take all the food from the garden?” Pooh asks Tigger.



“Did I take all the food from the garden?” Tigger asks himself.

Tigger looks all over his house.

He does not find the food.

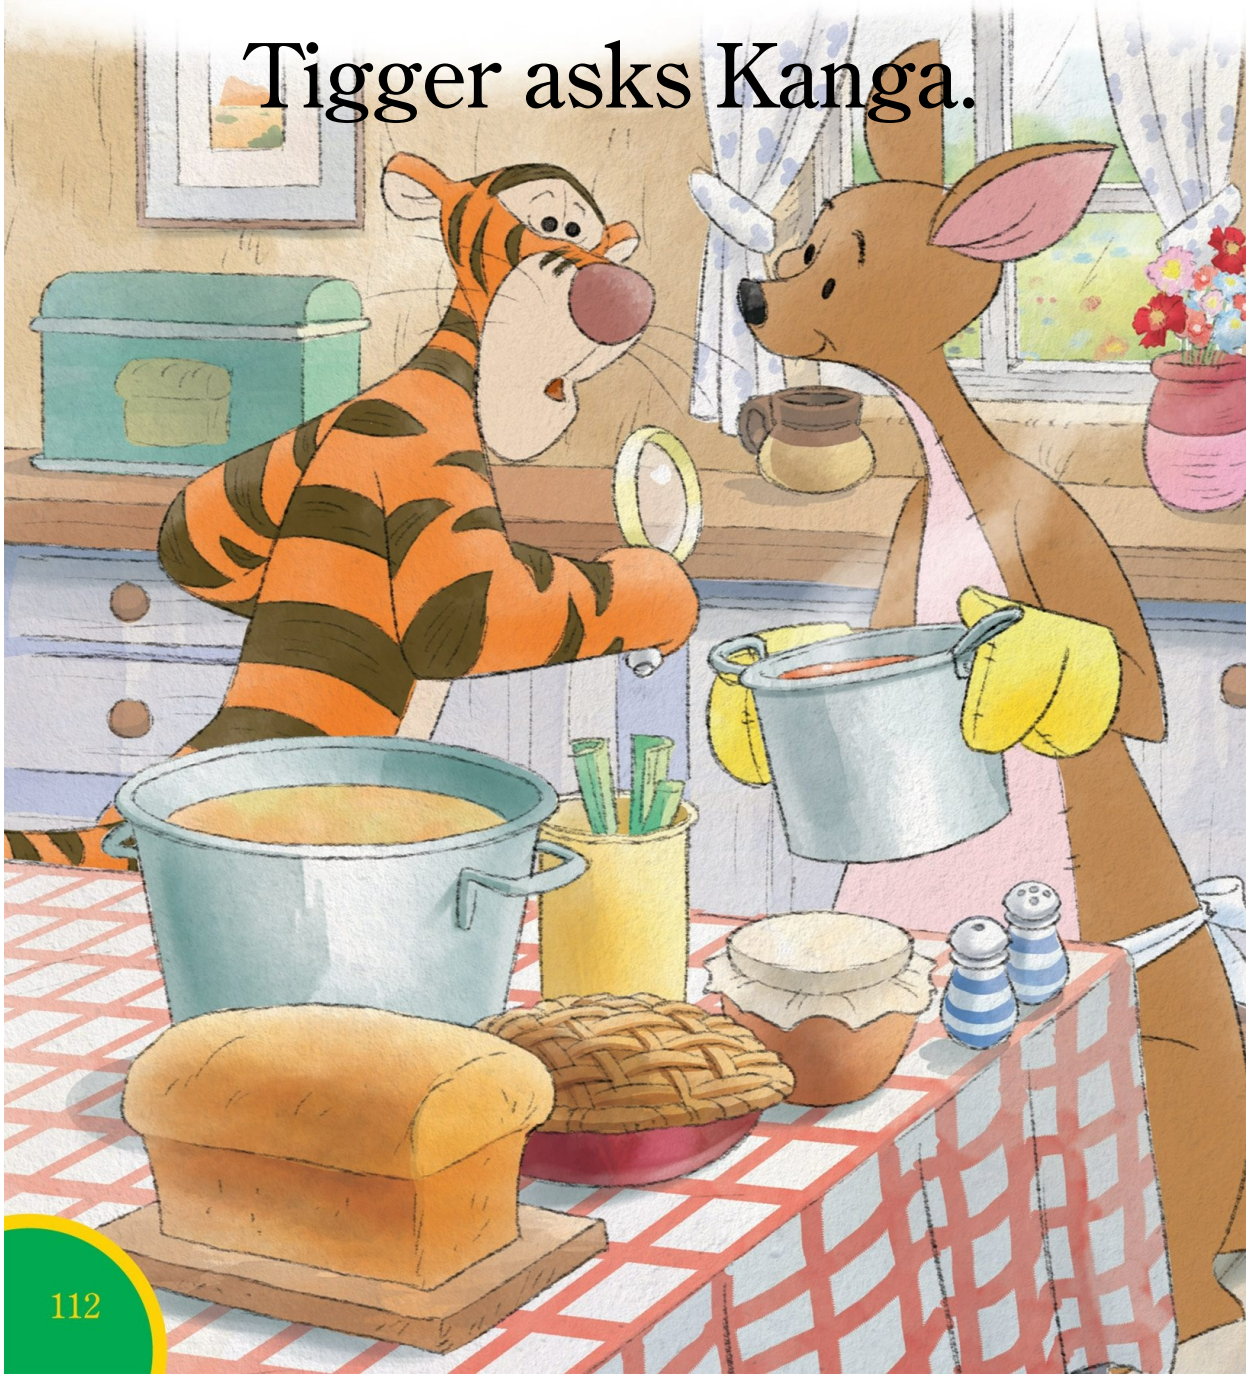
“Did you take all the food from the garden?” Tigger asks Kanga.



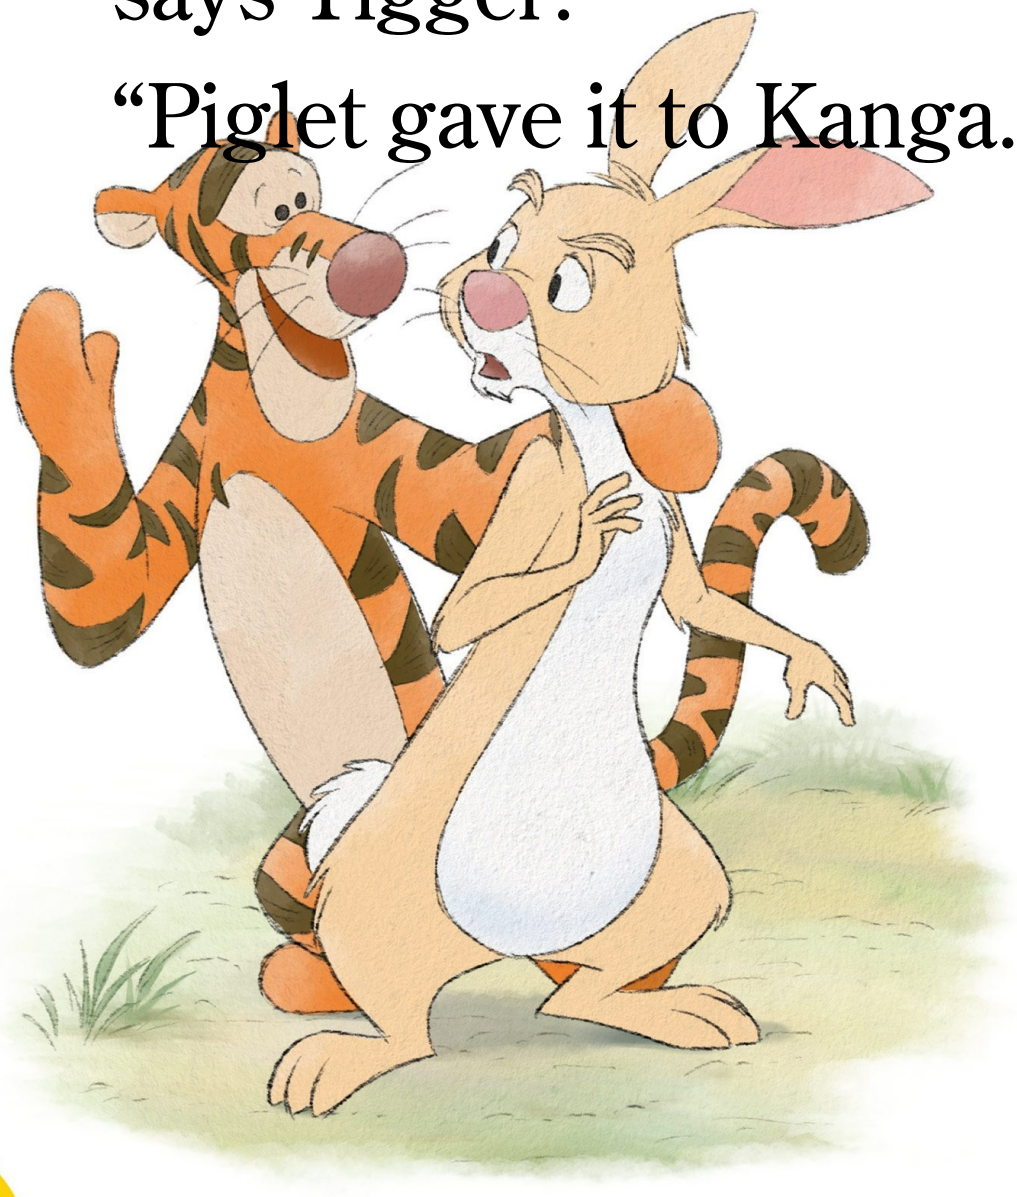
“No,” says Kanga.

“Piglet gave it to me.”

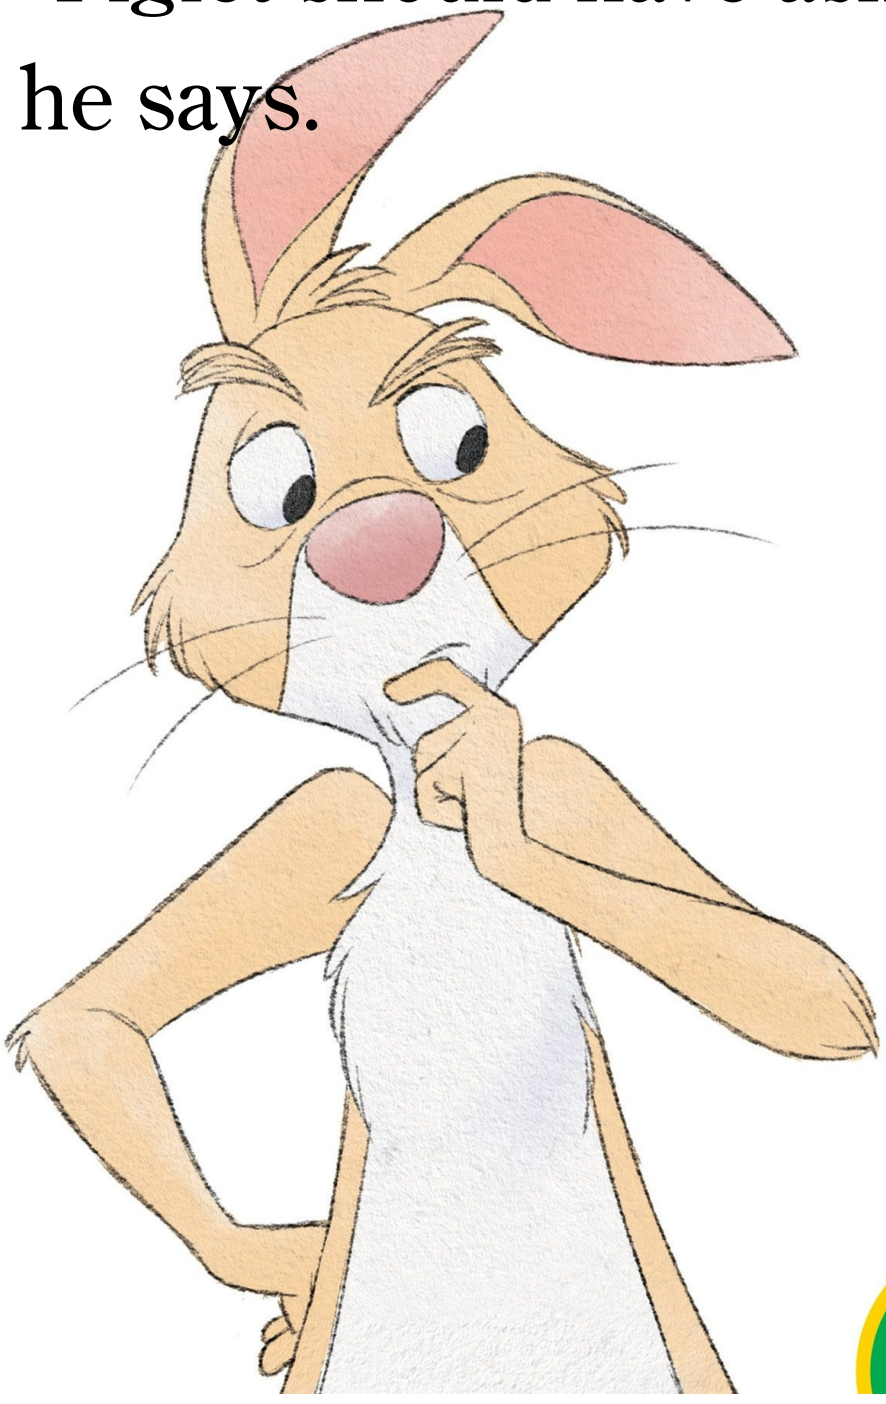
“I knew it was Piglet!”
says Tigger.

KANGA

“I found the food
from the garden!”
says Tigger.
“Piglet gave it to Kanga.”



Rabbit is surprised.
“Piglet should have asked me
he says.



Piglet brings Rabbit muffins.
“I am sorry,” he says.
“I did not think you would mi
Next time I will ask before taking.”

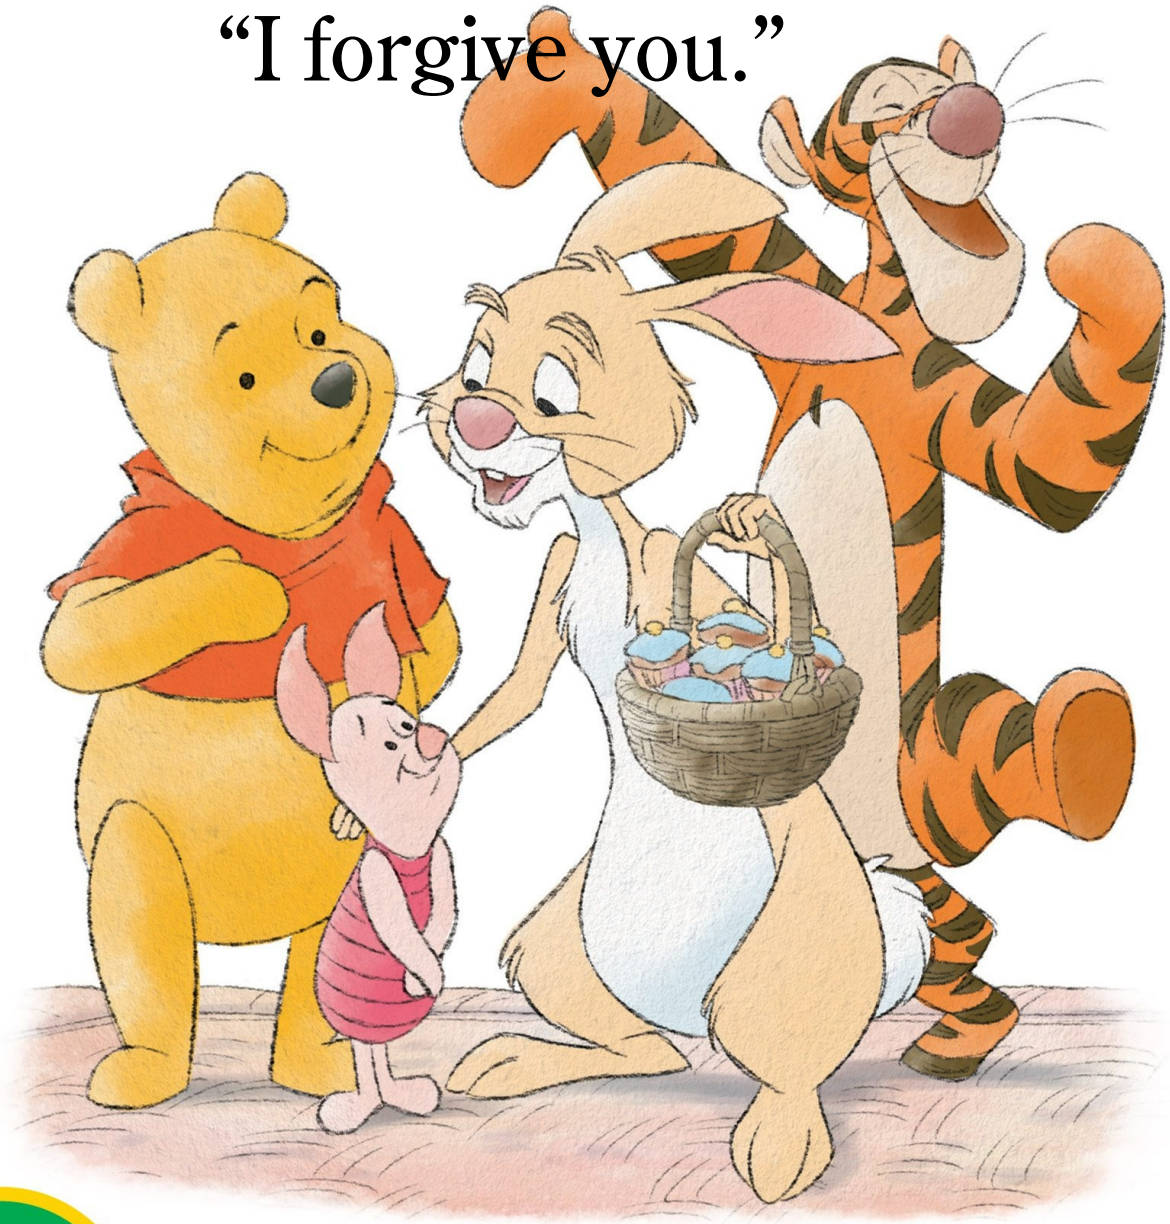
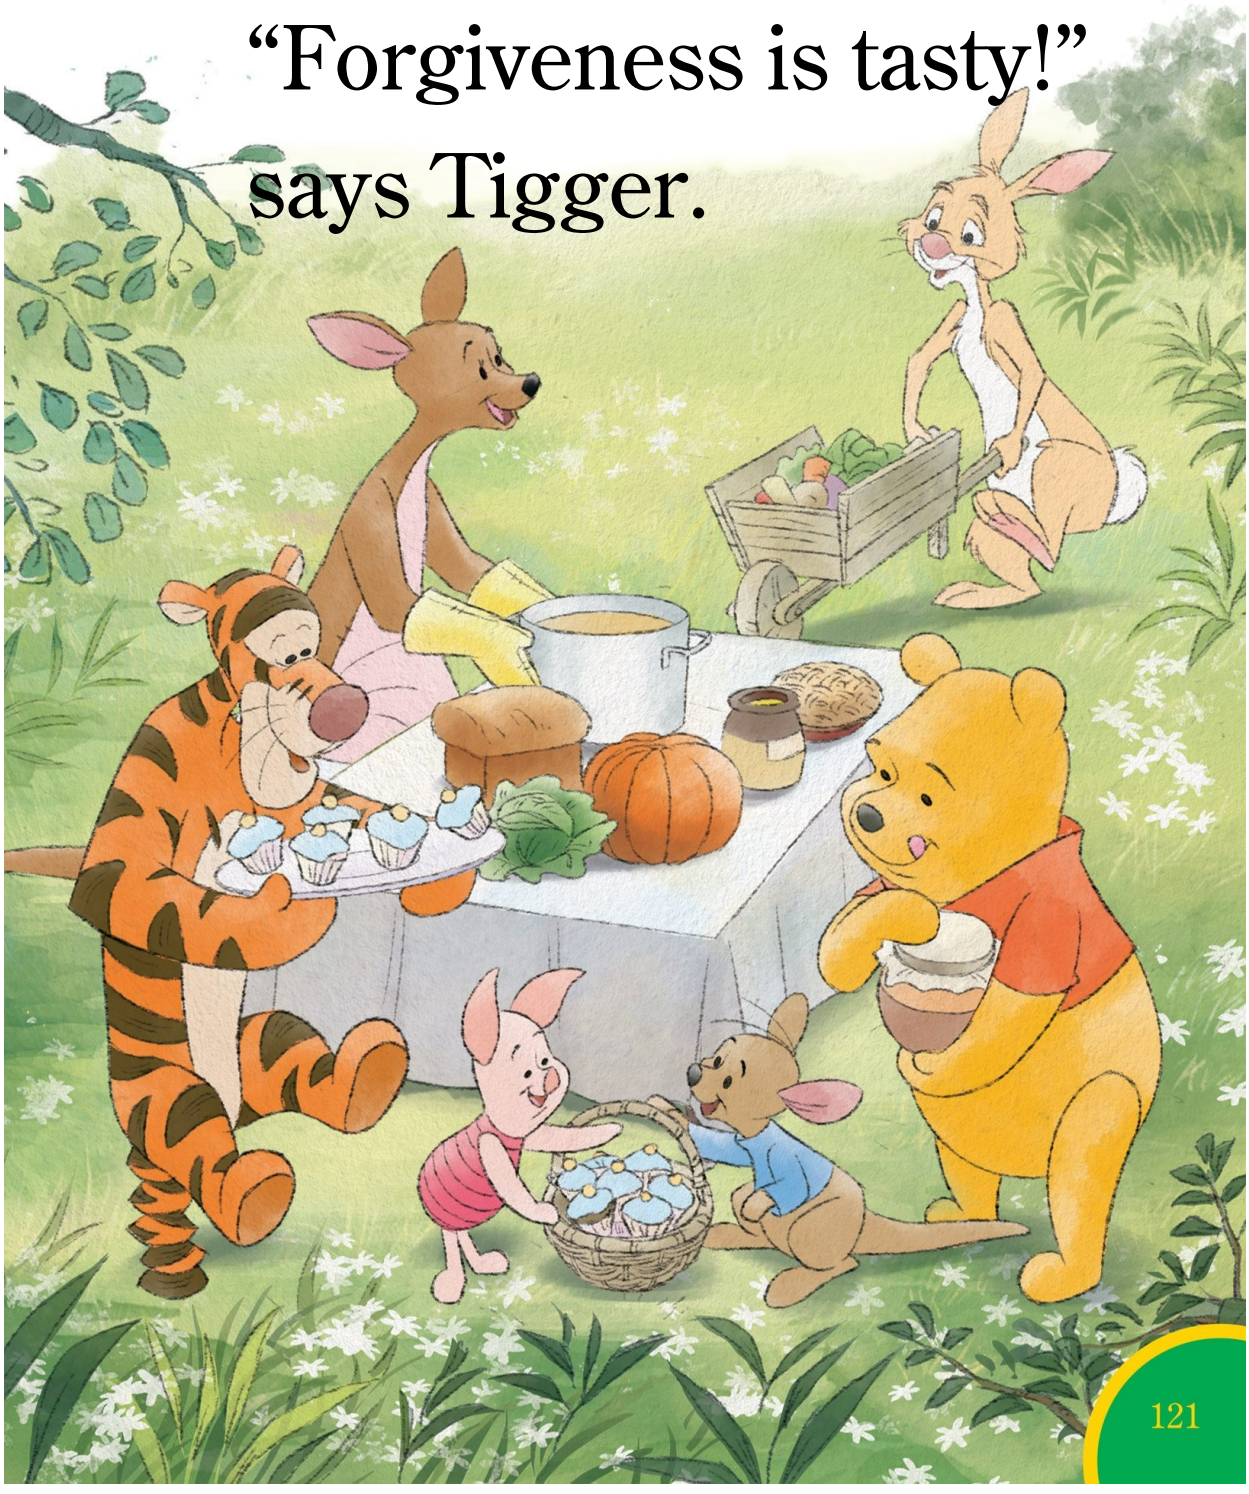
“It is okay,”
says Rabbit.
“I forgive you.”



Everyone brings food to shar

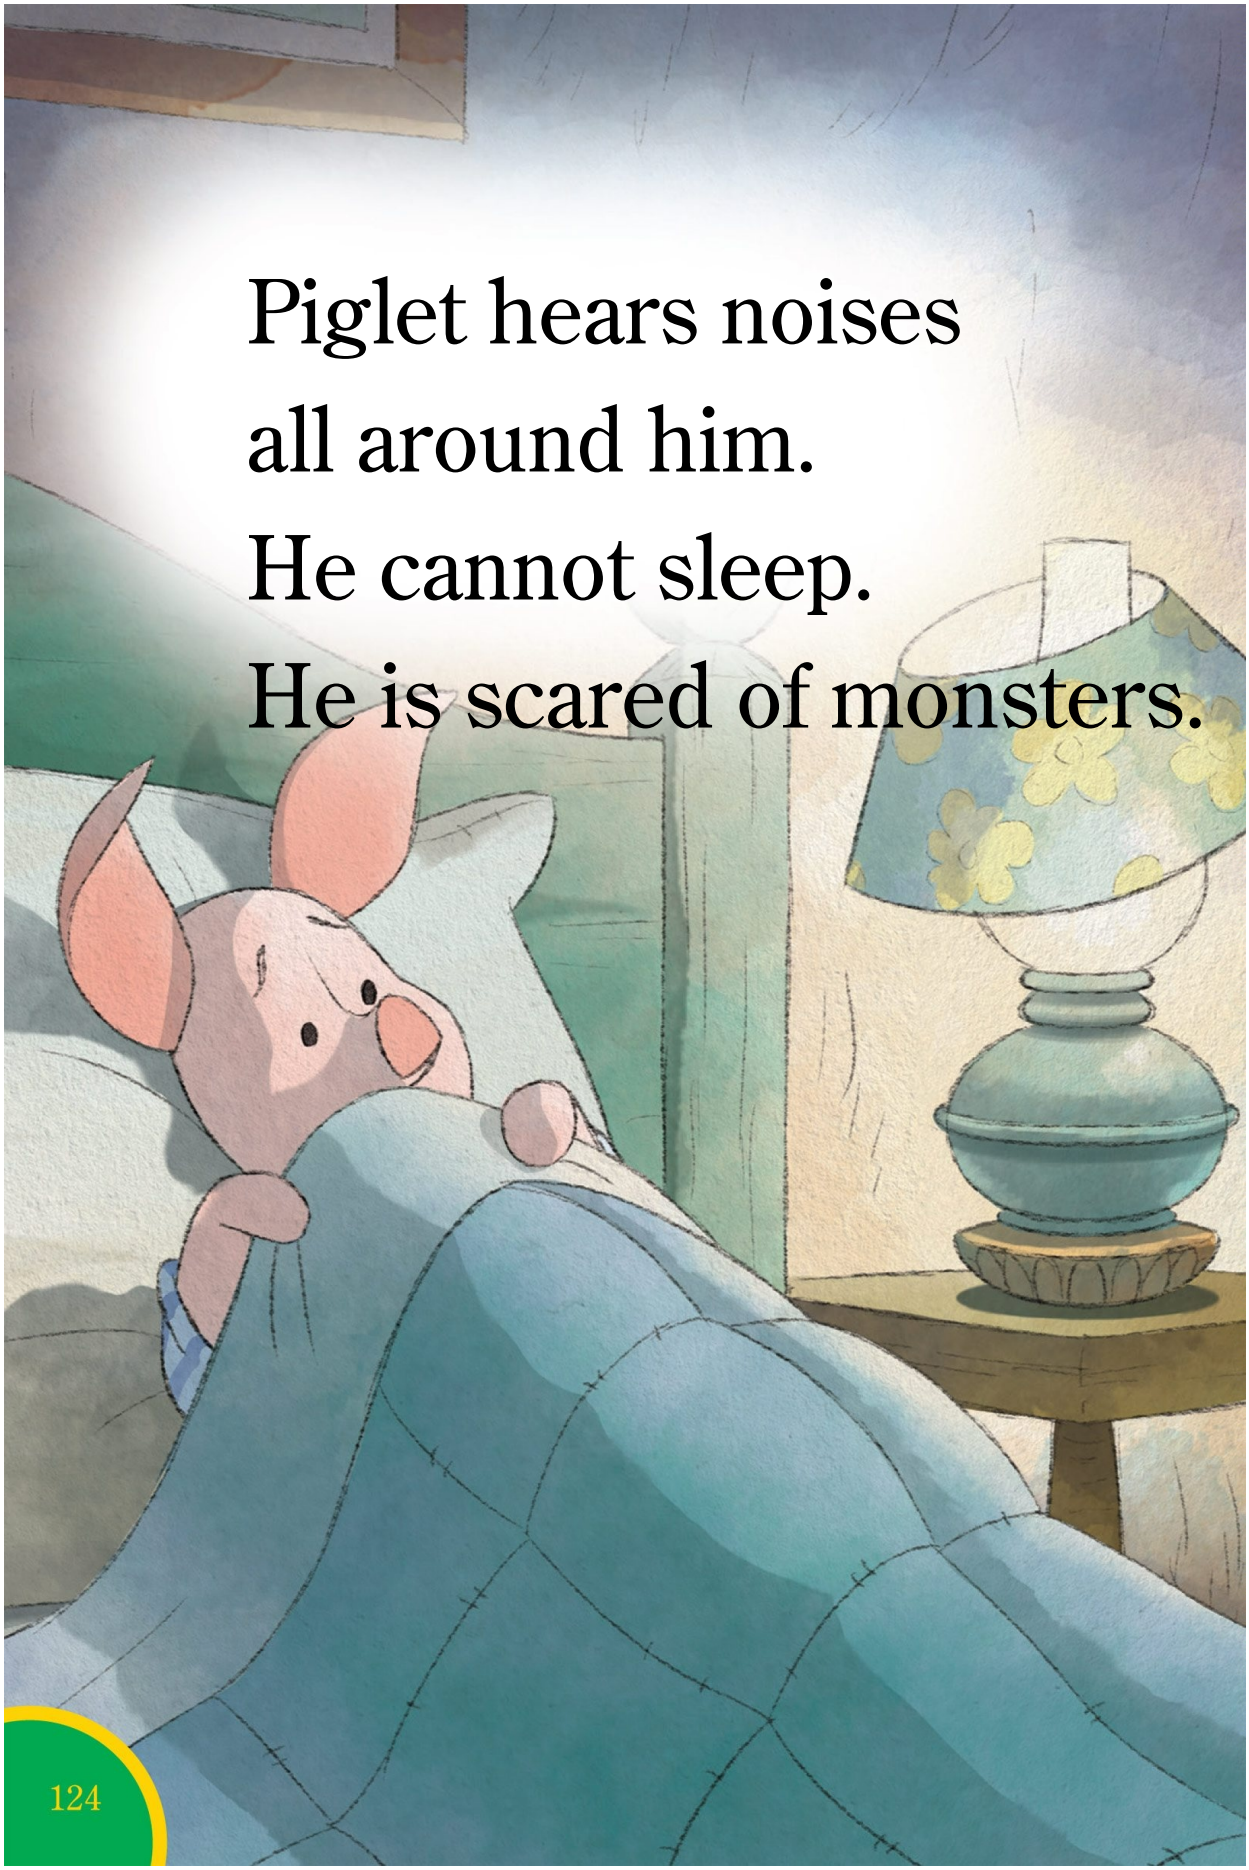
“Forgiveness is tasty!”

says Tigger.



Rabbit does not stay angry.
He is a forgiving friend.

What Good Friends Do



Piglet hears noises
all around him.
He cannot sleep.
He is scared of monsters.

The next day, Winnie the Poo goes to Piglet's house.

Pooh opens the door.
Piglet is still in bed.

“I could not sleep,” says Pigle
“I heard monsters all night.”

Pooh and Piglet look under the table.
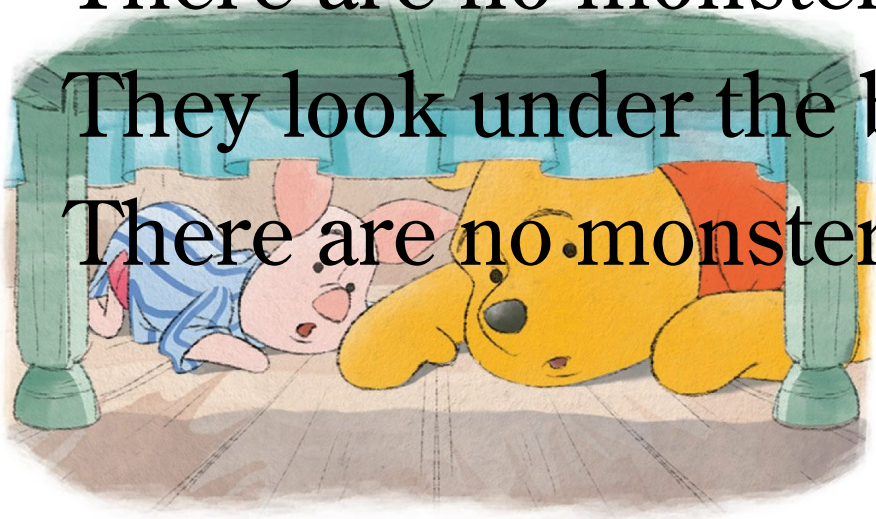
There are no monsters.
They look under the bed.
There are no monsters.



Piglet is still scared.

“Maybe a snack will help us feel brave,” says Pooh.
HUNNY

Piglet makes tea.
There is a loud HISS.

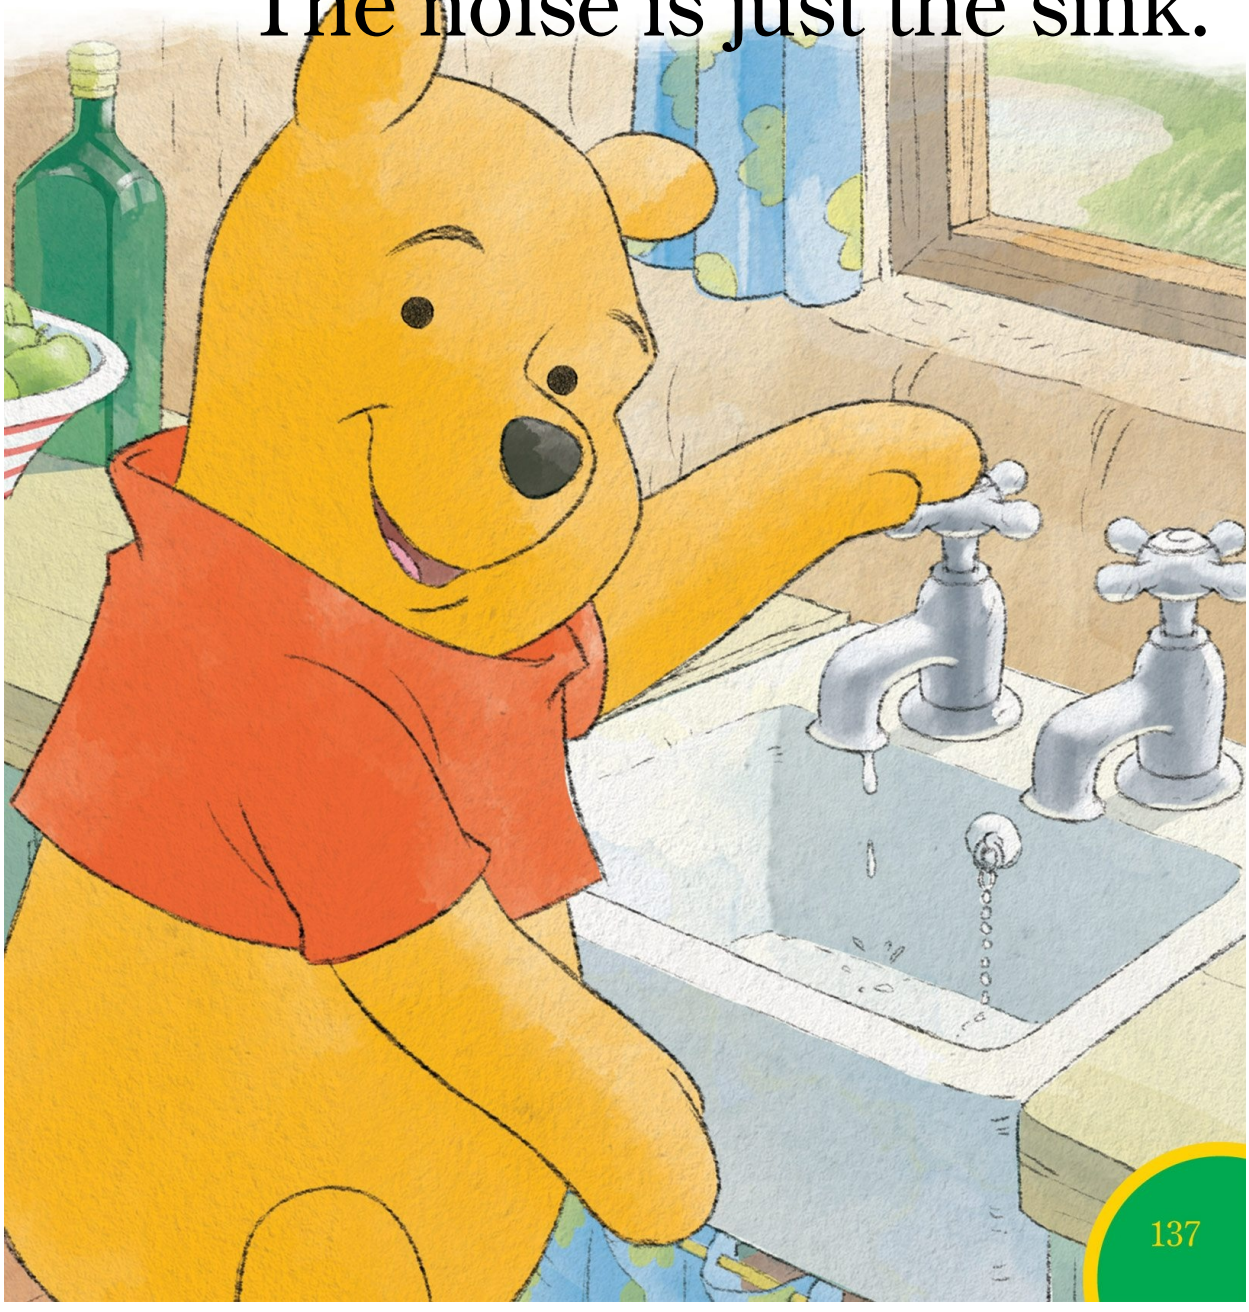
“No need to be scared,”
says Pooh.
The noise is just the teapot.

There is a loud
DRIP, DRIP, DROP.
Piglet hides under a chair.

“No need to be scared,”
says Pooh.
The noise is just the sink.



Pooh wants to help his friend.

“What if you try to be brave?”
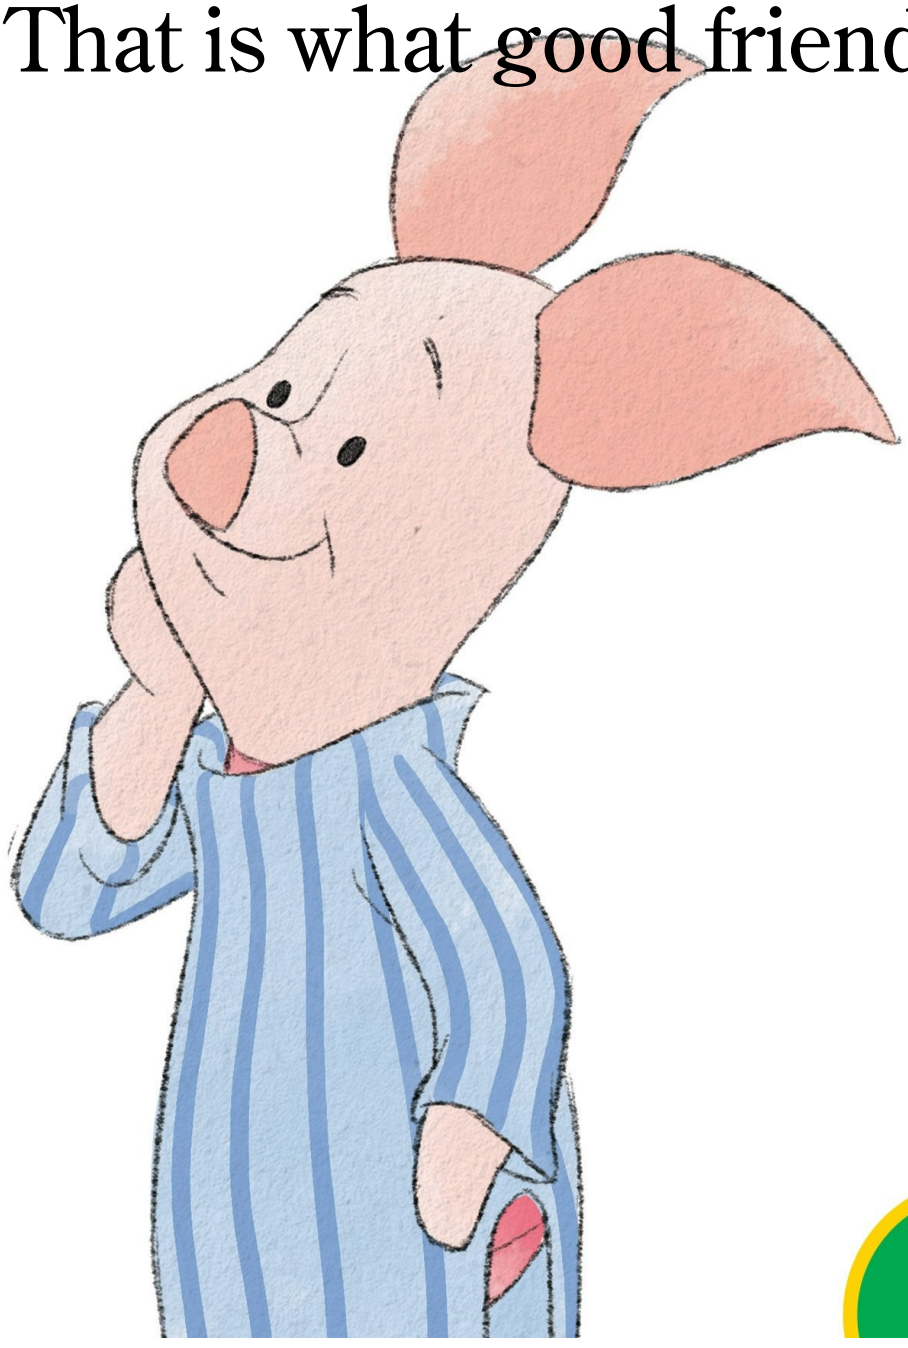
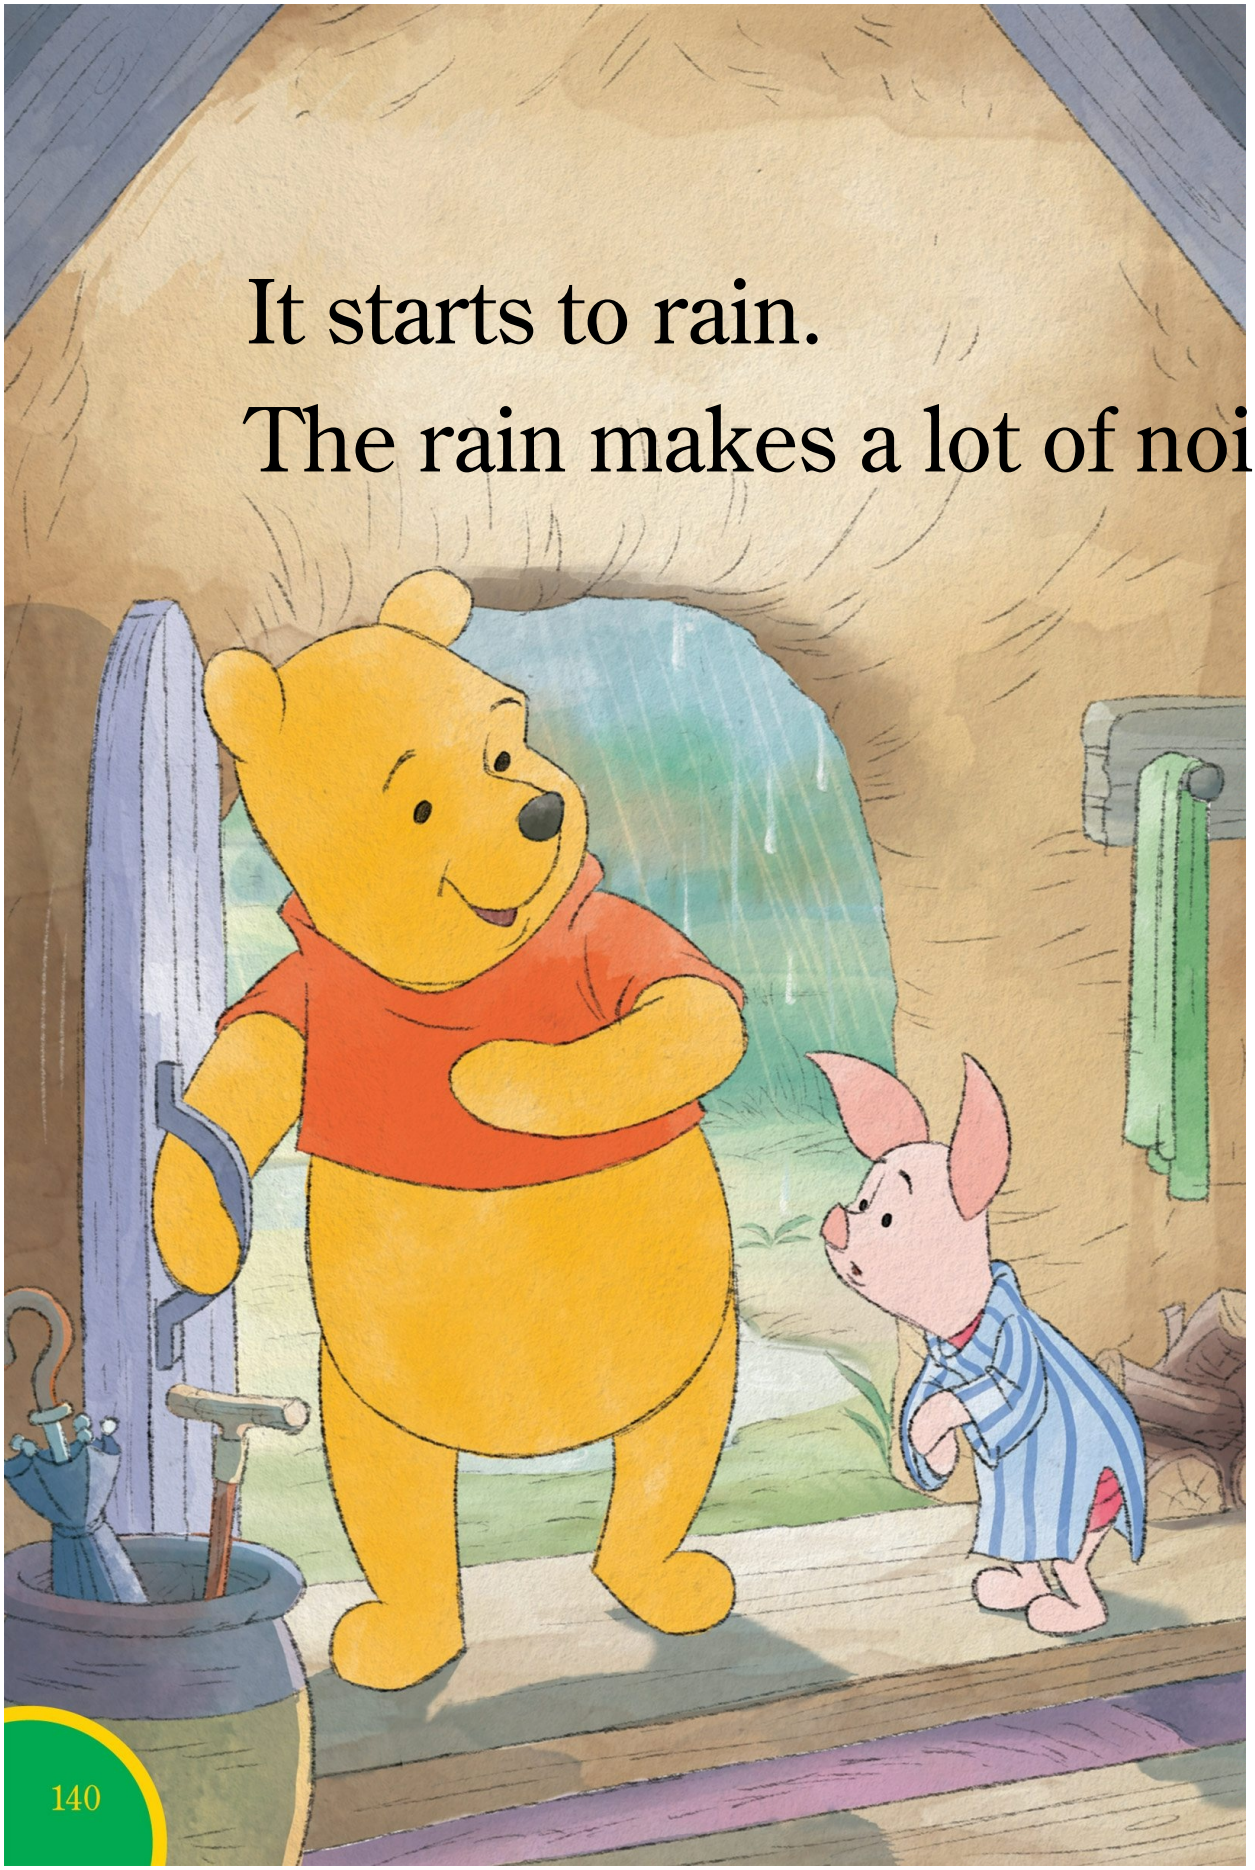
he asks Piglet.

Piglet does not know how.
Pooh will help him.
That is what good friends do.





It starts to rain.
The rain makes a lot of noise.

“Can I try to be brave tomorrow?”
Piglet asks.

Pooh will sleep over tonight.
He will help Piglet be brave.
That is what good friends do.

Soon Piglet hears a loud SNORE.
He follows the noise.

The noise is just Pooh.
Piglet goes back to bed.

The next day, Pooh and Pigle go for a walk.

They hear a loud

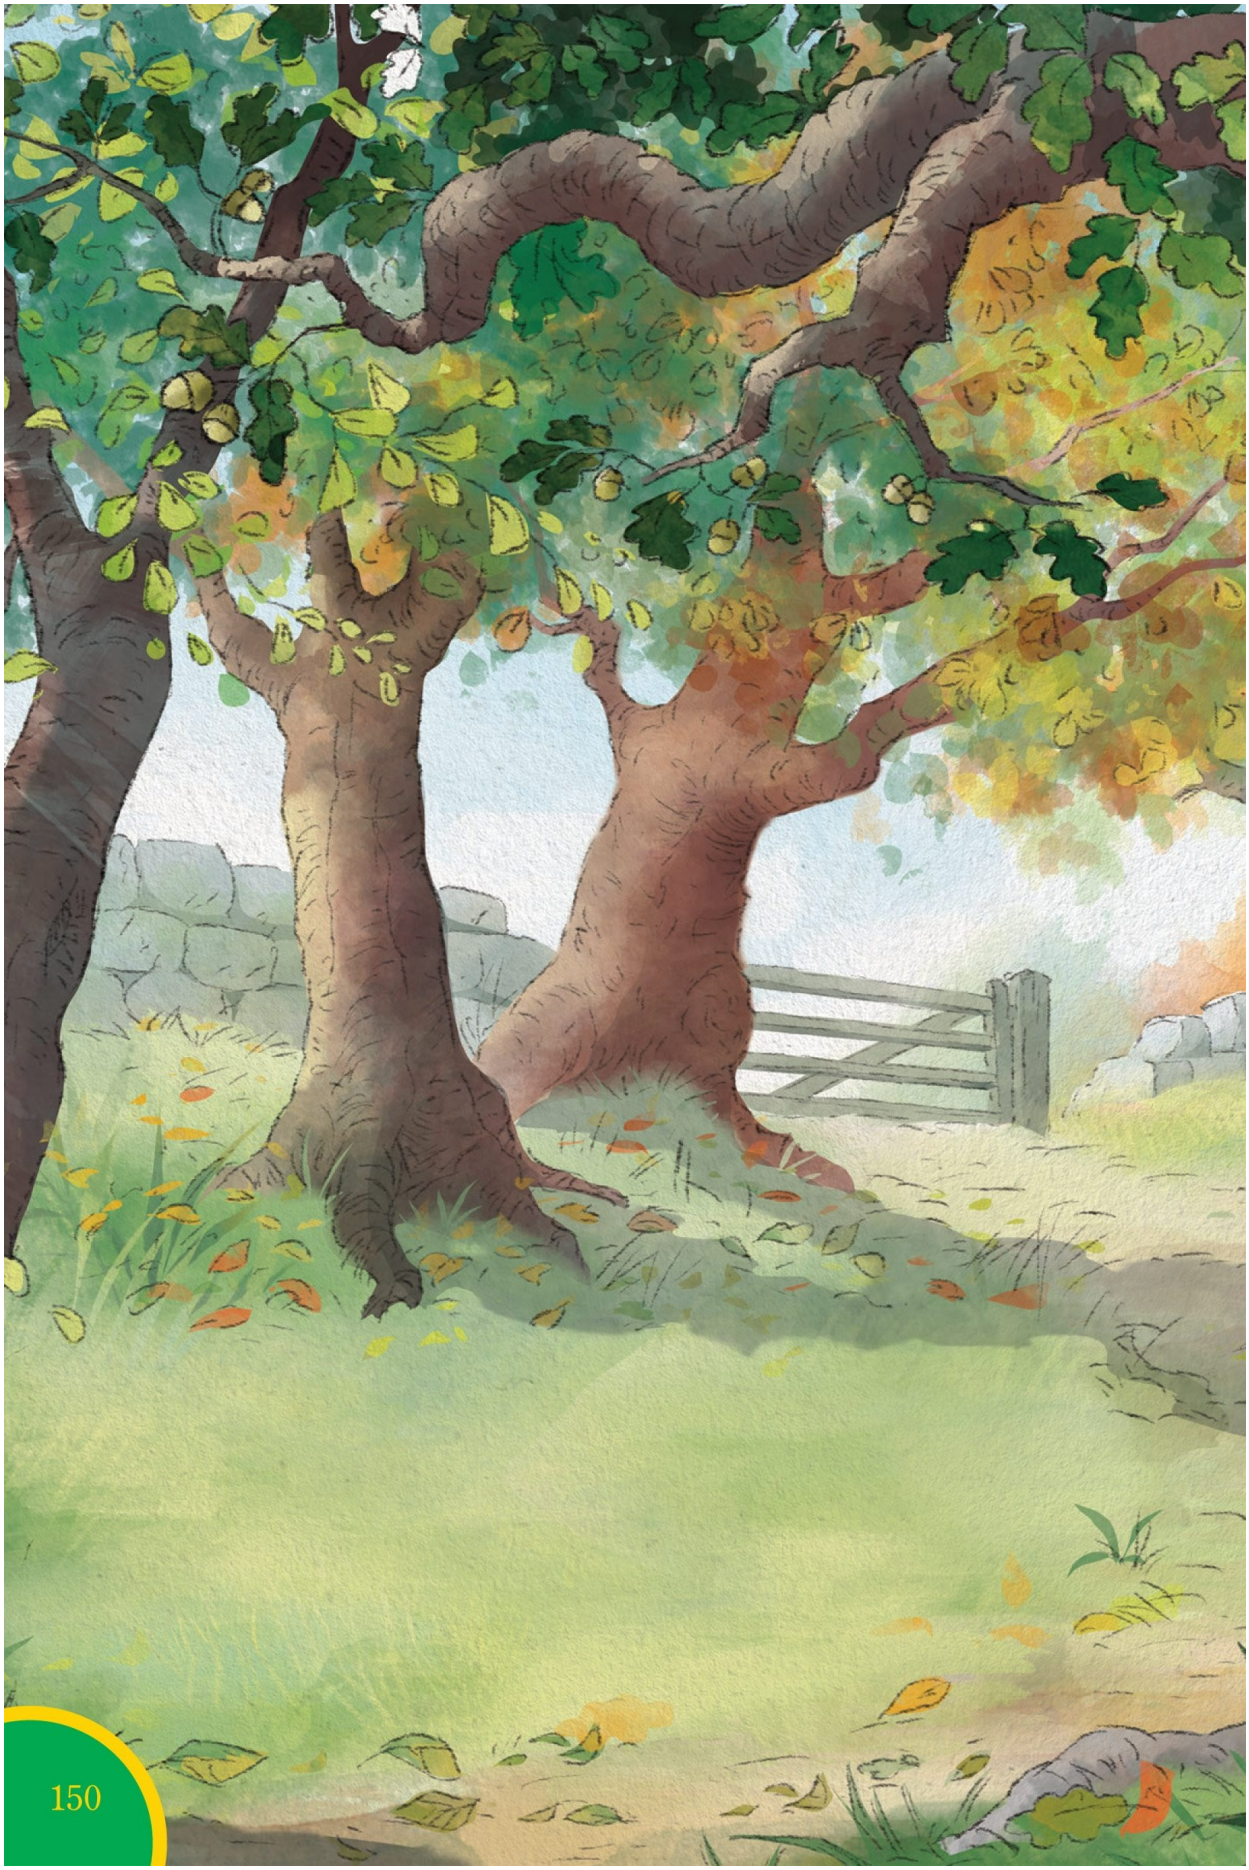
“HOO-HOO-HOO!”

“No need to be scared,”

says Pooh.

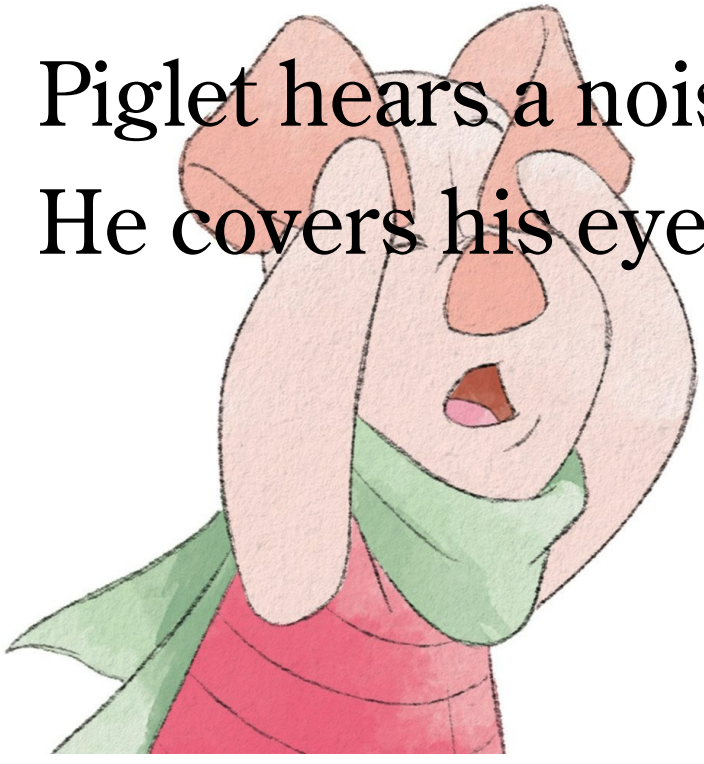
The noise is just Tigger.
Piglet feels silly.

Piglet sees a butterfly.
He stops to look at it.

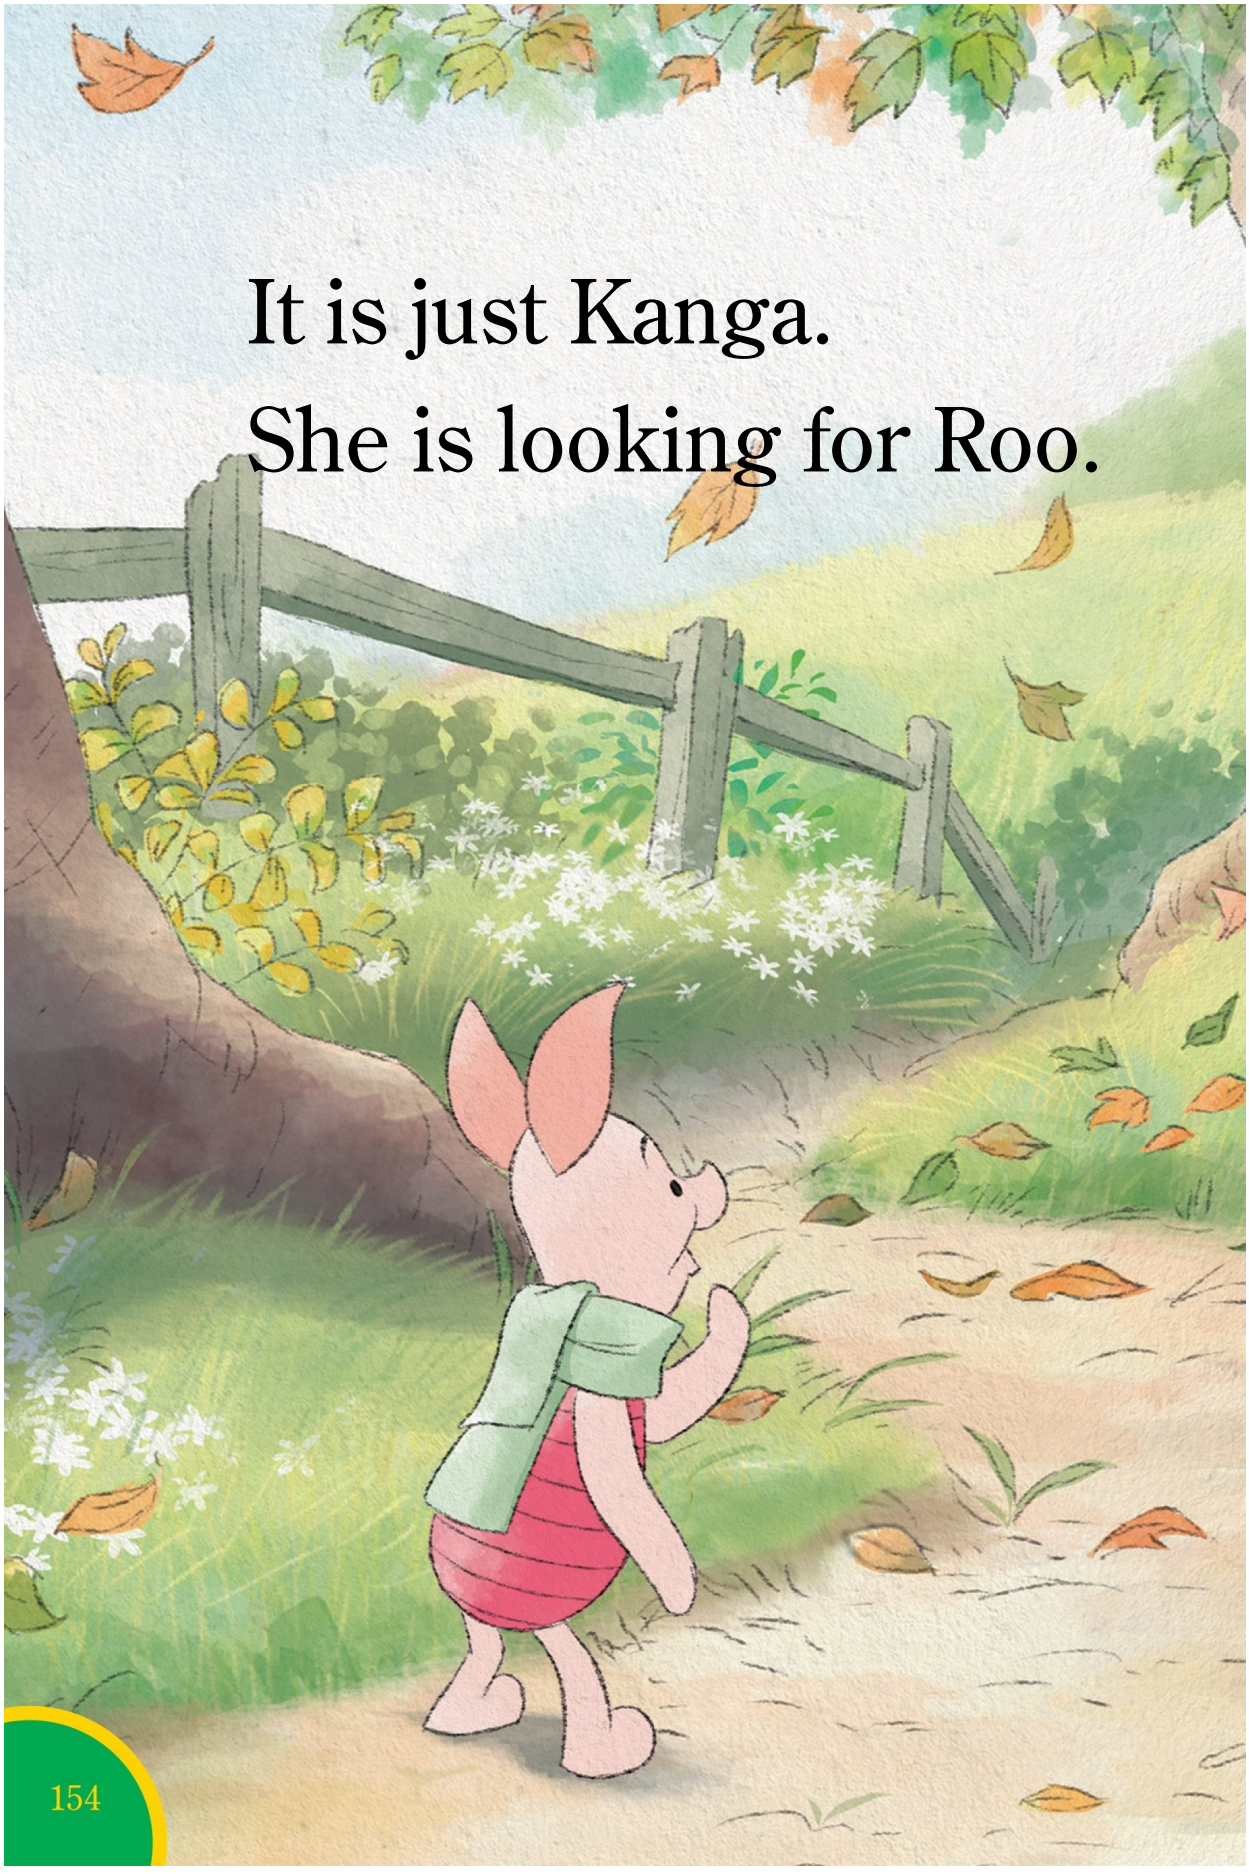


Piglet turns around.
Pooh is gone!
Piglet is scared.

Piglet hears a noise.
He covers his eyes.



“Be brave, be brave, be brave
Piglet says to himself.



It is just Kanga.
She is looking for Roo.

Piglet hears more noises.
But he is not scared.

He keeps walking.
"There you are, Pooh!"
says Piglet.

“I tried to be brave,”
says Piglet.

“That was a very brave thing to do,” says Pooh.

Pooh helped Piglet be brave.
That is what good friends do.
